The 1959
MIRROR

CLASS ODE

(To the Tune of - "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes.")

The rich-hued threads of future days
Are waiting to unfold.
Time like a shuttle weaves them in,
Shows what the tomorrows hold.
So grows the tapestry of years
By novice hands controlled,--
Now sombre black, now hopeful green,
Now splendid red and gold.

What colors next the shuttle bears
We can not always know;
Nor fathom each design's import
Until it has ceased to grow.
Yet for the random loveliness
Our tapestries now show
Will come deep beauty, as but a Master-
Weaver can bestow.

Eleanor H. Cook

Dorothy M. Davis
Bates '40

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2013

http://archive.org/details/mirror193900unse

RAT
DIAMOND

JUBILEE

THESE MEN HAVE GUIDED

Oren Burbank Cheney (1816–1903)

OREN Burbank Cheney was the founder and first president of Bates College. An independent and courageous Baptist minister, President Cheney sacrificed the greater part of his life for his "railway to the moon," the building of a school which almost everyone said would fail.

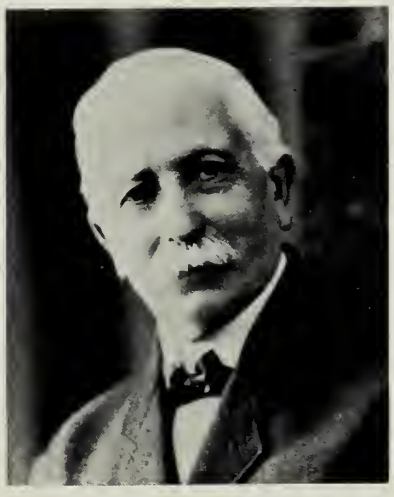
Ebenezer Knowlton (1815–1874)

Benjamin Edward Bates (1808–1878)

THE DESTINY OF BATES

Ebenezer Knowlton, speaker of the state legislature and later a member of Congress, gave up his politieal earcer to battle for the aeeeptanee of the eharter, which he himself wrote, for the Maine State Seminary. The seminary was founded in 1857 and was made a eollege in 1864. It was named then after Benjamin Edward Bates, a Boston merchant, whose gifts totaling $200,000 helped the struggling institution through those early days.

George Colby Chase '68 beeame the second president of the eollege in 1894. While he was in office, the number of buildings, faeulty members, students, and the endowments were increased threefold. Jonathon Y. Stanton, old Unele Johnny, is probably the best known of the old professors. A great lover of nature, his bird collection now in the Carnegie Seienee Hall is one of the best in New England.



George Colby Chase (1844-1919

Jonathan Y. Stanton (1834-1918)

George Millet Chase

1873-1938

If ever there was an individual who embodied the spirit of Bates, it was our beloved "Goosey". Scholar, gentleman, and humanist, he never once relaxed in his efforts to make ours a better college. He worked with us until the very hour of death and his departure leaves a wound that will never be entirely healed.

If there is a reward above for a MAN, "Goosey" has deservedly found it. We loved him, but not one bit more than he loved us.

Artist's Plan for Maine State Seminary, 1857

1864 TO 1889

IN THE SPRING of 1856 the cornerstone was laid for what is now Hathorn Hall. The building has been in regular use since that time although it was not completed until 1867. The one dormitory was divided into two parts, North and South Parker, one of which was inhabited by the young ladies. There was a co-ed dining hall in the basement and the rooms were heated in proportion to the industry of the inhabitants, who had to chop wood for their own fireplaces. The artificial pool pictured at the right was on Skinner Street (now Campus Avenue) and served as chief source for campus mosquitoes and as an antidote for fire hazards.

THE FIRST QUA

Bates College Campus, 1870

These old photographs also testify to the presence of the old wooden gymnasium behind Hathorn Hall. There is no official record of its origin, but according to legend it was an old meeting house downtown (then Lewiston Falls), which was moved to campus that Batesonians might have proper facilities for developing a sans mens in san corpore.

Campus Pool

T E R C E N T U R Y

First Official Football Team, 1893

Science Hall, 1912

1889 TO 1914

JOHN Bertram Hall, complete with penthouse at the left, served as the Nichols Latin School, the Cobb Divinity School and the Science Building before it was renovated and made a dormitory, East Hall, in 1913. The new dormitory, to quote a current Student was "a mecca for the Rough-and-Ready

Women's Athletic Exhibition, Lewiston City Hall, 1897

Men of the campus, totally lacking in the monastic aspect of its more central rival, Roger Williams."

The college's first football team was organized in 1875, but the sport was not officially recognized until 1893. Colby defeated Bates, 4–0, in the first rugby football game ever played in the twin cities, on what is now Rand Field. Star for the losers was Ollie Cutts '96, who appears third from left in the front row. Ollie was later All-American at Harvard.

In 1895, the co-eds began to petition for recognition as athletes and were finally rewarded when the W. A. A. was recognized ten years later. Meanwhile, exhibitions of co-ed brawn were given at the Lewiston City Hall.

E R C E N T U R Y

Student Arms Training Corps, 1918

1914 TO 1939

SO CAME the war and Bates College had its own Army and Navy. Facilities for floating a dreadnaught on Lake Andrews were lacking and the sailors had to drill with their cohorts in khaki on Garcelon Field until the time came for departure to a regular training camp. Thrill of a life-time for lazy students came in 1918, when mid-years were omitted.

Always a leader in inter-collegiate debating, Bates sent a three-man team around the world in 1928. The trio, on a trip lasting from May to November, traveled some 35,000 miles to participate in 23 debates, not including one non-decision encounter with the Sphinx, shown above.

Debating Team on World Tour, 1928

But the outstanding event of the whole era was the burning of the old wooden gymnasium. Decidedly the most unpopular building on the campus, this eyesore suddenly burst into flames on the night of June second, threatening the safety of Parker, Hathorn, and a large quantity of coal stored nearby. Officially, the origin of the blaze was unknown, but it is popularly believed that it was set by students. At any rate, the pajama-clad Parkerites who danced about the fire were not very helpful in putting it out. No one but the insurance company seemed sorry to see the old frame structure go.

Old Gymnasium Burning, 1925

E R C E N T U R Y

NOW A RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENT

Leonard Jobrack, '39
Editor-in-Chief

Leighton Dingley, '39
Business Manager

UNFURLS AS THE CLASS OF 1939

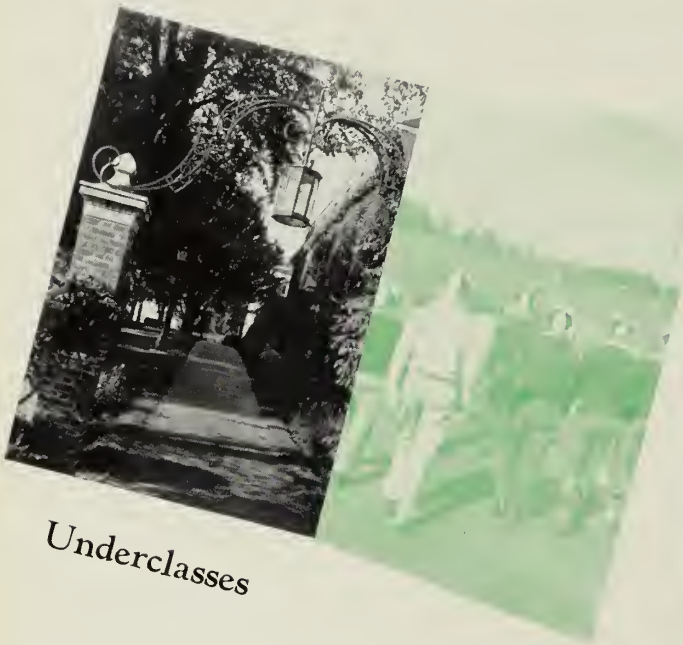
presents

THE MIRROR

Life Inside

Administrations

Seniors



Underclasses

Activities

WE ACKNOWLEDGE

Printing by WARREN PRESS
Engraving by HOWARD-WESSON CO.
Photographs by DORA CLARK TASH

Reflection of Modern BATES

AS THE Diamond Anniversary of Bates College drew near, we thought it would be really fitting to check the mileage of Oren Cheney's "railway to the moon." So we have attempted to build a Mirror that is a true reflection of the college campus today.

With just a glance backward at those early milestones, we now turn our 1939 Mirror toward Modern Bates; and we sincerely hope that in these reflections you will find a few more pictures, bright and fair, for your "Gallery of Mem'ries."

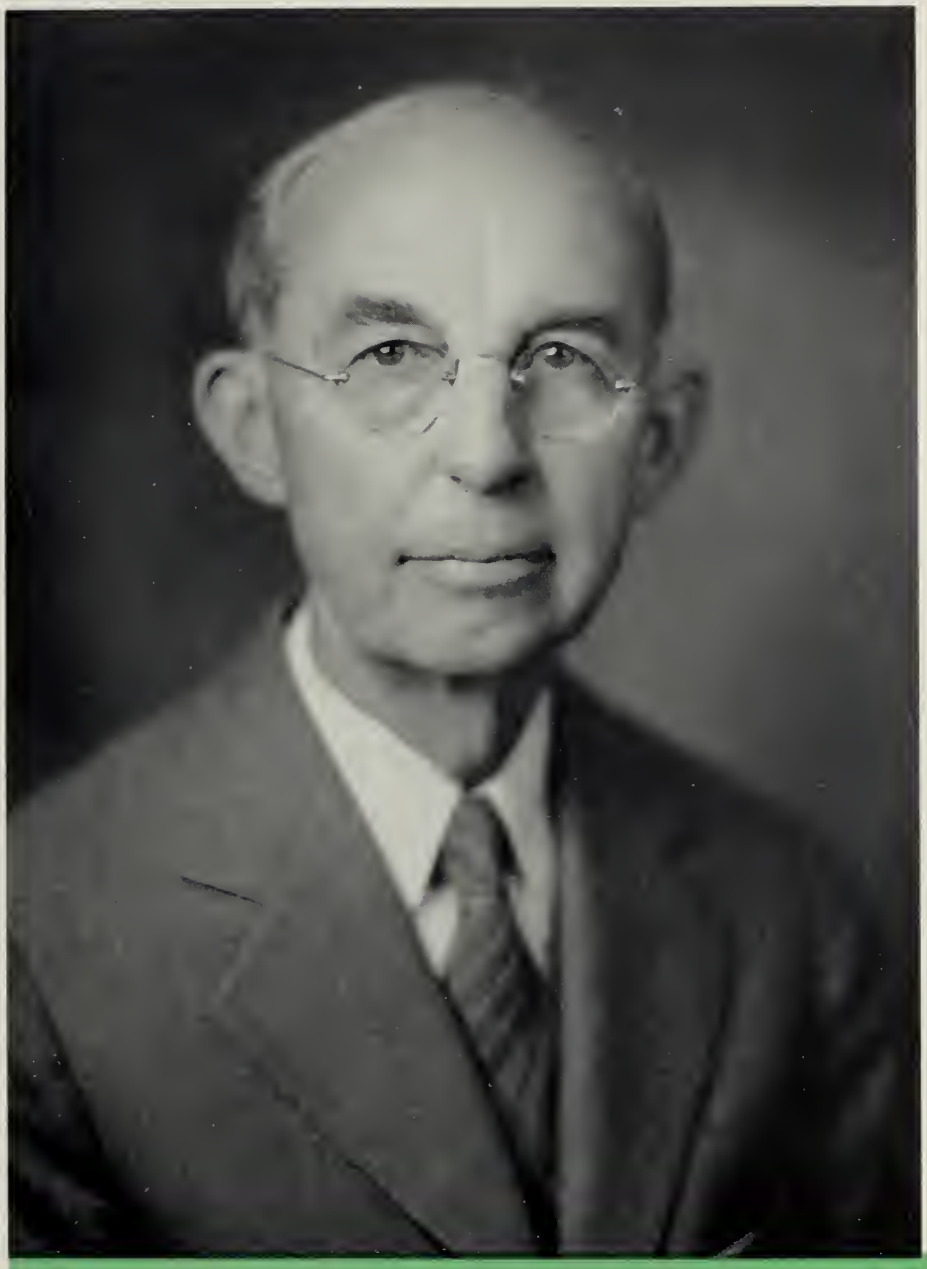
en's Athletics

Advertisements

A MAN OF TODAY

DEAN of the Faculty, our oldest teacher from the standpoint of service, he strongly resembles the spirit of Goethe which he taught us to love—dignified, kindly, together with the romantic grace that typified the great poet. His tolerance and the ease with which he adjusts himself to a modern collegiate world of goldfish-swallowers and besmirched saddle shoes is amazing.

He is truly a man of today, as he could be a man of any day. To him we sincerely dedicate this 75th anniversary edition of the MIRROR.



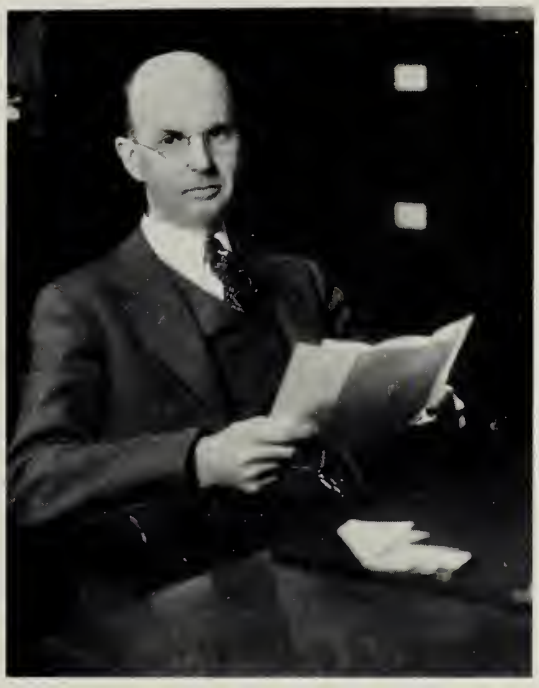
"Dutchy"

ADMINISTRATION

Clifton D. Gray

CLIFTON DAGGETT GRAY, Ph. D., LL. D.

President of Bates College



HARRY WILLISON ROWE

Assistant to the President

Alumni Secretary

HAZEL MARIE CLARK

Dean of Women

Administration

Childs Curtis

Eaton Folsom

I. Foster R. Foster

MILDRED LEAH CHILDS
Secretary to the President
Director of Publicity
"Sorry, the president is busy just now."

JOHN ALDEN CURTIS, A.B.
Assistant Alumni Secretary
Director of Chase Hall
"Publicize a thing and it grows."

MABEL EATON, A.B., B.S.
Assistant Librarian
"Would you please remove your feet from the table?"

CHRISTABEL FOLSOM
Head Dietitian
"Did you like the meal, boys?"

IVA WARNER FOSTER, A.B., B.S.
Cataloguer, Coram Library
"Industry makes all things easy."

ROSA LAMB FOSTER
Director of Residences for Men
Hostess of Women's Union
"Isn't this lovely weather we're having?"

Administration

RALPH AUGUSTUS GOODWIN, A.B., M.D.
College Physician
"Definitely—appendicitis."

LOUISE HAYDEN, R.N.
College Nurse
"Wait till the Doctor comes."

MABEL LOIS LIBBY, A.B.
Registrar
"Sorry, you'll have to see the professor about those overcuts."

RACHEL ALICE METCALFE, R.N.
Director of Residences for Women
"Is everything all right?"

NORMAN ERNEST ROSS, B.S.
Bursar
"There'll be a bill for this."

ERMA MARTIN TAINTER, R.N.
College Nurse
"There's nothing much wrong with her."

Goodwin Hayden

Libby Metcalfe

Ross Tainter

Student Council

Second Row: Donovan, R. Thompson, Gorman
First Row: Bergeron, Bridges, Canavan, A. Briggs, Maggs

THIS year's Student Council, upon taking office late last May, set out to accomplish a two-fold purpose as put forward by President Canavan, namely, to regain confidence, respect, and cooperation from the student body, and to show to the college administration that such a group of men could successfully carry out the duties delegated to it. This the council proceeded to do by efficiently and wisely meeting and coping with all situations that have arisen in connection with its affairs this past year.

Through the medium of monthly meetings of the council with the male student body, students were able to express their wishes and opinions and, as a result, such improvements as those noted in the poolroom at Chase Hall, screens for dormitory windows, and open house at Chase Hall, have been successfully brought about.

In addition the council staged the annual mayoralty campaign, with the greatest of success, provided the student body with a variety of football rallies during the fall, climaxed by the super-rally before the never-to-be-forgotten Bowdoin game. In order to bring about better cooperation of organizations on both sides of the campus, the council also took an active part on the committee known as the "College Panel", which successfully handled the delicate chapel situation which arose during the winter. Furthermore the council was the organizing factor in a movement known as the "Maine College Panel Organization," which brought together the presidents and representatives of the student councils of the four Maine colleges. The activities of this group proved to be exceptionally valuable in the procuring of ideas on how the other councils operate as compared to ours. Along with its famous "Committe of Thirteen," this year's council will go down as one of the most active and progressive governing bodies to function on the Bates campus in some time.

Student Government

THE program of this organization is planned with a three-fold purpose: to aid each girl in finding at Bates the best possible social life; to promote cooperation and harmony between the students and the faculty and administration; and to develop in every girl a sense of individual responsibility through the honor system. To achieve these purposes the association has a very full and varied program including such activities as the annual banquet, a series of Sunday teas at which the faculty wives are guests, a co-ed dinner, a Spring Tea Dance, and Freshman initiation.

These are only a suggestion of the way in which the association serves the girls. Of equal importance with the social activities are its governing duties, so organized with the honor system as the basis as to put the responsibility of the success of government upon the cooperation which each girl shows in regard to the rules. By a system of student proctoring, each dorm is presided over by Junior girls, a set-up entirely different from that of most other colleges, and one of which Bates is very proud.

The increasing popularity of Mother's Week-end, the joint project of the Women's Student Government and the Women's Athletic Association, made it necessary to postpone the invitation to the mothers of Sophomore girls until next year. The formerly interesting program was added to this year by a very impressive demonstration of the work of the Dance Club. During this week-end the mothers have an opportunity to see Bates in action.

Each board, aside from carrying on the traditional activities of the past, tries to add new features as the girls show a need for them. This year, among other things, an attempt has been made to strengthen the often too casual acquaintance with the town girls by having them as guests at the informal dorm parties.

Second Row: Gray, Rice, Dole, E. Copeland, H. Turner, Clay, Allen, Hayden, P. Atwater, E. Wilson
First Row: Houston, Weeks, Martikainen, Gould, Feineman

Faculty

Bartlett Berkelman

A. Bertocci P. Bertocci

Britan Buschmann

PAUL BURROUGHS BARTLETT,
A.B., A.M.
Professor of Business Economics
Director of Business
Placement Bureau
"I -ah-er haven't got my rank book with me just now."

ROBERT GEORGE BERKELMAN,
A.B., A.M.
Associate Professor of English
"He may have written some dry stuff, but he ate his apple pie."

ANGELO PHILIP BERTOCCI,
A.B., A.M.
Assistant Professor of French
"We can do more by being good than in any other way."

PETER ANTHONY BERTOCCI,
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.
Instructor in Psychology
"Think!!!"

HALBERT HAINS BRITAN,
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.
Cobb Professor of Philosophy
"Philosophy is the mother of science."

AUGUST BUSCHMANN,
A.B., A.M.
Instructor in German; Tennis Coach
Director of Concert and Lecture Series
"Lesen Sie auf Deutsch, bitte."

Faculty

JOHN MURRAY CARROLL, A.B., A.M.
Professor of Economics
"I suppose you're rather sleepy after dinner."

SELDON TUPPER CRAFTS
Director of Music
"I suppose I've heard that sung worse, but I forget where."

LLOYD WELLINGTON FISHER, A.B., M.S., Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Geology
"He was a geologist, or some other kind of tramp."

LYLE EDWARD GLAZIER, A.B., A.M.
Instructor in English
"Let me have music dying, and I seek no more delight."

SAMUEL FREDERICK HARMS, A.B., A.M.
Professor of Spanish
"You young folks don't know anything about love."

AMOS ARNOLD HOVEY, A.B., A.M., B.D., Ph.D.
Professor of History
"First make the outline; then fill it in."

Carroll Crafts

Fisher Glazier

Harms Hovey

Faculty

Gould Kendall

Kimball Knapp

Lawrance Leonard

RAYMOND R. N. GOULD,
A.B., A.M.
Ebenezer Knowlton Professor of History and Government
"Now, when I was alderman . . ."

RAYMOND LEON KENDALL,
A.B., A.M.
Assistant Professor of Education;
Director of Summer Session
"It's not my intention to discourage you, but . . ."

LAWRENCE DUSTIN KIMBALL,
A.B., A.M.
Instructor in French
"If you don't know the word, guess at it."

FRED AUSTIN KNAPP,
A.B., A.M.
Professor of Latin
"Horace seemed to know how Spring affects us."

WALTER ALBERT LAWRANCE,
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.
Stanley Professor of Chemistry
"Spell it with two A's, please."

ARTHUR NEWTON LEONARD,
Professor of German;
Chairman of Faculty
"I'm glad to see all you folks here again."

Faculty

ROBERT A. F. McDONALD,
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.
Professor of Education
"Now I knew a youngster this summer . . ."

ROBERT EARLE McGEE,
A.B. (Oxon.)
Instructor in English
"And gladly did he learn, and gladly teach."

FRED CARLTON MABEE,
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.
Professor of Chemistry
"Now we'll take a little oxygen from the air . . ."

DORIS FAIRBANKS MATTISON,
B.S.
Lecturer in Sociology
". . . and all that sort of thing."

ANDERS MATTSON MYHRMAN,
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Sociology
"He was 1% genius and 99% perspiration."

FRED ELMER POMEROY,
A.B., A.M., Sc.D.
Professor of Biology
"I'll lecture for a few minutes; then we'll start the lab period."

McDonald McGee

Mabee Mattison

Myhrman Pomeroy

Faculty

Quimby Ramsdell

Sawyer Seward

Sweet Thomas

BROOKS QUIMBY,
A.B., M. Ed.
Associate Professor of Argumentation and Public Speaking
"Charm us, orator, 'til the lion looks no larger than the cat."

GEORGE EDWIN RAMSDELL,
A.B., A.M.
Professor of Mathematics
"If you need any help on the final,
just raise your hand."

WILLIAM HAYES SAWYER, JR.,
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.
Professor of Botany
"Beware the fury of a patient man."

ROBERT DOUGLASS SEWARD,
A.B., A.M.
Assistant Professor of French
"Just study your notes and you'll be all right."

PAUL ROBINSON SWEET,
A.B., Ph.D.
Instructor in History
"That answer of yours sort of changes history."

WILLIAM BENJAMIN THOMAS,
B.S., Ph.D.
Instructor in Chemistry
"We'll have to find the melting point first."

Faculty

PAUL WHITBECK,
A.B., A.M.
Associate Professor of English
"A good radical should never look well fed."

WILLIAM RISBY WHITEHORNE,
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.
Professor of Physics
"We'll have a quiz on the first chapter right after er-ah. . Christmas vacation."

PERCY DESMOND WILKINS,
A.B., M.S.
Associate Professor of Mathematics
"Now let's turn the crank."

KARL STANLEY WOODCOCK,
B.S., M.S., Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Physics
"You're probably heard this one before, but . . ."

EDWIN MINER WRIGHT,
A.B., A.M., Ph.D.
Professor of English
"Do YOU happen to know . . ."

RAYBORN LINDLEY ZERBY,
A.B., B.D., Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Religion
"What I like is a logical theism."

Whitbeck Whitehorne

Wilkins Woodcock

Wright Zerby

Faculty

Conant Schaeffer

Moore Morey

Spinks Thompson

JOSEPH M. CONANT,
A.B., A.M.
Instructor in Greek
"I'm waiting for the Spring."

LAVINIA MIRIAM SCHAEFFER,
A.B., A.M.
Instructor in Speech
"Call me Miriam, please."

ERNEST M. MOORE
Head of the Department of Hygiene and Physical Education for Men.
"We should have a pretty good crowd Saturday."

DAVID BEALE MOREY,
B.S., A.M.
Head Coach of Football and Baseball
"Look the gates."

LESLIE SPINKS,
B.S., A.M.
Head Coach of Basketball;
Instructor in Hygiene
"Howz yo'h genral condition?"

CLINTON RAY THOMPSON,
A.B.
Director of Track Athletics
"Now let's try a little speed work."

Faculty

MARGARET H. FAHRENHOLZ, B.S.
Instructor in Physical Education for Women
"Enthusiasm is the inspiration of everything great."

CHARLOTTE PARROTT B.S.
Instructor in Physical Education
"Is she not passing fair?"

LENA WALMSLEY, A.B., A.M.
Professor of Hygiene and Physical Education for Women
"It was my fault; That test was easy."

Fahrenholz

Parrott

Walmsley

SENIORS

Smart, Clough, Stochr, Bridges

By Donald Williams '39

LITTLE realizing that fours years later they would be the graduating group when the college celebrated its 75th anniversary, 194 members of a bewildered class of 1939 assembled in Lewiston in September, 1935, to try their fledgling wings in harsh collegiate air. With college careers almost past, with the anniversary and commencement almost here, reflection upon the four years seems necessary to establish a perspective with which to view a world distinctly not rose-colored.

If any recent class could be called typical of the college, this is it. Freshman hats and rules are now received naturally, but this was the first class to officially bow to upperclass injunctions. The class football team was only mediocre, but several players showed great individual promise including Reid, Canavan, Clough, Cushman, and the three Briggs boys. The cross-country team, led by Wallace and Bridges, had an undefeated season. In the class elections, Gus Clough was made president, Bridges treasurer, and Luella Manter and Marjorie Hewes won the feminine posts.

The first Maine winter for many in the class had perfect winter sports weather. The second semester started with Edwards and Friedman varsity thespians and Foster, Curtis, and Farnum acquiring debating honors. The basketball team easily won the inter-class league, led by Woodbury, Crosby, Canavan, and Malone. Tracksters who were outstanding were Wallace in the mile, Lythcott in the sprints, and Webster and Williamson in the high jump.

IVY DAY SPEAKERS

Second Row: Clough, Rimmer, Smart, Nixon, Reiner
First Row: Du Wors, Kendall, Howe, Edwards, Smith, Lythcott

In the spring, while the memorable flood of '36 washed out the South Bridge, Malone, A. Briggs, Bergeron, and Johnson starred on the diamond for the varsity while Nixon earned his letter in tennis.

Came the fall and the most enthusiastic backing of the football team in many years. Reid, Clough, Canavan, and Briggs were regulars. Virtually the whole school went to Maine and died a thousand deaths as a Bates rally fell short in the final minute and the Black Bear was victorious, 21–19. Then there was the nocturnal "invasion" of Joe Bowdoin to kidnap "Thirty Smackers," the live Bobcat who died soon afterward.

With more serious mien, college and the Sophomores settled down. DuWors was named to the Garnet staff, Martone to the Student. Elections saw Clough and Bridges still in office, this time with Dotty Harms and Eleanor Smart. Howe, Canavan, and Bridges joined the Student Council; Dotty Weeks became vice-president of the Student Government.

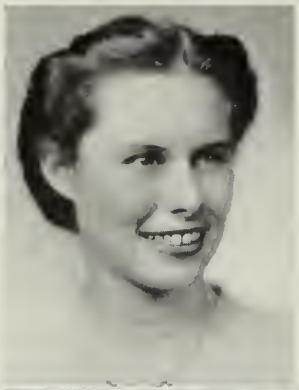
Another spring, more excitement, as the National Guard was called out to control the shoe strike in the twin cities and Foster and Downing made a front page picture in the Boston Herald as a couple of strikers crossing the bridge—with the aid of state police.

And so it went, through the Junior year, the introduction of a varsity basketball team with Woodbury and Crosby co-captains, another Ivy Day, another Ivy Hop and now the Senior year. The 62% of those 194 Freshmen that are now left on campus are looking forward to another Freshman year in what Percy Marks in his "Advice to Freshmen" calls the "big puddle." And with these four years behind them, the Freshman rules, the final exams, pop quizzes and blind dates, even the terrorism of a Hitler brings no fears.

CLASS DAY SPEAKERS

Second Row: Rimmer, Nixon, Perry, Howe, Edwards
First Row: Lythcott, Smith, Clough, Reiner, Smart, Curtis

SENIORS



DOROTHY MARGARET ADLER, A.B.
Sanford, Maine

"Thank Heaven for a true man's love."

Major: French; Dance Club; Attendant to Carnival Queen (2, 4); Buffoon.

ROBERT PRESTON AKERS, B.S.
Weston, Mass.

"See if the lab lights are on."

Major: Biology; Jordan Scientific, Sec.-Treas. (4); Football (1, 2); Hygiene Asst. (4).

RUTH ALBERTA ALLEN, A.B.
Auburn, Maine

"In quietness and confidence shall be your strength."

Major: English; Lambda Alpha, Sec. (2), V. Pres. (3), Pres. (4); Student Government.

ROBERT BENTON ALLMAN, B.S.
Greenwood, Mass.

"H_2SO_4 + Martha + Schubert's 'Serenade'."

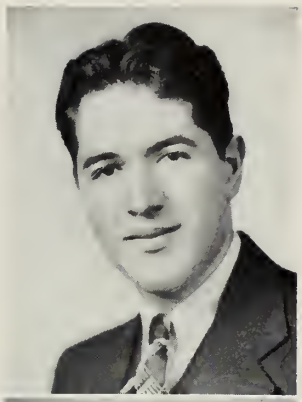
Major: Chemistry; Band; Lawrance Chemical Soc.

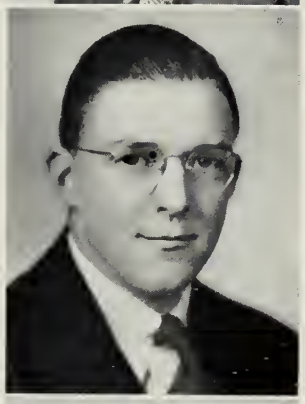
1 9 3 9



JAMES ARTHUR ALOUPIS, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"The Greeks had a word for it."

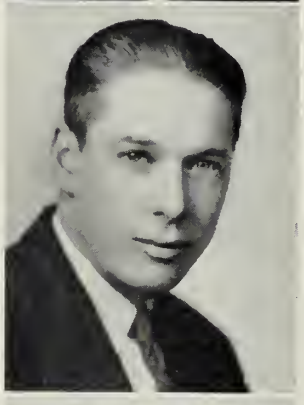
Major: Economics; Phil-Hellenic, V. Pres. (4); Off-Campus Men's Club.



MAURICE OLLIE BARNEY, B.S.
East Charleston, Vermont

"There was a young man in our town,
He bought him a stethoscope nice and new."

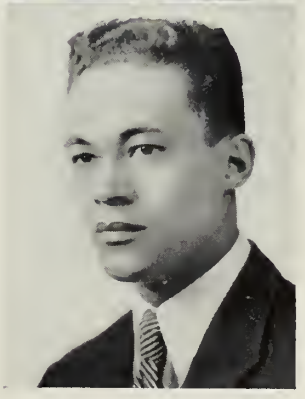
Major: Biology; Camera Club; Jordan Scientific.



STANLEY LEO BERGERON, A.B.
Brockton, Mass.

"We'd put up even money with Stanley at the bat."

Major: Economics; Varsity Club, V. Pres. (4); Student Council; Varsity Baseball, Co-Capt. (3); Proctor.



ROBERT PHILIP BRADDICKS, JR., B.S.
New York, New York

"He has achieved success who has lived well and laughed often."

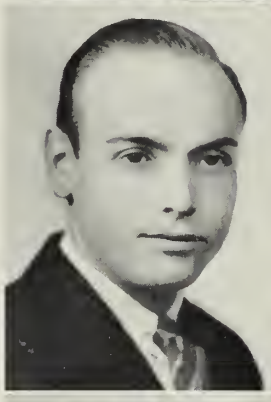
Major: Chemistry; Cross-Country; Basketball; Chem. Asst.

SENIORS

DONALD EARL BRIDGES, B.S.
Bangor, Maine

"We that are true lovers run into strange capers."

Major: Biology; Class Treas. (1-4); Student Council, Sec. Treas. (3), V. Pres. (4); Jordan Scientific; Cross-country, Capt. (4); Varsity Club, Sec. (4).



AUSTIN EATON BRIGGS, A.B.
Hanover Center, Mass.

"The men who make History have not time to write it."

Major: Economics and Sociology; Publishing Association, Pres. (4); Varsity Club, Pres. (4); Student Council; Outing Club; Football, Co-Capt. (4); Basketball; Baseball; Proctor.

RUTH LOGAN BROWN, A.B.
North Uxbridge, Mass.

"A tinkling laugh, as contagious as her merry ways."

Major: English; Choral; Orphic; Student Government; MacFarlane; Delta Phi Alpha; Deutscher Verein; Christian Service Club; Proctor.

BARBARA VIOLA BUKER, A.B.
Shelburne Falls, Mass.

"Life has no blessing like a prudent friend."

Major: English; Christian Service Club; La Petite Academie; MacFarlane, V. Pres. (4); Women's Debating; Proctor; W. A. A. Coach; Student.

1 9 3 9

JOSEPH PATRICK CANAVAN, A.B.
Whitman, Mass.

"And I buy all my papers from a kid named Joe."

Major: English; Student Council, Pres. (4); Varsity Club; Football; Basketball; Tennis; Freshman Track.

FRANCES MARY CARROLL, A.B.
Bloomfield, Conn.

"She moves a goddess, and she looks a dream."

Major: History and Government; Publishing Association, Sec. (4); Polities Club; Dance Club; Attendant to Carnival Queen (2); Buffoon.

DOROTHY ARLENE CARY, A.B.
Presque Isle, Maine

"To those who know thee not, no words can paint;
And those who know thee know all words are faint."

Major: French; Student Government; La Petite Academie, V. Pres. (4); Proetor; Phi Sigma Iota.

HELEN EMERSON CARY, A.B.
Auburndale, Mass.

"The true work of art is but a shadow of the divine perfection."

Major: Sociology and Economies; Art Club; Choral; Speakers Bureau; Deutscher Verein; Delta Phi Alpha.

SENIORS

PHYLLIS THURLOW CHASE, A.B.
Ridgewood, New Jersey

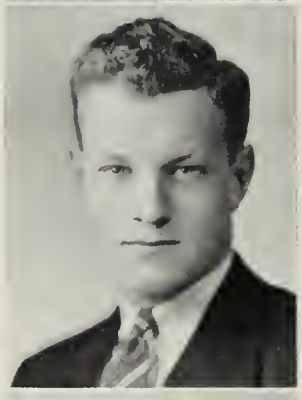
"The muses attend her as she walks creatively through life."

Major: English; Garnet, Associate Ed. (4); Spofford Club; La Petite Academie.

ELEANOR MARGARET CLARK, A.B.
Intervale, Maine

"The sweetest garland to the sweetest maid."

Major: History and Government; Lambda Alpha.



FRED AUGUSTUS CLOUGH, JR., A.B.
Auburn, Maine

"What size did you say you wore?"

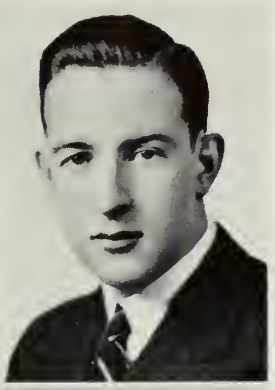
Major: Psychology; Class Pres. (1-4); Student Council; Football, Co-Capt. (4); Varsity Club; Buffoon.

EVELYN MAE COPELAND, A.B.
Thomaston, Conn.

"Good humor only teaches charm to last."

Major: English; W. A. A. Volley Ball, Numerals, Skiing, Basketball; Student Government; Freshman Debating; Art Club; Proctor.

1939



WILLIAM DWIGHT CROSBY, JR., A.B.
Naugatuck, Conn.

"Fast? Gosh, I'm fast."

Major: History and Government; Basketball, Co-Capt. (3, 4); Football; Baseball; Varsity Club; Deutscher Verein.

DONALD WHITEHOUSE CURTIS, A.B.
Gardner, Mass.

"The man is essentially 'stoopud'."

Major: Sociology and Economics; Varsity Debating; Debating Council; Delta Sigma Rho; Politics Club, Pres. (4); Band; Rhodes Scholar Candidate.

MARITA JACQUELINE DICK, B.S.
Worcester, Mass.

"An artist with her fingers and toes, and yet a scientist to the core."

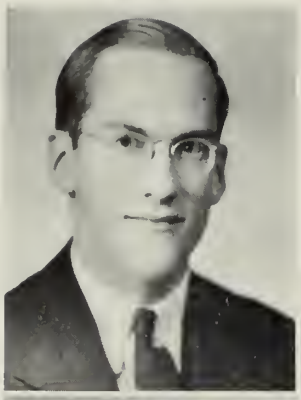
Major: Biology; Biology Asst. (3, 4); Ramsdell Scientific; Varsity Debating; Orphic; MacFarlane; W. A. A. Winter Sports; "B" Sweater; Outing Club; Dance Club.

JEAN ROBERTSON DICKSON, A.B.
Barre, Mass.

"Efficiency clothed in the most charming of cloaks."

Major: English; Phil-Hellenic, Sec. (4); Sodalitas Latina, Sec. (4).

SENIORS



LEIGHTON ALDEN DINGLEY, A.B.
Auburn, Maine

"According to the Bureau of Census reports for 1930 . . ."

Major: Sociology; Mirror Business Mgr. (4); Off-Campus Men's Club, Pres. (4); Track Mgr.; Varsity Club; Christian Service Club; Discus and Ski Club; Delta Sigma Rho; Debating Council; Varsity Debating.

WERNER KARL AUGUSTUS DOEHR, A.B.
Marburg, Germany

"There I was alone, unarmed, in the wilds of Luegnerburg, surrounded by wild beasts."

Major: English; Politics Club; Deutscher Verein.

RICHARD EDWARD DUWORS, A.B.
Dorchester, Mass.

"We are simple folk . . ."

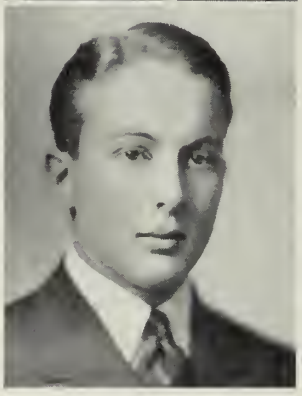
Major: Sociology; Soc. Asst.; Honors work; Politics Club; Track; Cross-country; Garnet, Editor (4); Mirror; Spofford Club; Discus and Ski Club.



EDWIN RICHARD EDWARDS, JR., A.B.
Rockland, Maine

"Art is man's nature."

Major: French; La Petite Academie; Phi Sigma Iota; Robinson Players; Mirror; Buffoon.

1 9 3 9

EVELYN IRENE EDWARDS, A.B.
Auburn, Maine

"The mildest manner, and the gentlest heart."

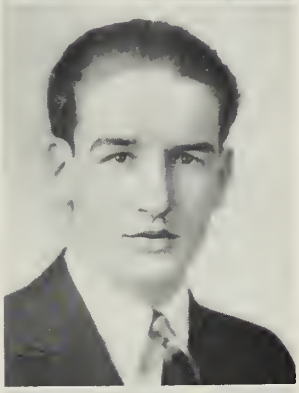
Major: History and Government; Lambda Alpha.



ROBERT ARTHUR ELLIOTT, A.B.
East Rochester, New Hampshire

"Love is the Lodestone of love."

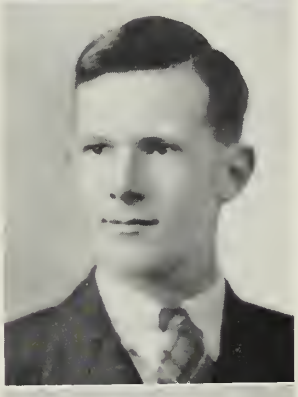
Major: Geology; Outing Club; Heelers; Jordan Scientific; Geology Asst.; Glee Club.



HENRY MERRITT FARNUM, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"Wise men argue causes; fools decide them."

Major: History and Government; Varsity Debating; Debating Council; Delta Sigma Rho; Robinson Players;Spofford Club; Politics Club; Argumentation Asst.

BERTHA MAY FEINEMAN, A.B.
Rochester, New Hampshire

"Supreme in every undertaking."

Major: Sociology and Economics; Dance Club, Pres. (4); Politics Club, Treas. (4); Art Club; Robinson Players; Proctor.

SENIORS

JOSEPH OTTO FISHER, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

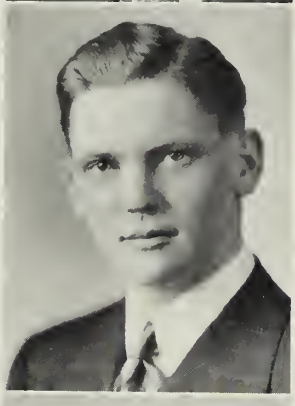
"Good cheer is no hindrance to a good life."

Major: Geology; Geology Asst.; Jordan Scientific; Winter Sports.

EUGENE STUART FOSTER, A.B.
Groveton, New Hampshire

"What'll I do today, coach?"

Major: History and Government; Varsity Debating; Debating Council; Delta Sigma Rho, Sec. (4); Varsity Club; Cross-country; Track; Band.



IRVING FRIEDMAN, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"Then to the well-trod stage, anon."

Major: Economics; Robinson Players, Pres. (4); Varsity Debating; Politics Club; Accounting Asst.; Track.

ROBERT FULLER, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"Opportunity knocks only for the ambitious."

Major: Economics; Greek Asst.; Economics Asst.; Phil-Hellenic; La Petite Academie; Orphic.

1 9 3 9

LAURENCE DREW GAMMON, A.B.
Norway, Maine

"Vote the straight Republican ticket, gollramit."

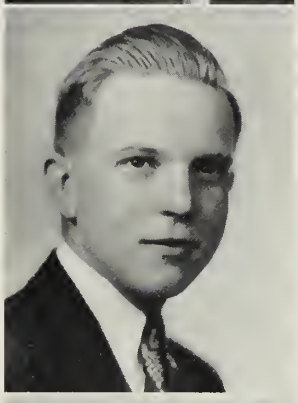
Major: History and Government; Honors work; Varsity Club; Basketball Manager.



TRENOR FRANKLIN GOODELL, JR., B.S.
Dighton, Mass.

"The world belongs to the energetic."

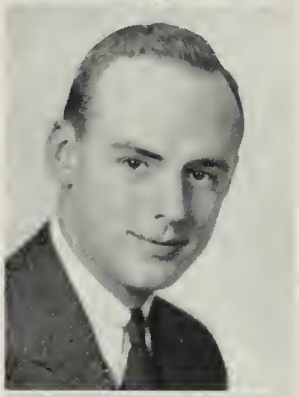
Major: Physics; Jordan Scientific, Pres. (4); Physics Asst.; Heelers, Pres. (4); Robinson Players; Camera Club; Varsity Club; Football Manager.



RAYMOND EUGUENE GOVE, B.S.
Brewer, Maine

"Not a word spoke he more than was needed."

Major: Biology; Outing Club; Band; Track; Cross-country.

KATHERINE ELIZABETH GROSS, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"A merry heart goes all the day."

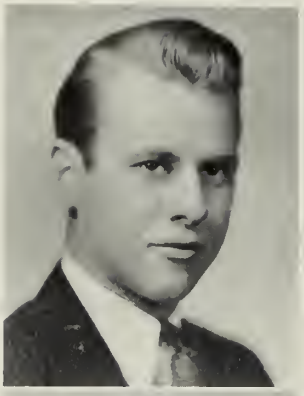
Major: Economics and Sociology; W. A. A. Golf; Lambda Alpha.

SENIORS



ROY EDWARD HABERLAND, A.B.
Winthrop, Mass.

"Howze your laundry?"

Major: Economics; Football; Varsity Club.

ELEANOR MATHILDA HAPGOOD, B.S.
Milldale, Conn.

"Give me love and work—these two only."

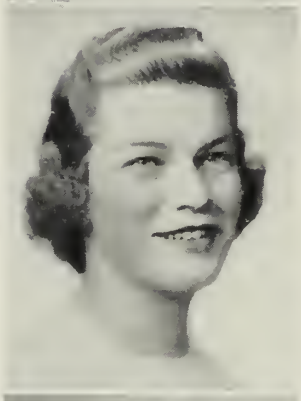
Major: Biology; Ramsdell Scientific; Art Club, Sec. (4); Heelers; MacFarlane.



DOROTHY ROLLINS HARMS, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"A daughter of the gods, divinely tall, and most divinely fair."

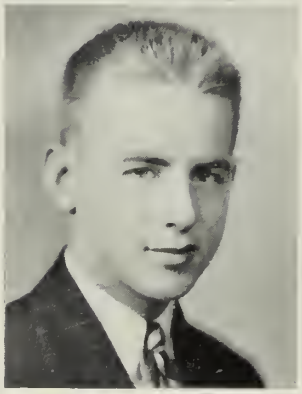
Major: Psychology; Attendant to Carnival Queen (4); Buffoon.



CARL CLEMENT HAYDEN, JR., B.S.
Manchester, New Hampshire

"Burly, dozing, humble bee,
Where thou art is clime for me."

Major: Biology; Jordan Scientific; Golf.

1 9 3 9

PATIENCE BERNARDA HERSHON, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"Who mixed wisdom with pleasure, and wisdom with mirth."

Major: Sociology; Lambda Alpha; La Petite Academie; Politics Club.

JEAN FRANCES HILLIARD, A.B.
Fall River, Mass.

"A few things never go out of style . . .
A feminine woman is one of them."

Major: History and Government; Ramsdell Scientific; W. A. A. Hockey.

PRISCILLA HOUSTON, A.B.
Brewer, Maine

"Priscilla, lovelier than her name. . . ."

Major: English; Student Government; Proctor.

DAVID BRAINERD HOWE, A.B.
Lynn, Mass.

"I heard you play, caught your swift eye,
A pretty melody, called I."

Major: History and Government; MacFarlane Club, Pres. (4); Christian Service Club, Treas. (4); Student Council; C. A., V. Pres. (4); Leader Bobcats, Band, Choir (4); Choral; Art Club.

SENIORS

WALDEN CECIL IRISH, A.B.
West Medford, Mass.

"I'm not indifferent to eating."

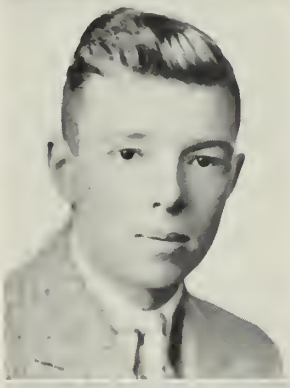
Major: English; English Asst.; Delta Phi Alpha; Deutscher Verein, V. Pres. (4); Mirror; Heelers.



FRANK HAROLD JEWETT II, B.S.
Bar Mills, Maine

"Some little bug is going to find you some day."

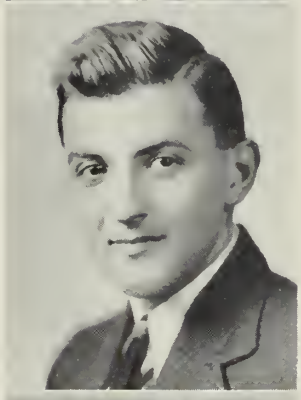
Major: Biology; Jordan Scientific Society.



LEONARD JOBRACK, A.B.
South Norwalk, Conn.

"I like work; it fascinates me.
I can sit and look at it for hours."

Major: English and German; Mirror, Editor (4); Deutscher Verein; Delta Phi Alpha; Band; Student; Buffoon; Basketball.

WILLIAM RICHARDSON JOHNSON, B.S.
Hallowell, Maine

"Old time is a liar; I am twenty tonight."

Major: Geology; Jordan Scientific; Varsity Club; Baseball.

1 9 3 9

ROGER MILLIKEN JONES, A.B.
Old Orchard Beach, Maine

". . . 'tis kinda mighty."

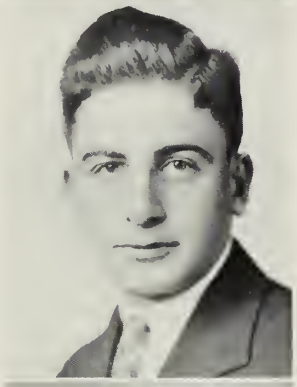
Major: English; Phil-Hellenic, Pres. (4); La Petite Academie; Heelers; Deutscher Verein; Off-Campus Men's Club.



HOOSAG KADJPEROONI, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"That was the toughest test I ever took."

Major: English; Debating Council, Pres. (4); Delta Sigma Rho; Spofford Club, Pres. (4); La Petite Academie; Robinson Players; Varsity Debating; Rhodes Scholar Candidate; 1st Prize, Phi Beta Kappa Reading.

CARL KALISZEWSKI, B.S.
Waterbury, Conn.

"There is no genius in life like the genius of energy and industry."

Major: Chemistry; Lawrance Chemical Society.

BETTY KELLEY, A.B.
East Wareham, Mass.

"To be wise and also to love,
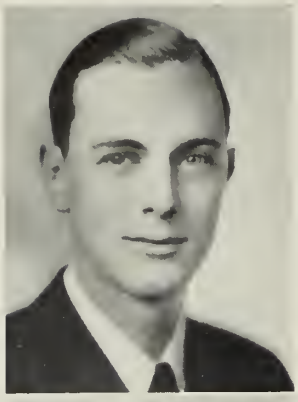
Is granted scarce to the gods above."

Major: Biology; Ramsdell Scientific Society.

SENIORS



FRED LARRABEE KELLEY, A.B.
Gardiner, Maine

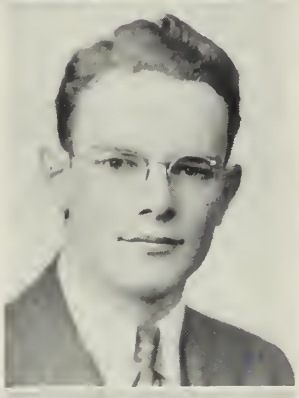
"Life has three aspects: flute, Psychology, and Jean."

Major: Psychology; Psych. Asst.; Honors work; MacFarlane Club; Choir; Choral; Band; Phil-Hellenic.

BARBARA GRACE KENDALL, A.B.
Medford, Mass.

"Her who fairest does appear,
Crown her queen for all the year."

Major: Psychology; Carnival Queen (4); Robinson Players; Dance Club.



EARL ROBERT KINNEY, A.B.
Pittsfield, Maine

"If a man be endowed with a generous mind, this is the best kind of nobility."

Major: History and Government; Politics Club; Greek Asst.; Phil-Hellenic; Freshman Football.

ERNA ELIZABETH LARRABEE, A.B.
Auburn, Maine

"'tis good will makes intelligence."

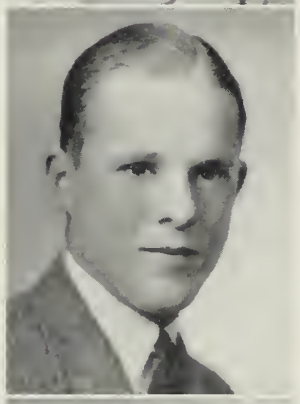
Major: Mathematics; Ramsdell Scientific Society; Lambda Alpha.

1939

BARBARA MAY LEONARD, A.B.
Brunswick, Maine

"Good humor is one of the best articles of dress one can wear in society."

Major: Mathematics; W. A. A. Treas.; Delta Phi Alpha; Deutscher Verein; Ramsdell Scientific.



HENRY LOUIS LE ROYER, A.B.
Winchester, Mass.

"Manners are not idle, but the fruit of loyal nature."

Major: Economics.

RUTH ARLENE LEWIS, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"A delightful frankness incites comment."

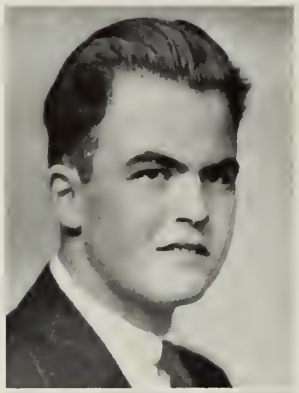
Major: English; Mirror; La Petite Academie; Lambda Alpha.

KENNETH RAYMOND LIBBY, B.S.
Auburn, Maine

"Could I interest you in some Fuller Brushes, Madam?"

Major: Chemistry; Off-Campus Men's Club, Pres. (2, 3); Lawrance Chemical Society; MacFarlane Club; Choral.

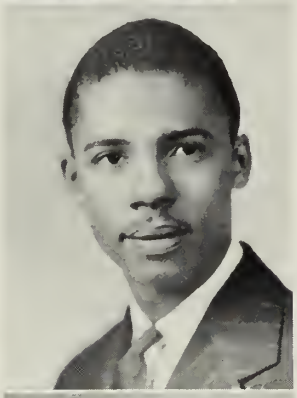
SENIORS



BRADLEY THURSTON LORD, B.S.
Moody, Maine

"What I like about philosophy is that you can analyze it in a test-tube."

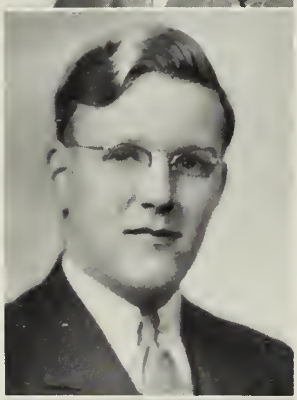
Major: Chemistry; Chem. Asst.; Honors work; Lawrance Chemical Society; Deutscher Verein.



GEORGE IGNATIUS LYTHCOTT II, B.S.
Tulsa, Oklahoma

"There is no eloquence without a man behind it."

Major: Biology; Biology Asst.; Jordan Scientific; Varsity Club; Track; Athletic Council; Student, Sports Ed. (4); Choral.



ROBERT GORDON MacBRIDE, B.S.
Lubec, Maine

"I should be happy,—that was happy,
All day long on the coast of Maine."

Major: Biology; Jordan Scientific; Robinson Players.

ROSLYN LENORE MacNISH, B.S.
Woodmont, Conn.

"War so jung und morgenschoen . . .
Sahen wir es mit vielen Freuden."

Major: Biology; Delta Phi Alpha, Sec.-Treas. (4); Deutscher Verein; Ramsdell Scientific; Christian Service Club.

1 9 3 9

CHRISTIAN KJERULFF MADISON, JR., A.B.
Arlington, Mass.

"My voice is known to thousands;
My heart but to a few."

Major: Religion; Robinson Players; Speakers Bureau; Band; La Petite Academie.

ROBERT FRANCIS MALONE, B.S.
New Haven, Conn.

"Science is more stimulating to the imagination than are the classics."

Major: Biology; Biology Asst.; Jordan Scientific; Varsity Club; Baseball.

LUELLA MAUDE MANTER, A.B.
Buffalo, New York

"Woman's peace is where her ambition leads."

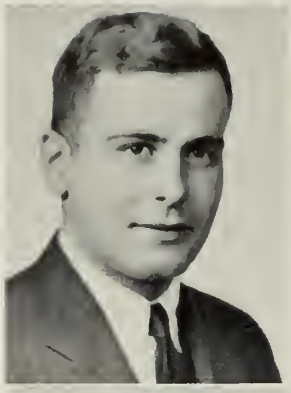
Major: Sociology and Economics; Soc. Asst.; Honors work; Class Vice Pres. (1), Sec. (2); Christian Association Pres. (4).

ANNE HELEN MARTIKAINEN, A.B.
Harrison, Maine

"An effort made for the happiness of others lifts above ourselves."

Major: Biology; Student Government, Pres. (4); Biology Asst.; Ramsdell; Outing Club; MacFarlane; Choir; Choral; W. A. A. Numerals, Coach.

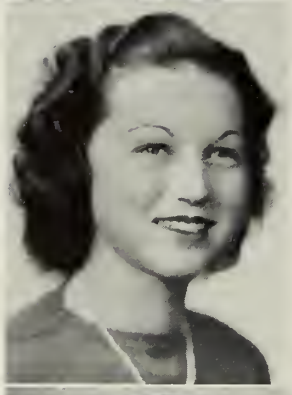
SENIORS



ROLAND ANGELIC MARTONE, A.B.
New Haven, Conn.

"I propose to fight it out on this line . . ."

Major: English; Student, News Ed. (3), Ed. (4); Buffoon, Mgr. Ed. (4); Deutscher Verein, Pres. (4); Delta Phi Alpha; Spofford; Heelers.



MARGERY LEWIS McCRAY, A.B.
Hartford, Conn.

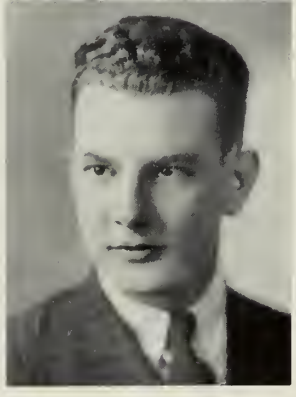
"Her very frowns are fairer far
Than smiles of other maidens are."

Major: English; Spofford Club; Asst. Bus. Mgr. Student (4); Attendant to Carnival Queen (3).

GILMAN McDONALD, B.S.
Billings, Montana

"Studious he sate, with all his books around."

Major: Mathematics; Math. Asst.; Jordan Scientific; Orphic.



KENTON ALLEN MILLIGAN, A.B.
Brockton, Mass.

"Silence is golden."

Major: Economics and Sociology; Cross-country.

1 9 3 9

LEWIS SPRAGUE MILLS, JR., A.B.
Winsted, Conn.

"Variety is the spice of life . . . sleep is an abominable obstacle to its fulfillment."

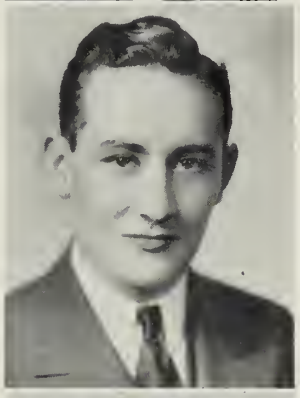
Major: History and Government; History Asst. (4); Greek Asst. (2, 3); Varsity Club; Baseball Mgr.; Robinson Players; Photographer for Campus Publications; Camera Club, Pres. (4); La Petite Academie, Treas. (3); Politics, Vice Pres. (4); Phil-Hellenie.



EDMUND JOSEPH MOORE, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"Men are not measured by inches."

Major: History and Government; La Petite Academie; Co-op. Committee Chairman (4).

LUCY VIVIAN MORANG, A.B.
Pembroke, Maine

"Brevity is the soul of wit."

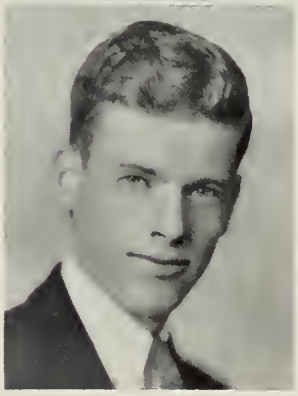
Major: English; Deutscher Verein; Phil-Hellenie; W. A. A. Coach; Heelers.



ROBERT WILLIAM MORRIS, A.B.
Greenwich, Conn.

"There'll be plenty of snow for Carnival."

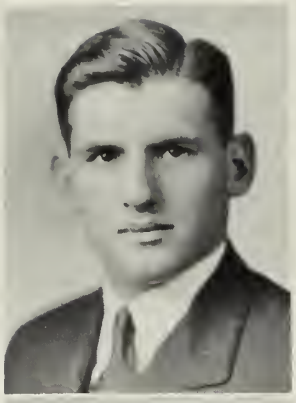
Major: History and Government; Outing Club, Pres. (4); Co-chairman, Winter Carnival (4); Tennis Mgr. (4); Varsity Club; Buffoon, Bus. Mgr. (4).

SENIORS



ORAN ALEXANDER MOSER, JR., B.S.
Rocky Hill, Conn.

"A man isn't poor if he can still laugh."

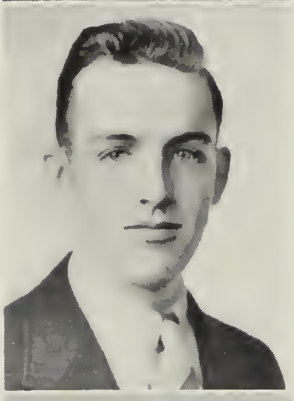
Major: Physics; Varsity Club; Football; Jordan Scientific; Student.



WILLIAM JOHN MYNAHAN, B.S.
Lewiston, Maine

"No ideal is as good as a fact."

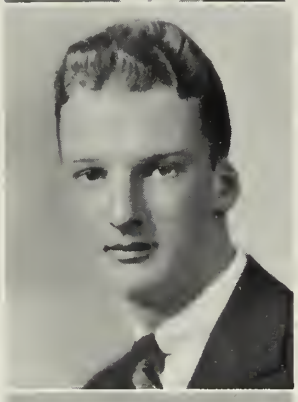
Major: Chemistry; Lawrance Chemical Society, Pres. (4); Off-Campus Men's Club.



JOHN BRADFORD NASH, A.B.
Brockton, Mass.

"The devil never tempted a man whom he found logically employed."

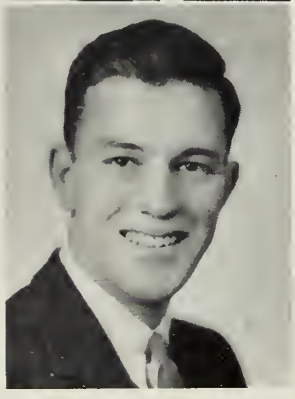
Major: History and Government; Deutscher Verein; Track; Cross-country; Student.



ROGER GERRY NICHOLS, B.S.
South Portland, Maine

"And what he needed for his fee
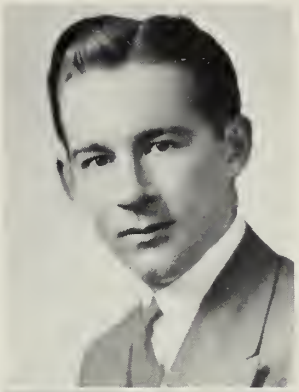
To live, he borrowed graciously."

Major: Physics; Jordan Scientific; Varsity Club; Football.

1 9 3 9



MILTON ADDISON NIXON, A.B.
Portland, Maine

"Wait 'til I see what Fran says."

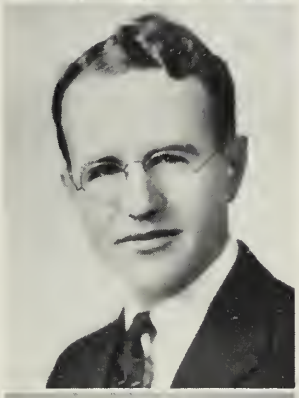
Major: History and Government; Tennis, Capt. (4); Varsity Club; Varsity Debating; Debating Council; Delta Sigma Rho; Clason Key.



CLIFFORD NORTON OLIVER, A.B.
West Farmington, Maine

"An underout astronomer is mad."

Major: English; English Asst.; Honors work; Mirror; Spofford Club; Jordan Scientific.

ARTHUR DANA ORDWAY, A.B.
Douglastown, New York

"It is later than you think."

Major: Economics; Golf.

PAULINE MAGDALEN PARADIS, A.B.
Lisbon Falls, Maine

"Friendly, kindly people are better met than described."

Major: History and Government; La Petite Academie.

SENIORS

CHESTER RANDOLPH PARKER, A.B.
Saugus, Mass.

"We cannot always oblige;
But we can at least speak obligingly."

Major: History and Government; Clason Key; Outing Club; Mirror; Robinson Players; Deutscher Verein; Chairman Chase Hall Comm.; Proctor.

LUCY PEARL PERRY, B.S.
Presque Isle, Maine

"Too low they build who build beneath the stars."

Major: Chemistry; Honors work; Ramsdell Scientific, Pres. (4); Delta Sigma Rho; Women's Debating; Debating Council; Christian Service Club.

LOIS PHILBRICK, A.B.
Concord, New Hampshire

"How happy I could be with either,
Were t'other dear charmer away."

Major: English; Student, Women's Ed. (4); Mirror; La Petite Academie; Art Club; Buffoon.

ALBERT PIERCE, A.B.
Mount Vernon, New York

"I've forgotten to make out my agenda for today."

Major: Sociology and Economics; Soc. Asst.; Soc. Research; Track; Varsity Club; Mirror; Politics Club; Buffoon; Ski and Discus Club.

1 9 3 9

JOHN GERARD POWERS, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"There are politicians and there are statesmen . . ."

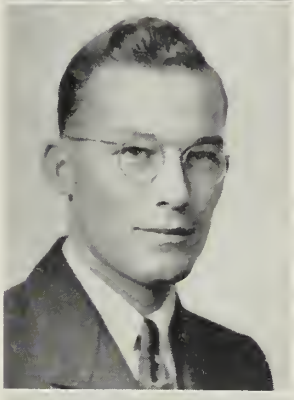
Major: History and Government; Off-Campus Men's Club.



FREDERICK RHODES PRIESTLEY, A.B.
Stratford, Conn.

"Cannon balls may aid the truth,
But thought's a stronger weapon."

Major: English; Spofford Club; Camera Club; Choral; Choir; MacFarlane, Treas. (4); Mirror.

CAROLINE MITCHELL PULSIFER, A.B.
Poland, Maine

"It is more than a crime; it is a political fault."

Major: Sociology and Economics; Delta Sigma Rho; Women's Debating; Delta Sigma Rho; Debating Council; Politics Club; Spofford; La Petite Academie; Lambda Alpha.

DONALD RAWLINGS PURINTON, B.S.
Lisbon Falls, Maine

"Manner, not gold, is man's best adornment."

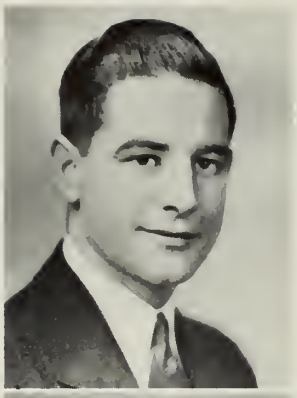
Major: Geology; Geology Asst.; Jordan Scientific; Camera Club.

SENIORS



JAMES ELLIOT REID, A.B.
Malden, Mass.

"The classics are more stimulating to the imagination than is science."

Major: Latin; Sodalitas Latina, Pres. (4); Varsity Club, Treas. (4); Football.

HERBERT REINER, A.B.
Lancaster, Mass.

"Desiring, with his pipe and bowl,
No Khan's extravagant estate."

Major: History and Government; Clason Key, Sec. (2, 3), Co-director (4); Politics Club; Mirror; Outing Club; Winter Sports; Publishing Association, V. Pres. (4); Proctor.

RAYMOND NORBERT RENAUD, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"Men, like bullets, go farthest when they are smoothest."

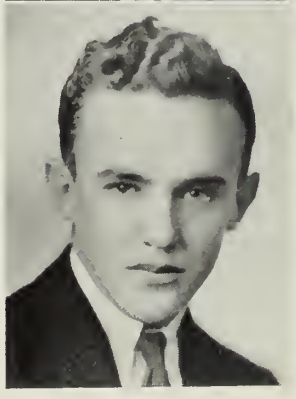
Major: Economics and Sociology; Band.



ROY ESTEY RICHARDSON, A.B.
Canaan, Conn.

"The best armor is to keep out of gunshot."

Major: History and Government; Band; Asst. Tennis Mgr. (3).

1 9 3 9

SHERWOOD DANA RICKER, B.S.
Lynn, Mass.

"He was Epicurus' owne sonne."

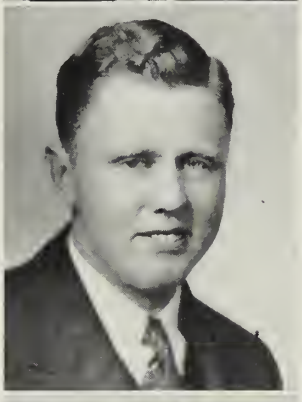
Major: Mathematics and Physics; Jordan Scientific; Outing Club; Camera Club.



FRED LEAVITT RILEY, B.S.
Lewiston, Maine

"He conquers who endures."

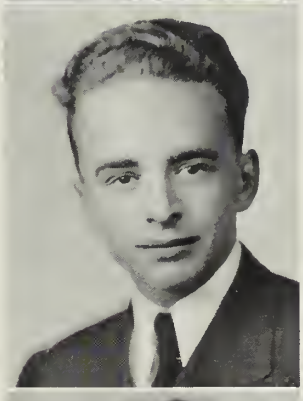
Major: Chemistry; Chem. Asst.; Lawrance Chemical; Asst. Track Mgr. (3).



ROBERT HENRY RIMMER, A.B.
Quincy, Mass.

"We'll all lose our salaries if this keeps up."

Major: English; Student, Advt. Mgr. (3); Bus. Mgr. (4); Garnet, Asst. Ed. (4); Mirror; Spofford Club; Phil-Hellenic Club.

RUTH MARBLE ROBBINS, A.B.
Wilton, Maine

"Her bright smile haunts me still."

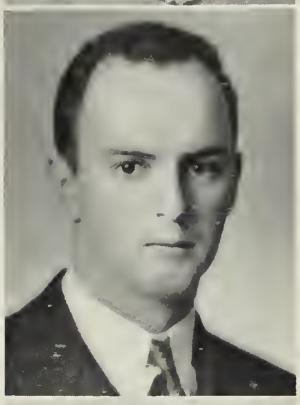
Major: English; Engish Asst.; Spofford Club, Sec. (3); Christian Service Club; Ramsdell Scientific; Dance Club; Art Club; Choral; Student.

SENIORS

ESTELVA LUCILLE ROLLINS, A.B.
New Durham, New Hampshire

"Such high-bred manners; such good-natured wit."

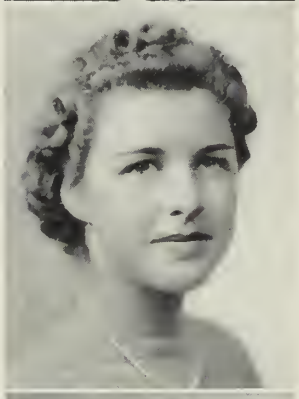
Major: French; La Petite Academic, Sec. (4); Phil-Hellenic.



HAROLD FREDERICK ROTH, A.B.
Boston, Mass.

"What would Freud say?"

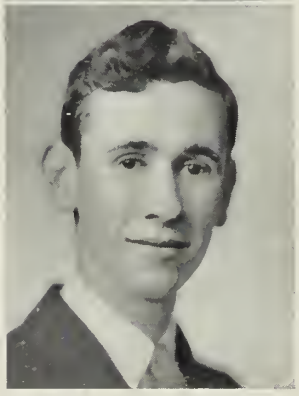
Major: Psychology; Honors work; Psych. Asst. (4); German Asst. (3); Delta Phi Alpha, Pres. (4); Deutscher Verein, V. Pres. (3); Mirror, Assoc. Ed. (4); Discus and Ski Club.



ESTHER BARTLETT ROWE, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"Distant pastures are always greener."

Major: Psychology; Lambda Alpha.



DAVID EDMUND SAUNDERS, A.B.
Princeton, New Jersey

"Biologists can be as sensitive to heresy as theologians."

Major: Biology, Jordan Scientific; Choral; Art Club.

1 9 3 9

RUSSELL EMERSON SAWYER, B.S.
Turner, Maine

"How dost thou, Benedick, the married man?"

Major: Chemistry; Lawrance Chemical Society; Off-Campus Men's Club.

EDWARD SCOLNIK, B.S.
Lewiston, Maine

"He never was a fellow that said much . . ."

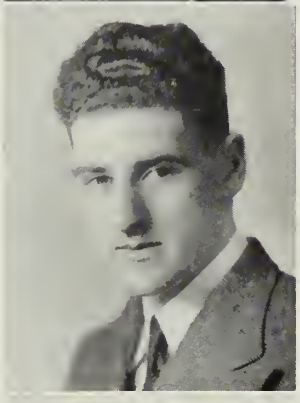
Major: Chemistry; Lawrance Chemical Society.



REUBEN SCOLNIK, B.S.
Lewiston, Maine

"The reward of a thing well done is to have done it."

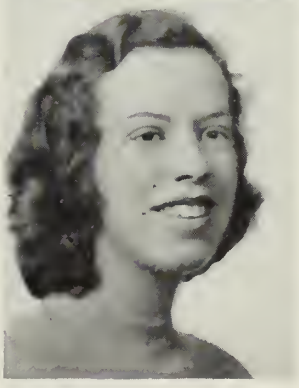
Major: Chemistry and Biology; Chem. Asst. (3); Biology Asst. (4); Lawrance Chemical Society; Jordan Scientific.



ELEANOR FLORES SMART, A.B.
Portland, Maine

"Life is a flower of which love is the honey."

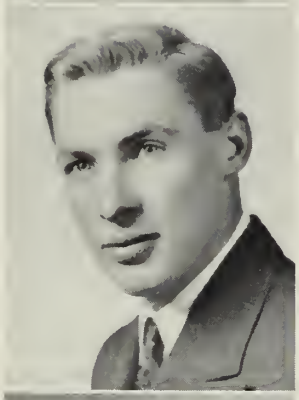
Major: Sociology; W. A. A. Pres. (4); Class V. Pres. (3, 4); Heelers; Politics; Mirror; Outing Club; Proctor.

SENIORS

EVA ROBERTA SMITH, A.B.
Bangor, Maine

"The play's the thing . . . "

Major: Psychology; Outing Club; Co-chairman, Winter Carnival (4); Robinson Players, Sec. (4); Mirror; Dance Club.



KENNETH RUSSELL SNOWE, B.S.
Auburn, Maine

"A town that boasts inhabitants like he Can have no lack of good society."

Major: Chemistry; Chem. Asst.; Lawrance Chemical Society, V. Pres. (4); Winter Sports; Varsity Club.

EDWARD RUSSELL STANLEY, JR., A.B.
Berlin, New Hampshire

"Fearless minds climb soonest unto crowns."

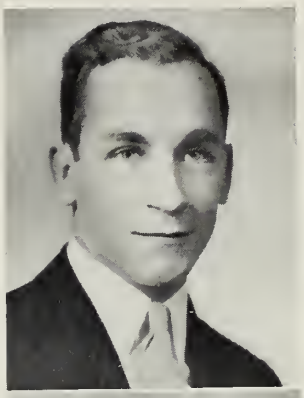
Major: History and Government; Buffoon, Ed. (4); Politics Club; Delta Phi Alpha; History Asst.; Honors work.

SADIE ELIZABETH STEVENS, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"Wise to resolve, and patient to perform."

Major: French; La Petite Academie, Pres. (4); Phi Sigma Iota; W. A. A. Numerals; Lambda Alpha; Sodalitas Latina.

1 9 3 9



FRANCIS NORMAN STEWART, B.S.
Worcester, Mass.

"Fling back the dust I borrowed from the earth,
Into the chemic broil of death and earth."

Major: Chemistry; Lawrance Chemical Society, Sec.-Treas. (4); Band.

CAROL JEAN STIFLER, A.B.
Summit, New Jersey

"Virtue and genuine graces in themselves speak what no words can utter."

Major: Religion; Christian Service Club, V. Pres. (4); Art Club; Proctor.

RUTH THERESA STOEHR, A.B.
Oxford, Maine

"Happiest of all is . . . her gentle spirit."

Major: History and Government; History Asst. (3, 4); Orphic; Politics, Sec. (4); Sec. of Class (4); Deutscher Verein, Sec.-Treas. (4); Lambda Alpha; W. A. A. Board; Outing Club.

MADENE LENA SWEENEY, B.S.
Kittery, Maine

"Much wisdom often goes with the fewest words."

Major: Chemistry; Ramsdell Scientific Society.

SENIORS

DORIS EVELYN WAGG, A.B.
Auburn, Maine

"Oh blest with temper whose unclouded ray
Can make tomorrow cheerful as today."

Major: History and Government; Lambda Alpha.

DANA EDMUND WALLACE, A.B.
Lisbon, Maine

"One can advance by running in circles."

Major: History and Government; Track; Cross-country; Varsity Club.

NORMA WATKINS, A.B.
Townsend, Mass.

"Truth shines the better clad in verse."

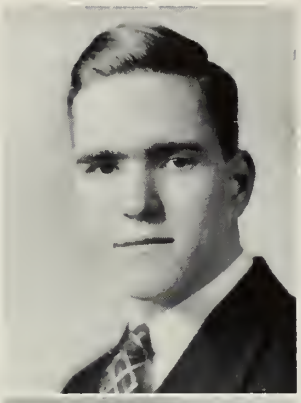
Major: English; Choral Society; Christian Service Club; Deutscher Verein; MacFarlane; Ramsdell Scientific.

DOROTHY EMMA WEEKS, A.B.
Framingham, Mass.

"Knowledge is folly unless it is guided by grace."

Major: Mathematics; W. A. A. hockey, numerals; Student Government, V. Pres. (3), Sec.-Treas. (4); Christian Service Club; Class Sec. (2, 3); Outing Club; Ramsdell Scientific; MacFarlane.

1 9 3 9



JOHN KINSLEY WELLMAN, B.S.
Auburn, Maine

"He speaketh not; and yet there lies
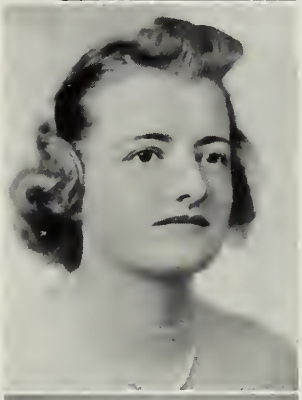
A conversation in his eyes."

Major: Physics; Jordan Scientific; Camera Club.



LOIS WELLS, A.B.
Greenwich, Conn.

"Her smile was not meant to be seen by anyone
And served its whole purpose in being smiled."

Major: English; W. A. A. Board, Volley Ball, Basketball, Numerals, Letter; Mirror; Outing Club; La Petite Academie; Heelers; Queen's Attendant, Winter Carnival (3, 4); Spofford; Phil-Hellenic.

LIONEL ABNEY WHISTON, JR., A.B.
Fitchburg, Mass.

"The ring of sincerity outrings the loudest bells."

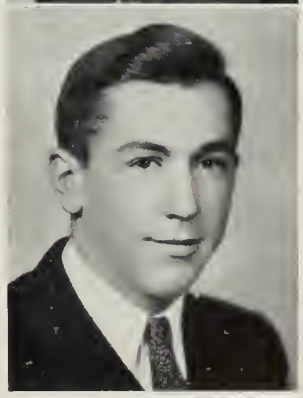
Major: English; Christian Service Club, Pres. (4); Cross-country.



JOHN WELLMAN WHITE, A.B.
Auburn, Maine

"Patience is not the least of the virtues."

Major: Economics; Swimming, Capt. (4); Varsity Club; Outing Club.

SENIORS

ARTHUR GRAVES WILDER, B.S.
Presque Isle, Maine

"Love is not a potato."

Major: Chemistry and Physics; Lawrance Chemical Society; Football; Basketball; Baseball; Varsity Club.

DONALD FARNHAM WILLIAMS, A.B.
Worcester, Mass.

"He was a gentleman from sole to crown,
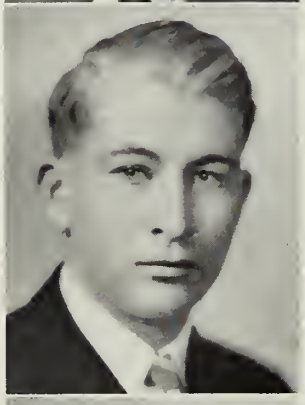
Clean favored, and imperially Slim."

Major: English; Student, Mgr. Ed. (4); Buffoon, Sports Ed. (4); Mirror; Swimming Mgr.; Varsity Club; Spofford Club.



DWIGHT REYNOLDS WOOD, B.S.
Braintree, Mass.

"A good laugh is sunshine in the house."

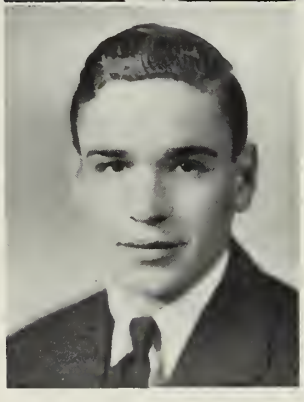
Major: Biology; Mirror; Football; Jordan Scientific; Band.



JOHN BUZZELL WOODBURY, JR., B.S.
South Portland, Maine

"Mathematics possesses not only truth but supreme beauty."

Major: Mathematics; Basketball, Co-capt. (3, 4); Track; Varsity Club; Jordan Scientific; Band.

1 9 3 9

GILBERT LEAVITT WOODWARD, A.B.
Gorham, Maine

"True mirth eternally Bubbles over."

Major: Biology; Band; Art Club, Treas. (4); Choral; Jordan Scientific.

UNDERCLASSES

Junior Class History

Bell, Atwater, Bussey, Dorman

By Fannie Longfellow '40

WE CAME—September 21, 1936. We saw—the Bates campus in all its autumnal beauty.

And now we have conquered—the class of 1940 are next year's seniors.

Nineteen hundred and forty may be a leap year but as a class we have not leaped a single field of duty. Immediately we set out to show the skeptical upperclassmen that as a class and individually they had some very stiff competition.

Athletically, scholastically, socially, we took our places as integral parts of Bates campus life. Paced by our class officers, Lynn Bussey, president; Patricia Atwater, vice-president; Hamilton Dorman, treasurer; Carolyn Hayden, secretary; and protected by Frank Coffin as Student Council representative and by Kay Gould and Frances Clay sitting in on Student Government Board, 1940 became a date to be reckoned with. Since that date we have maintained our steady forward march. Our president is a third term man and to Student Council have been added Ham Dorman and Don Maggs. Coffin is now secretary of this illustrious board and Kay Gould vice-president of Student Government.

Nearly three years have passed since our memorable attack upon Bates traditions in which we have become one ourselves. We have produced our share of leaders in every field of activity. To football and to Coach Dave we gave Captain-elect Charley Crooker, Don Pomeroy, Buster Kilgore, Carl Andrews, Norm Tardiff, and Roy Briggs incorporated. Then along came Buck Spinks to choose Howie Kenney, Vic Stover, Tardiff, and Ray Cool for that great newly added indoor sport, basketball. Not to be outdone Coach Thompson found many assets to his track team in Maggs and Holmes, the pole-vaulting twins, Al Rollins, Harry Shepherd, Crooker, Lynn Bussey, Briggs, Tate Connon, George Russell, John Hibbard, and Andrews. Each class has its dark horse and as ours we nominate "Cuddles" Coffin, recognized as a leader in everything except track. Now he is that also for Frank set a new two mile indoor meet record at Bowdoin this year. Baseball, too, has its heroes predominant in the class of '40 among whom are Hasty Thompson and Norm Tardiff.

Although handicapped by the lack of intercollegiate competition the girls have some outstanding athletes in Joan Wells, Boots McNally, and Ginger Fuller.

Lest one feel that all we have are groups of muscle-bound athletes, we will turn the spotlight on the other opportunities. Incidentally, speaking of spotlights brings to mind the Little Theatre and Miss Schaeffer's cherubs, Dode Pampel, Robert Ireland, Patty Hall, Don Pomeroy, Marguerite Shaw, Cassie Poshkus. If, on the other hand you want an educational program as well as an entertaining one, we have that too. You wish to argue the point? Then we suggest you see Professor Quimby or some of his assistants, Ruth Gray, Mary Gozonsky, Bertha Bell, Lawrence Wheeler, Bill Sutherland, Bob Spencer, Frank Coffin, or Don Maggs, members of the debating team.

Soon we will no longer be Jolly Juniors but must assume the slightly misfitting robes of dignified seniors. In spite of our few limitations and because of our great accomplishments, we nominate as one grand all-around class, that of 1940.

Sophomore Class History

Second Row: Belliveau, R. Thompson
First Row: Wallace, Swann

By Frank Brown '41

A YEAR has passed since 220 men and women assembled in Chase Hall as Bates freshmen. That group, the class of 1941, looks back on those first days and chuckles. But the members were not long in finding themselves and were soon distinguishing themselves as representatives in the important campus activities.

September 29, 1939, saw the class of 1941 returning to Bates as sophomores. There were now only 197, as some set out on their careers via other channels. The men and women had grown. They were a year older, and, of course, a year wiser. But they had their duties at Bates and lost no time in setting out on them.

The Soph Hop, as a bit of distinction, was transfered from the spring to the first formal. Chairman Shannon gave the campus an affair worthy of ushering in the social season.

Football was the first sport interest to the students, and, as was to be expected, the sophomores were well represented. Stars of last year's freshman team found waiting berths on the varsity squad. They were: Beattie, Belliveau, Bogdanowicz, Buccigross, Glover, Gorman, O'Sullivan, Topham, and Witty.

Track has its place in the sports calendar and again the sophomores distinguished themselves. Outstanding were Bogdanowicz, Coorssen, DeWitt, Drury, Morris, O'Shaughnessy, Shannon, and Topham.

The abilities of the class however, were not all in athletics. A goodly number found places on the Student staff. They were: Brown, Hamilton, Wallace, Sanford, Morrill, Blakely, Lowther, Hunt, Winne, DeWitt, Jameson, Evans, Whitten, Austin, Bernauer, and Drury. Again, on the Buffoon staff sophomores were numerous with Sawyer, Snow, Moses, Wallace, Field, Hamilton, Brown, MeLean, Lovely, Milleriek, Anderson, Sealey, Atwater, Sehmoyer, and Shannon eontributing.

Innovations in Bates traditions were brought by the sophomores. Among these were the introduetion of eo-eds DeLong and Fish as eheerleaders—first in Bates history. Oberst was the male representative. The Bobeats found an able erooner in Stan Smith. Paul Wright distinguished himself on the eonsole of the ehapel organ.

Debating talent was found in Swann, White, Porteus, Whitten, Barrus, Daggett, and Farris.

Back to sports, Gorman and Belliveau led the basketball representation, whieh also ineluded Raftery, Whitten, Witty, and Haskell. On the J. V. team were Davis, Boothby, Milleriek, Jennings, and Jameson. Anderson, O'Sullivan, and Bracken were on the vietorious swimming team, while Walsh and Milleriek took honors in tennis. Baseball found a storehouse of material in Witty, Whitten, Boothby, Jennings, Belliveau, O'Sullivan, Topham, Neice, Haskell, Bueeigross, and Thompson. Able team members in Winter sports were Thompson, Sibley, and Snow.

In the elass eleetions Thompson and Gorman were named to the Student Counеil. Belliveau and Swann were re-eleeted president and viee-president respeetively, with Wallace, secretary, and Thompson, treasurer.

Other important positions held by sophomores were those by Bliss, only sophomore ehairman on the C. A. Commission, and Brown, News Bureau Undergraduate Director.

As so although they've been here less than two full years, the sophomores are already a definite part of Bates. Versatile, original, independent and progressive, the members of the elass are making the class of 1941 one of distinction.

Freshman Class History

Moore, Sigsbee, James, Temple

By Daniel A. Sullivan '41

"IT'S AN ill wind that blows no good," says the old adage, and so it is that the merciless blasts of last fall's memorable hurricane, while wreaking havoc all over New England, also had their redeeming factors—they produced the class of 1942 at Bates College. As the mighty gusts swept over the seaboard states they reached down into random communities, sifted out an exclusive and variegated lot of humanity —some 230 strong—bore it northward, and finally deposited it in a mass on the Bates College campus. Thus occurred the genesis of a student body, the present Freshman class, inexperienced and awkward in its new environment as is any other infant, but with an intense desire to learn, to develop, and to assert its composite self in the realm of college life.

Ahead of it lay the traditional four-year period which, like the human life span, embraces endless problems of adjustment, of personal needs and abilities, to society. And as in life, it is the early weeks and months of college which entail the greatest amount of this adaptation.

No longer was there a protection such as had existed in the embryonic stage of development: the high and prep schools. Now the individual known as "42" was thrown into a vast, new, and practically meaningless world to shift for himself. True there was a transitional week during which the collective baby was nursed and fondled by the alma mater, a sympathetic faculty plus a delegation of upperclassmen. But this guidance was brief, and the fast maturing child soon had to encounter the harsh realities of life: the bibs, ties and caps which the society surrounding it dictated.

To this end the older brothers of the family Bates subjected the newcomer to a disciplinary procedure designed to let him know just where he stood. Thus was a special pressure group, the "Unholy Thirteen," formed for the purpose. And its edicts seemed a little more exacting than usual, probably as a result of the stubbornness of the next brother, '41.

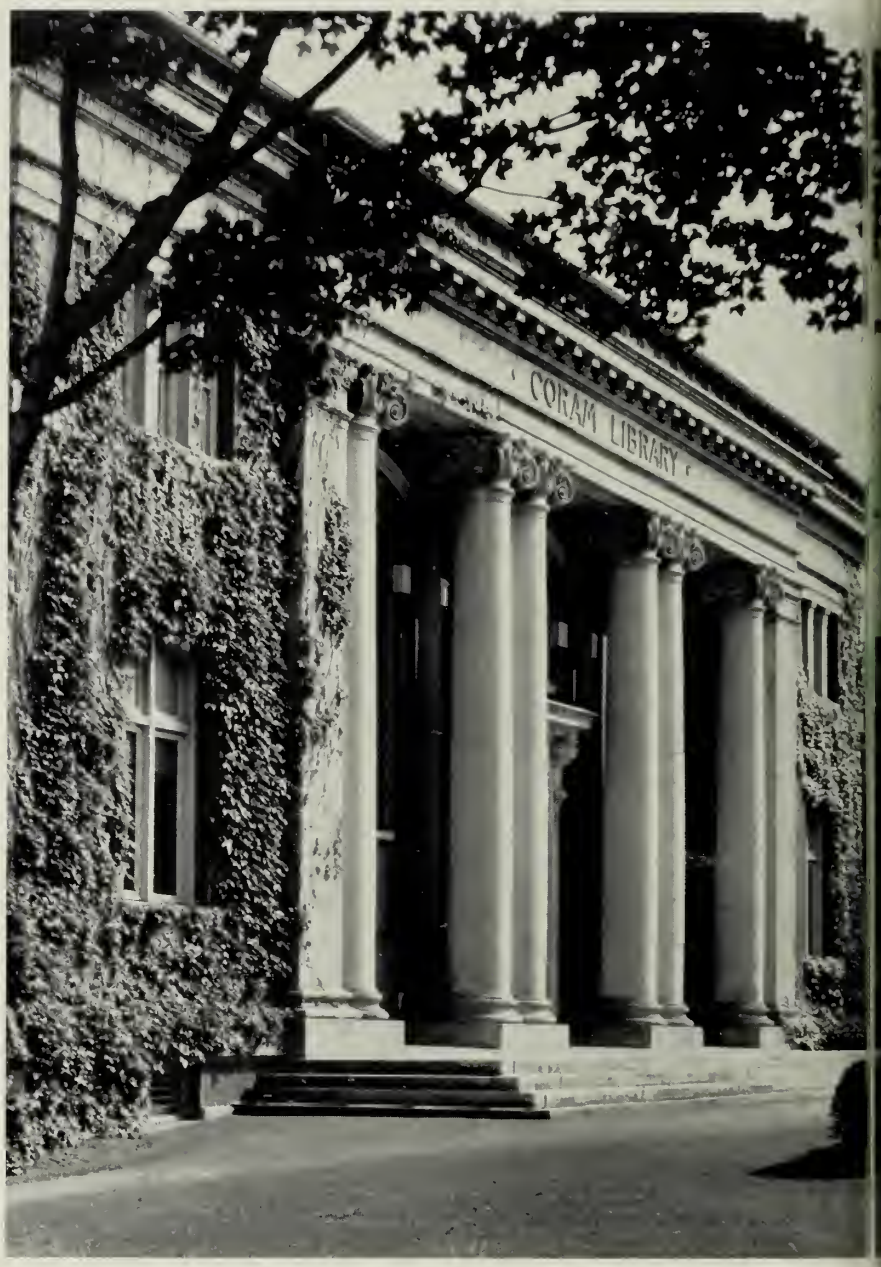
But this youngster could take it on the chin, and, moreover, he could bounce back and dish it out, stand on his own feet without brotherly aid. He was beginning to differentiate himself now; a personality was emerging; the label "1942" gradually took on a significance.

As usual the growing child first developed his physical self, and his motor abilities in football, basketball, and track proved him no weakling. On the gridiron he smashed out two wins in three attempts; he faded somewhat on the basketball court but sent Hugh McLaughlin and Dean Lambert to the varsity squad after midyears; he dropped only one decision in track and all in all showed much promise of future athletic prowess.

As " '42" grew older his world began to broaden somewhat; he delved into the mental skills. Proficiency was noted in studies, debating, newspaper, dramatics, and in the musical field. The right to have a voice in the affairs of the entire family was exercised when the following officers were elected: John Sigsbee, president; Elizabeth Moore, vice-president; Anne Temple, secretary; John James, treasurer; John Donovan, Student Council representative.

The child 1942 is definitely growing up. To predict his future behavior would be difficult. The height of his attainments will be restricted to a certain degree according to the quality of his inheritance from the generations which flourished before his birth, that is, his preparatory qualifications. But no matter how superior this factor may be, he must also do something himself to bring out whatever of these powers are latent within him if he expects to be successful. If he chooses this course, then his departure in 1942 into the world beyond, that of alumni-ism, will undoubtedly be heralded to the same extent as was his arrival last September when he rode in on the great gale.



CORAM LIBRARY

ACTIVITIES

PHI BETA KAPPA

THE Bates Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa was installed on May 29, 1917. Althongh for many years previous to the granting of the petition for snch a chapter, Bates petitioners had songht for this honor to be granted to the college, it wasn't until the above-mentioned year that the stringent conditions for the granting of a charter were met by the college.

Third Row: Lord, Roth, Du Wors, Fuller
Second Row: McDonald, Kadjperooni, Farnum, R. Scolnik
First Row: Oliver, Martikainen, Irish, Manter, Curtis

Phi Beta Kappa is known generally as an honor society, in which intellectual excellence is the prime requisite for membership, yet of neeessity the character of the individual to be awarded this singular honor must be of a very high degree. While still insisting on these two qualities mentioned above, the chapter also wishes to mention and recognize intellectual interests in various fields of endeavor. A high ranking student who has shown interest in worthwhile campus activities may possibly be preferred to the person who is designated as a mere "grade-getter." The nominating committee is also glad to recognize "intellectual drive" and "future promise" as far as these qualities may be evaluated. Thus the honor of being elected to this society is very rare and the student who has earned this recognition may well cherish this key as a symbol that he or she is well on the way to that realm of the "ideally educated person."

HONOR STUDENTS

IN September of 1926 a new project was advaneed and introdneed on the Bates Campus. This project was started with the hope that it would provide additional opportunities for the superior student to develop initiative, self-relianee, and the ability to do excellent work on advanced problems in his or her major field.

The requirements for admission to Honor Study are quite strict because it must be evident to the faculty that the student is both capable and worthy of such independent study.

The nature of the Honors work varies in the several departments. However, it usually consists in presenting a thesis embodying the results of a careful study on an assigned problem. Aeeepted theses must evidence originality, a scholarly approach to the task undertaken, a critical analysis of the solutions proposed, and be accurately documented.

Sueeessful candidates are granted their degrees "eum laude" and where exceptional merit is shown "magna eum laude" or "summa cum laude" may be awarded.

Second Row: Oliver, Lord, Roth, Du Wors, Kelley
First Row: Curtis, Pulsifer, Perry, Manter, Farnum

CLASON KEY

THE CLASON KEY is a small body of undergraduates whose purpose it is to assist the administration in prospective student work. It is a self-perpetuating service group, organized only two years ago, but it has already gone far in carrying on the spirit and interest of the man for whom it was named, O. B. Clason '77.

Specifically, the Key takes upon itself the duties of personally contacting prospective students and of housing and feeding them during visits to the campus. The Varsity Club cooperates in the entertainment of visiting athletic teams. These two organizations have thus been able to avoid most of the complicating situations which arose when sub-Freshmen formerly came for a preview of Bates.

The Key also has Christmas and Easter student meetings to encourage personal contacts with prospective students at home and it maintains a bulletin board and scrapbook showing life at Bates for the benefit of visitors.

Tom Reiner '39 was the executive officer of the group this year while Don Maggs '40 carried out the secretarial responsibilities.

Second Row: Nixon, Maggs, Holmes
First Row: E. Witty, Reiner, Parker

SODALITAS LATINA

THE SODALITAS LATINA is an organization for the members of the junior and senior classes who are interested in the study of the Latin language. Certain prescribed requirements of the length of Latin study are mandatory. One of the fundamentals of this club is to aid embryonic instructors by lecture, reports, and informal discussion.

Second Row: Knapp, Reid
First Row: M. Sprague, Dickson, Winslow

This group is marked by its small number of members and thus what is lacked in quantity is made up in quality as each member has a common interest, and each meeting provides ample opportunity for the individual member to satisfy his own need. Professor Knapp has proved of invaluable assistance in aiding those students who present difficult yet vital problems with respect to method and content of secondary teaching.

The meetings of this group, in addition to what has heretofore been mentioned, usually includes reports on recent articles of the classical magazines of interest to all, and an ensuing discussion. At the completion of this discussion, games and songs are enjoyed. All in all, the members of this group have an excellent chance to help carry forward intellectual and recreational devotion to the classical language.

DRAMATICS

It is hard to conceive of a person who could replace Prof Rob as director of dramatics and instructor in speech as ably and gracefully as has Miss Schaeffer. The Robinson Players consider the choice of Miss Schaeffer a very happy one and have tried to give her strong support this year.

The new instructor's home is in Yankton, S. D., where she attended Yankton College. After a year of study at Claremont-Ferrand in France, she returned to the Middle-West, where she taught in high-schools for several years. She then took an M. A. at Northwestern U., taught some more, and returned to Northwestern with a Rockefeller Foundation fellowship. In her spare time she assisted in the theater department and studied for her Ph.D.

With this rich background of experience Miss Schaeffer arrived here last fall and with her the Robinson Players have had a most successful year.

Heelers has always been a proving ground for the Robinson Players. It offers experience in all types of stage work to those students interested in dramatics.

Casts for most of the plays are chosen from members of Heelers and Robinson Players, and when the requirements for membership into the senior organization have been met, Heelers are invited to become Robinson members. This year, under the leadership of President Trenor Goodell, Heelers have become more active than ever before. Programs have been arranged so that Heelers members are in charge of every other meeting, when they usually present a short play or excerpts from a longer play.

ROBINSON PLAYERS

Third Row: Kadjperooni, Farnum, MacBride, L. Mills, Caswell
Second Row: Moses, Chayer, Manter, Schaeffer, Feineman, Child
First Row: Edwards, Goodell, Kendall, Friedman, Smith, Madison, Parker

The purpose of the Robinson Players is first, to provide a medium of expression for those interested in the theater, and second, to offer members of the college and community groups an opportunity to see plays of real dramatic and artistic value.

Such was the two-fold purpose of the club as conceived by its founders, members of the course called English 4-A, through whose efforts we have the present Robinson Players. The club was known as the English 4-A Players until last fall, when it was decided that a much more significant name would be the Robinson Players, after the man who has done so much for the club. Meetings of the club are bi-weekly, and it alternates with the Heelers in planning the program.

SEASON RESUME

Due to the late opening of school and Miss Schaeffer's unfamiliarity with members of the clubs, it was decided to postpone or omit the usual program of three one-act plays and consequently Gertrude Tonkonogy's delightful "study of a slightly cock-eyed household," Three-Cornered Moon, was presented. The cast seemed to enjoy the play as much as the audience. Barbara Kendall '39 gave a sincere performance as Elizabeth Rimplegar, and her two suitors, played by Irving Friedman and Robert Ireland, turned in their usual finished performances. Dorothy Pampel, however, as Mrs. Rimplegar, was the star of the cast. Her characterization was both finished and fresh. The play was a very fortunate opener for both Robinson Players and their new leader.

HEELERS

Fifth Row: Levin, Long, Worthy, Prokop, DeLong, Robinson, Cheetham, W. Davis
Fourth Row: Bartlett, Hall, Fairchild, Barr, Tuller, A. Sawyer, Plaisted, Dietz, Webber, Wilson
Third Row: Lowther, Roy, Shaw, R. White, Comins, Poshkus, A. Turner, Doten, Glidden
Second Row: Swann, Puranen, Lloyd, Harrington, Ober, Cooper, Buck, Oberst, Stead, Rice
First Row: Kerwin, O. Wheeler, Pampel, Jones, Schaeffer, Goodell, Morang, Irish, Coney, Pomeroy, Wall

because they were given the center of the stage, for the performances were uniformly good. They played with a sincerity and delicacy that has not been equalled on the Little Theater stage for many years.

Members of the club had long wanted to try a melodrama. Miss Schaeffer had seen Fashion, or Life in New York, as it was called here, and told the club she saw great possibilities in it. During Christmas vacation she had an opportunity to study the original script and work was well under way by the first of January. Miss Schaeffer

The Cradle Song, by Maria and Gregorio Martinez Sierra, was chosen for the varsity play. The Little Theater stage was transformed into a room in a convent of enclosed Dominican nuns and so authentic was the set that one was almost never conscious of being in the theater. The cast was very carefully chosen and one remembers Cassie Poshkus, Lois Wells, Marguerite Shaw, Constance Roy, and Luella Manter more than other members of the cast principally decided to do the play in all seriousness and let the burlesque be only incidental. The result, perhaps unforeseen, was three hilarious hours in the Tiffany household. The performances were so good that it is impossible to mention one without slighting another. The second night an extra row of seats had to be added. This was due in part to the unusual program presented between the acts, when members of the cast, plus a few faculty members sang ditties of the 1850's.

Band

Fourth Row: Wilcox, Kemp, Green, Chaisson, Binder, Holmes
Third Row: Austin, Richardson, Kelly, Gulbrandsen, Staples, Stanley Smith, S. Morris, Scavotto, D. Russell, R. Baldwin, Hibbard
Second Row: Wise, Woodward, Wright, Hutchinson, Renaud, Stanton Smith, Priestley
First Row: Barr, Lelyveld, Woodbury, Jobrack, Howe, Gove, McCormack, R. Scott

PROBABLY the first musical organization to come before the incoming Freshmen each fall is the college band, a group of some forty campus musicians. It is the prime duty of this organization to provide musical color and inspiration at all football games in the fall, as well as at basketball games and track meets later in the year. In addition to their usual duties at athletic contests and student assemblies held in the gymnasium, band members are continually drafted for duty in various rallies and victory marches, spontaneous or otherwise.

The organization this year was under the leadership of Dave Howe '39, who introduced several innovations. The most notable of these was the departure from the usual procedure of playing nothing but military music. Such swing arrangements as that of "Alexander's Ragtime Band" were very popular with the student body.

There was no state band contest this year, but the Bates band compared favorably with those of the other colleges on occasions when two performed on the same field. In last year's official competition, Bates was second only to Maine, a noteworthy feat since the Garnet representatives have only one practice hour each week for musical and marching drill practice.

Bobcats

Second Row: R. Scott, Scavotto, Greene, Forbes, S. Smith, Bedard
First Row: Renaud, Howe, Dumais

NO CAMPUS musical group is more popular with the student body than the college dance band, the "Bobcats." At the Saturday night dances in Chase Hall they have given undergraduate dancers their best in "sweet and swing," and have been the major reason for these affairs being such a decided success this year.

In addition to the weekly dances, the "Cats" have provided the music at many of the college teas and also at two of the most popular formals of the year, Pop Concert and Carnival Hop. Incidentally, the "Bobcats" perform not only on campus, but they play during the week in many surrounding towns. The smooth rhythms of this musical aggregation have been heard from the Hotel Lafayette in Portland to Lakewood in northern Maine.

It has been said that "if all God's chillun got rhythm," then anyone in "these hyar parts" would put the Bobcats right up in the front ranks of Christian "Brothers." This organization has definitely "got rhythm," and not only is each member an expert with his own instrument, but he is also able to cooperate and fit into the organization as a whole. It is this musical teamwork that makes it a great unit, and whether it be the "Smoker" or the "One O'Clock Jump," the "Bobcats" are always in there "swinging."

The band this year was under the capable leadership of Dave Howe '39. Vocals were ably handled by "Tooting" Stan Smith '41 while Dorothy Pampel '40 and Connie Roy '41 did well in guest appearances.

Orphic Society

THE ORPHIC Society of Bates College is an active orchestral group which provides ample opportunity for musically minded students for practice and presentation of orchestral arrangements. The group is under the direction of Professor Seldon T. Crafts and an attempt is made to foster interest and appreciation for classical production. The manner in which this aim is reached can well be seen and heard in the various public displays of the musicians' talent. The organization consists of some thirty-five interested students who realize the value of this extra-curricular activity in their college life.

The Society practices weekly in the college chapel and, as a result, several outstanding soloists are developed who are given a chance to display their talents at the Annual Pop Concert, the Spring Concert, and various chapel and student assembly exercises throughout the year. These performances are given not only on campus, but in various communities surrounding Lewiston and Portland.

During the past year the Society performed in conjunction with the other musical organizations of the campus in a special broadcast over a state-wide radio network on the regular program "Maine Schools on the Air." The favorable comments which came as a result of this broadcast from outside sources are indeed a tribute to the success of Professor Crafts and the group as a whole.

Third Row: Lord, Thomas, R. Smith, Doe, D. Russell, Holmes, S. Smith
Second Row: Cleveland, Roberts, P. Davis, French, Scranton, Howe, Cook, Ireland
First Row: Storm, Wakefield, Bowles, A. Turner, Clifford, Mendall, Kelley, Dick

MacFarlane Club

WHEN ONE thinks of organized club activity in the field of music at Bates College, the first name that comes to the minds of Bates Alumni and undergraduates is that of the MacFarlane Club. Having a program varied enough to provide interest for all, this group provides recreational and extra-curricular activity for the student.

This club has in its membership those students of the present undergraduate body who are in the various musical organizations on campus. These people are all talented along musical lines and have shown their interest and appreciation of the opportunity provided them for cultural development by indicating marked interest in the work and progress of the group.

President David Howe was the chosen leader for the past year and showed appreciation for the honor bestowed upon him in that he furthered to the best of his ability all the undertakings of the organization.

Discussion forms a vital and integral part of this club's meetings and as this topic usually follows a subject from the musical world, it is often possible for many of the works, compositions and songs, of the various composers to be demonstrated and appreciated. This plan was followed excellently in one of the first meetings of the year when Fred Priestley '39 led an interesting discussion on the composers Gilbert and Sullivan. At the conclusion, Charles Crooker, outstanding tenor of the college choir, rendered several selections from some of the operettas of these two famous men, showing their versatility in composition.

In the annual initiations, the students applying for membership are expected to demonstrate their musical ability by presentation of their talent thru actual participation. Much of lasting value in the way of increased musical appreciation and intuition is carried away by the students, who receive a lasting source of satisfaction and pleasure.

Fifth Row: Strout, Sturgis, Rich, Horton, Burston, G. Wheeler, Mathews, Champagne, Andrews
Fourth Row: Weeks, H. Turner, Pampel, Shaw, R. Brown, Lord
Third Row: MacGregor, Crooker, Weeks, Hulsizer, G. Wheeler, Vickery, Sealey
Second Row: McCaw, Mendall, Roberts, Sturgis, Pearson, French, Pratt, Clifford
First Row: Kelley, Watkins, Priestley, Buker, Howe, Martikainen, Crafts, Dick, Jones

Choral Society

Fourth Row: Oldmixon, A. Turner C. Wilson, Ober, Clifford, Sealey, Crooker, Rog. Horton, MacIntosh
Third Row: Baulch, Daggett, A. Sawyer, Jones, Ireland, Kelley, Priestley, Lovelace, Sundlie
Second Row: Wakefield, P. Miller, B. Carter, Potter, Putney, Woodbury, P. Davis, Scranton, Rice, Mendall
First Row: Lord, French, Shaw, MacGregor, H. Turner, Howe, Watkins, Pampel, McCaw, Sampson

THE Choral Society, which has well over fifty members, is the largest musical organization on the Bates Campus. This group is composed of students interested in classical music who have expressed a desire to increase their interest and knowledge in this field through practice and musical presentations.

It is hard for one not actively engaged in musical appreciation to realize the joy and inspiration which the members of this organization receive through expression of their vocal propensities.

Ample opportunity is provided for the students engaged in this body to practice, as regular rehearsals are held every Wednesday night, and the more talented members of this group make up the College Choir.

Throughout the year the Choral Society takes part in musical functions of the college, doing chorus work of real excellence. This group, also under the direction of Professor Seldon T. Crafts, in the past year has taken part in the annual "Pop" Concert, a radio broadcast over all the Maine Radio Stations, and several other important presentations. The men from this group compose the newly-formed Mens' Glee Club.

Work of this sort may be listed as extra-curricular activities, but all those who form a part of this live organization have praise for the sacrifice of time, which they believe is well-spent. Such work done under such splendid leadership must of necessity be recognized as elementary and basic to a rounded college life.

The Choir

Third Row: Putney, McCaw, Baulch, Daggett, Oldmixon, Mendall, Lord
Second Row: Pampel, Sturgis, Sealey, B. Carter, Clifford, Shaw, MacGregor, French
First Row: Crooker, Priestley, H. Turner, Jones, Howe, Crafts, Martikainen, Kelley, G. Wheeler

THE College Choir is a select musical organization which is composed of the better singers in the college and takes an active part in all musical productions given during the school year. This group acts as a nucleus around which the larger society of singers, the Choral Society is formed. Many of the members of this organization have had previous musical training in other choirs and singing groups in pre-college days and thus they are all well-equipped to produce music of a quality which is without doubt on a par with many of the leading colleges of the country.

This body of singers is under the direction of Professor Seldon T. Crafts, who has for many years been the guiding light of the group. Possessing an innate ability to lead choristers in varying shades and nuances, Professor Crafts is without a doubt responsible for the splendid type of music which the choir offers. Professor Crafts, in addition to his choir direction, renders many inspiring musical selections on the new Chapel organ in student chapel services. Paul Wright, '41 as student organist, also possesses exceptional capabilities in handling the large organ.

The singing of the congregation is enhanced by the example set by the choir in daily hymn singing in chapel services. At least twice a week, the choir offers specially selected music in a sacred vein to provide atmosphere and inspiration to the listening students. These sacred pieces play a large role in making the daily chapel services significant. Without a doubt one may well say that the College Choir is one of the most necessary and vital organizations on the Bates Campus.

Debating Council

THE Debating Council is the body which supervises through its executive council all the forensic affairs on campus and determines the relationship of the college to the inter-collegiate league. Its membership is composed of all the debaters on the varsity, junior varsity, and Freshman teams.

This council added to its duties by holding four clinics to arouse the interest of secondary school students in extemporaneous speaking at the high schools of Nashua, New Hampshire; Whitefield, New Hampshire; Brewer, Maine and at Cushing Academy in Ashburnham, Massachusetts. Tournaments were also held for the preparatory schools of New England, the Maine high schools, and the New Hampshire high schools.

In the spring a delegation was sent to Washington, D.C. to the Delta Sigma Rho Congress. For the first time in the history of the school, the secretary of the society, the national honorary society for forensic achievements, was elected from the under-graduate body. Eugene Foster '39 was chosen to replace the usual Alumni secretary.

Another model congress is held for New England colleges at Kingston, Rhode Island. Last year the Bates delegation of four was awarded the cup for their expertness in political "chicanery."

Fourth Row: T. Howarth, Porteous, Maggs, Nahikian, Levin
Third Row: Spencer, Coffin, Pomeroy, L. Clough, O. Wheeler, Lindell
Second Row: Gozonsky, Hayden, Harrington, Buck, Bell, Swann
First Row: Foster, Farnum, Perry, Kadjperooni, Pulsifer, Dingley, Nixon

Men's Varsity

THIS year's varsity debating squad equalled the record of last year's team, which tied for first place in the Eastern Intercollegiate Debating League. The 1939 team was undefeated and had run up a record of five victories to bring the two year streak to ten before bowing, 2–1, to Pembroke in the season's finale. Decision debates, beside that with Pembroke, were won from M. I. T., the other incumbent of first place in 1938, Bucknell, Bowdoin, Lafayette, and Skidmore.

The outstanding debate of the year was a non-decision affair with a team from Saint Patrick's College of Ottowa, which was touring the New England States. Milton Nixon '39 and Gene Foster '39 represented Bates against the Canadian invaders in the college chapel.

The most important trip of the year was made the week before spring vacation when Professor Brooks Quimby, Caroline Pulsifer '39, Mary Gozonsky '40, Donald Curtis '39, and Frank Coffin '40 attended the first national annual Delta Sigma Rho conference in Washington, D. C.

There were some half dozen debates over radio stations WCOU, in Lewiston, WCSH and WGAN in Portland, and WLBZ, Bangor.

Subjects debated this year were the Anglo-American Alliance, the Ludlow Amendment, the City Manager Plan, pump-priming, and socialized medicine.

Third Row: Sutherland, O. Wheeler, Maggs, Porteous
Second Row: Spencer, Nahikian, L. Clough, Pomeroy, Lindell, Coffin
First Row: Farnum, Dingley, Kadjperooni, Curtis, Foster

Women's Varsity

Second Row: Bell, H. White, Hayden
First Row: Gozonsky, Perry, Pulsifer, Gray

COEDUCATIONAL debating seems to be in this year. In only three of their debates did the women support their side without some help from the male element. The season started with a trip to Middlebury and University of Vermont, where Lucy Perry '39, Bertha Bell '40, and Harriet White '41 debated the Alliance question. Later Ruth Gray '40 and Harriet White used the same question at Maine.

The coeducational season opened with Mary Gozonsky '40 and Hoosag Kadjperooni '39 opposing the Ludlow Amendment against M.I.T. Later two more League debates were participated in by women. It is unusual for women to do so much debating in the League but against women's colleges in particular it has seemed desirable to use a man and a woman.

The big trip of the year was again coeducational, with Mary Gozonsky and Carolone Pulsifer representing the women. This was the Delta Sigma Rho Congress, the first ever held, at Washington the last of March. About the same time Ruth Gray and Lucy Perry upheld the women's part of the four who went to the Model Congress at Kingston, Rhode Island.

In reviewing the year there have been fewer debates than usual but they have been better than in some years. The Women's Varsity has held its own.

Speakers' Bureau

Third Row: Spencer, Barrus, L. Clough, Swann, Farris
Second Row: Porteous, Hayden, H. Cary, Nahikian, Bell, H. White, Maggs
First Row: Pomeroy, Dingley, Foster, Pulsifer, Nixon, O. Wheeler, Lindell

THE Speakers Bureau is a comparatively young organization but has been rapidly growing into an influential organization that gives excellent service to both the student members of the bureau and the outside organizations that wish to have these student speakers. The Bureau, besides offering itself as an advertising medium for the college, enables the community to have trained speakers at a minimum of cost and gives valuable aid to the students. Its particular offerings are debates and discussions, high school assembly programs, one act plays and speeches on a variety of subjects such as hobbies, current affairs, social needs, foreign customs, and education. The assembly program, started last year, has been particularly successful in introducing high school students to college life through the eyes of the undergraduates.

The debates follow the topics used by the Council each year and generally have to do with current problems in economics and politics. The debates and speeches are the more interesting because the students are taught organization and presentation by skilled teachers in the Public Speaking Department.

This year the Bureau has had its usual busy and successful season. Speakers have been sent to many granges, women's clubs, service clubs, young people's groups, high and prep schools in local and surrounding communities. Improvement has been rapid during each of the four years of the organization's existence and its value should increase even more in the future.

Publishing Association

THE Publishing Association is a campus group consisting of five undergraduates, elected at a general election by the vote of the student body, and three professors representing the interests of the administration and faculty.

This group meets periodically according to the problems that are placed before it. It has as its principal function the consideration, debate, and settlement of those policies that determine the successful operation of the four campus publications, namely, The Garnet, The Buffoon, The Bates Student and The Mirror. Problems consisting of supervision of financial policy; subscription policy; selection of officers, editors, and business managers, upon the recommendation of the outgoing officers of the various publications are the major issues that are brought to the attention of this association from time to time during the course of the college year.

A new innovation was noted in the organization of this group this past year, with the addition of a third faculty representative in the capable personage of Professor Paul R. Sweet.

The Publishing Association has been subject to severe criticism from the student body from time to time because of certain rather over-conservative policies. It should be noted however, that such criticism usually originates from sources that are entirely uninformed as to the problem involved, and on the whole it is the policies, as recommended and enforced by this group, that have led to the successful administration of the four campus publications during this past year.

Second Row: Sweet, Pomeroy, Gray, Reiner
First Row: Whitbeck, A. Briggs, Wilkins

Student

THE "Student", newspaper published weekly by members of the student body who are interested in journalism, serves to give a reflection of the happenings on campus. The news of the entire college is presented in its columns, while contact with national and world affairs is maintained with such features as "From the News."

As a training course for those on the staff who are interested in continuing in newspaper work, the "Student" provides an opportunity for each branch of journalism whether it be editorial, feature, or sports writing. During the year 1938, under the editorship of Roland Martone '39, the paper received a rating of "First Class" in the Associated Collegiate Press competition.

Much of the work with regard to headline-writing, copyreading, and dummying is done Sunday afternoons in the office of the Publishing Association. From the work done here as well as on the weekly reporters' assignments, underclassmen receive the opportunity for advancement to paying jobs on the staff.

Greatest advancement of the year from a technical standpoint was the change to "streamlined" make-up accompanied by an innovation in headline type faces. The only college newspaper in the state to employ this, the "Student" received many favorable comments from members of the student body and various professional men.

Outstanding issues of the year included a carnival issue enlivened by many cuts; a women's edition issued entirely by the coeds; and two early morning editions, one revealing the identity of the campus mayor, and the annual "after-election" issue giving the complete results of the All-College election.

Editor-in-Chief	Roland A. Martone '39
Managing Editor	Donald F. Williams '39
News Editor	Mark Lelyveld '40
Women's Editor	Lois Philbrick '39
Sports Editor	George I. Lytheott '39
Business Manager	Robert H. Rimmer '39
Advertising Manager	Harry B. Shepherd '40
Circulation Manager	George C. Russell '40

Fifth Row: Swanson, Robinson, Booth, Tuller, Worthy, Kenney, Turadian, Wilcox
Fourth Row: DeWitt, R. Baldwin, Blanchard, Buker, Sanford, Wallace, Rowell, Lowther, Bradbury
Third Row: Chaletzky, Nahikian, Lindell, Hulsizer, McCue, Howland, Drury, Hamilton
Second Row: Barrus, Chayer, Wilson, Morrill, Winne, Blakely, Hunt, Dodge, Bridgham
First Row: Mills, Lythcott, Philbrick, Rimmer, Martone, D. Williams, Lelyveld, Robbins, Shepherd, Tapper

Mirror

Third Row: Tapper, McCue, Sullivan, Van Sands, Pellicani
Second Row: E. Smart, Pierce, Parker, Irish, L. Mills, Howland, G. Wheeler
First Row: D. Williams, Philbrick, L. Wells, Roth, Jobrack, Dingley, Smith, Lewis, Priestley

THE prime purpose of the "Mirror" board this year has been to present a true reflection of Bates College and the activities on its campus as the seventy-fifth year of the institution is completed. The board does not expect to please everyone with its book; that is virtually impossible. But a little more attention than usual has been paid to little details in make-up and the art work in general so as to approach the optimum degree of technical perfection.

The historical section in the opening pages of the book consists of the best available material that could be gathered and presented through the cooperation of the board, the college administration, the printer, the engraver, and the photographer. The board is sincerely thankful for the opportunity to present this book and hopes that it gives you too a real "Mirror" of Bates and its traditions.

Editor-in-Chief	Leonard Jobrack '39
Associate Editor	Harold Roth '39
Business Manager	Leighton Dingley '39
Associate Business Manager	Chester Parker '39
Sports Editor	Wilfred Howland '40
Senior Historian	Donald Williams '39
Organizations	Lois Philbrick '39
Art Work	Edwin Edwards '39
Photography	Lewis Mills '39
W. A. A. Editors	Lois Wells '39
	Barbara Rowell '40

Senior Writeups: Roberta Smith '39; Eleanor Smart '39; Ruth Lewis '39; Frederick Priestley '39; Walden Irish '39; Albert Pierce '39.

Assistant Editors: Earle Zeigler '40; John McCue '40; Raymond Cool '40; Sumner Tapper '40.

Assistant Business Managers: James Pellicani '40; J. VerNooy Sands '40; Gordon Wheeler '40.

Buffoon

Fifth Row: Crooker, Arenstrup, Wallace, C. Baldwin
Fourth Row: Moses, Simonetti, A. Sawyer, Stover, Lelyveld, Brown
Third Row: Charlton, R. Baldwin, McLean, Clay, Chick, Jobrack, Tapper
Second Row: J. Atwater, Mills, Philbrick, Sealey, Harms, Rowe, Madison, H. Greenleaf
First Row: McCue, Martone, Manter, Stanley, Adler, Cool, Edwards

ON MARCH 19, 1937 the first issue of the "Buffoon" made its appearance and in the two years it has been on campus, it has established a definite name and place for itself as a successful humor magazine. Filling an existing gap between the "Garnet" and the "Student," the "Buffoon" has surely fulfilled its original purpose.

In attempting to give an entertaining, colorful and humorous portrayal of campus activities, the "Buffoon" presents the best undergraduate humor in prose, poetry and photography. This, together with jokes and cartoons, go to make up much of the magazine's popularity and its light satiric style adds humor to whatever it touches. Collegiate style trends are faithfully recorded as well as happenings in the field of collegiate sports and popular music.

Edward Stanley '39, this year's editor, is responsible for the continued humor which the magazine has maintained. One of his policies, that of providing a special feature about which each issue is built, has proven itself worthwhile and will, in all probability, be continued in the future.

Chief of the undergraduate humorous poets during the past year has been John McCue '40 while Frank Coffin '40, and Roland Martone '39 have written considerable verse with the latter in the role of managing editor of the publication. Humorous prose writers included Stanley himself, Donald Williams '39 and Raymond Cool '40. Regular contributors in the fields of style and music were Joseph Millerick '41, Lois Philbrick '39, and Leonard Jobrack '39. The photography department was ably conducted by Lewis Mills '39 with Montrose Moses '41 as chief assistant.

Garnet

THIS year the Garnet sought to further a process of experimentation begun three years ago for the purpose of making the publication a more functional part of campus life as a whole. To carry out this end, Editor DuWors and a capable staff worked for the achievement of what proved to be an innovation in the life of the Garnet on the Bates campus.

Such features as a new format, a new type cover, drawings, and photography, in addition to literary and humorous contributions from students representing all fields and phases of college life were found in Garnet issues this year. The magazine encouraged the students to come out of the pigeon-holes of their courses by writing up their material in forms that would allow the layman to share their interest. H. F. Roth, for example, made at least a part of Freud intelligible to the amateur.

While in the past the publication has been subject to a great deal of general criticism, it is interesting to note that this year some of the professors used material from the Garnet as a basis for classroom discussion because of its constructive value. This is the highest compliment that any issue has yet received.

It is the freedom and the willingness to experiment; to adopt the new and do away with the traditional; and to get away from the tendency of the Garnet of the past to become a literary workshop for English majors that has made a successful publication possible during the course of this past year. Judging from the progress that has been made by this magazine during the last few years, it seems quite likely that this year's Garnet has reached the climax point in its period of development for the more worthwhile and popular publication that it has now become in the realm of administration, faculty, and undergraduate life.

Second Row: McCue, Coffin, Cook, Nahikian
First Row: Rimmer, DuWors, Mills, Lelyveld

Christian Association

THE C. A. is responsible for the most varied program of aetivities of any organization on eampus. The Cabinet eonsists of the four exeeutive offieers, the chairmen of the ten committees eovering all phases of student interest, and the faculty advisor. It is a eoeducational organization whieh makes it possible to adapt the program to the needs and interests of every student on campus, and to estabhsh contacts with many persons.

The Freshmen are met and entertained during Freshman week and are provided with a handbook containing mueh needed information. A Freshman Cabinet eomposed of twenty-two members is selected from a list of applieations filled out in December. Besides being organized as a separate body, two Freshmen are selected as members of eaeh C. A. Commission. Following the election of officers the new members take over certain projeets of the Senior Cabinet and sponsor new activities which call for Freshmen partieipation.

Vesper serviees in the chapel several times during the year afford an exeellent opportunity for student leadership as well as the presentation of some of the leading religious thinkers of the day. Our deputation teams are well known to the ehurehes of Northern New England. The Chase Hall committee has eharge of the Saturday night danees and various other recreational faeilities sueh as the game tournaments and the open houses at Chase Hall on Sunday night.

Among the other numerous aetivites sponsored by the C. A. are the second hand book store, midyear cocoas, furnishing flowers and magazines for the infirmary, sending delegates to loeal and national conferences, community service through work with underpriviledged ehildren and the bettering and furthering of social relations on campus.

The students aetively participate in a world wide Student Christian Movement through the affiliation of the B. C. A. with the New England Student Christian Movement.

Third Row: Pomeroy, E. Johnson, L. Clough, Sutherland
Second Row: Pampel, Bliss, Brown, Buker, Robbins, Hershon
First Row: Child, Philbrick, Coffin, Manter, Bell, Snow, Shepherd

Christian Service Club

Third Row: V. Copeland, McCaw, Spencer, Newman, Roberts
Second Row: Weeks, Ober, Baulch, L. Clough, Curry
First Row: MacNish, Rog. Horton, Stifler, Whiston, French, Dingley, Buker

THE Christian Service Club is a vital group of students striving for greater attainment in religious living. Its membership is restricted to Religion majors and those actively interested in the furthering of the Christian faith and doctrine in everyday life and practice. The club has made possible closer comradeship with one another and better understanding of what is involved in personal and social living.

The program of the year has without doubt proved to every member the value and importance of intimate discussion and argument on matters of utmost importance. The Hazen books were used as a basis for a good many heated debates on religious living as that is the central theme of these volumes.

The club functions closely with all organized religious groups. Its members are called upon for Church School Leadership and Young Peoples' Work in the churches of the near-by towns, mainly Auburn and Lewiston. The Deputation work, formerly the main project of the club, now functions under the Christian Association and is one of the many commissions of this organization, yet the Christian Service Club still shows interest in work of this sort, many of its members being members also of the Deputation Commission heretofore mentioned. The missionary emphasis is expressed through the Commission of Christian Outreach. Their ideas and sentiments may be expressed in the following two lines from Jesus' Sermon on the Mount: "Blessed are those who feel their spiritual need for the kingdom of heaven belongs to them, and blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God."

Varsity Club

Fifth Row: Glover, Bracken, Buccigross, O'Sullivan, Andrews, Holmes, Gorman, R. Briggs
Fourth Row: Maggs, Russell, Topham, Ireland, Zeigler, Hulsizer, Downing, Lythcott
Third Row: Clough, Shepherd, Howland, Pomeroy, Rollins, E. Witty, Belliveau, Crooker, Coffin
Second Row: Goodell, Snowe, Stover, Cool, W. Johnson, Wilder, R. Morris, Woodbury, Wallace
First Row: Moser, Canavan, Malone, Bridges, A. Briggs, Bergeron, Crosby, Haberland, Mills

THE Varsity Club has the most rigid entrance requirement of any organization on campus—the attainment of a varsity "B". Yet the club is in no way exclusively interested in sports. The organization comes into the limelight on campus at the period of initiation, yet quietly contributes to many activities of the college.

The club, appreciating the amount of time that athletics take from studies, maintains a tutoring service for athletes. It cooperates with the Clason Key in entertaining visiting teams and prospective students, as well as in furnishing ushers for games and officials for track meets, and it conducts athletic programs of general interest to the school. All of these activities, as well as the Varsity Club Dance, make the Varsity Club an integral part of the school.

The primary purpose of the club is to foster a closer relationship between the athletes who represent different sports. By bringing men who are interested in different sports together in one organization, the club proves to be a common place of meeting for its members with a mutual interest in the advancement of athletics at Bates. Even the period of initiation serves to join the initiates in a spirit of fellow-feeling that often lasts after college days. Thus the Varsity Club fills the need for a purely athletic organization, yet extends its energies into many channels of service for the school which are both athletic and non-athletic.

Der Deutsche Verein

THIRTY-THREE years ago there was organized at Bates a elub called "Der Deutsehe Verein." It was intended to afford male students of more than ordinary interest and ability an opportunity to share somewhat in the eulture and traditions of old Germany. It has successfully performed that task ever sinee, with the exeeption of one short enforeed respite.

During the World War, when the name "Sauerkraut" was changed to "Liberty Cabbage," when the works of Goethe and Sehiller were not read openly, and when hundreds of thousands of deseendants of German immigrants fought in Ameriean Armies, the Bates Deutseher Verein was forced to disband. Shortly after the eessation of foolishness the Verein re-aetivated itself, and even became co-ed.

The present German elub, or Deutscher Verein, holds spirited monthly meetings. The more formal ones are held in the homes of the faculty members, while the initiations and parties are held in more suitable plaees. Membership in the Verein is not limited to those who show extraordinary profieiency, although ability is given some eonsideration. Interest counts for a great deal, as does a real desire to share in German eustoms. Ordinarily only members of the two upper elasses are elected to membership, but this year, due to the presenee of a large number of espeeially eligibles, and due to a desire to leave a large eapable nueleus with whieh to start off the next thirty-three and more years, many sophomores were eleeted.

It has long been traditional to elose the meetings with the singing of appropriate German folk and student songs, and this year, at the spring party, the Seniors were wished the best of luck with the singing, by the underelass members, of "Hoch soll'n sie leben."

Third Row: Hahnel, Saunders, Jobrack, Brown, Rollins, Zeigler, Newman
Second Row: Halliwell, Bell, Mc Nally, J. Davis, Morse, Smart, Puranen, Lowther
First Row: Nash, Leonard, Irish, Stoehr, Martone, Morang, Roth, H. Cary, Parker

Delta Phi Alpha

DELTA Phi Alpha is a national fraternity for students who have shown proficiency in the German language and literature. The Gamma Chapter, the third one of the forty-odd local chapters formed, exists on the Bates campus where it supplementsthe Deutscher Verein. Membership is limited to advanced students, and is, for better or worse, largely determined by classroom achievements.

Because of the presence of the active Deutscher Verein, the Delta Phi Alpha chapter functions as an honorary society only. In the past there have been two meetings each year. The first one is held for initiatory and social purposes. New members are received in a brief but impressive ceremony, and the remainder of the evening is usually spent in playing games.

The other meeting is of a more scholarly nature. Various members present reports on some selected German author, a general discussion follows, and a better understanding of his works is gained by all.

Just as there arose a demand for the formation of such an organization at Bates, there is a present growing desire for more meetings each year. This is due to the success of the meetings in the past, and the interest shown by the members in cultural problems.

A friendly and informal atmosphere is provided for the meetings through the efforts of Doctor and Mrs. Leonard, at whose home the meetings are held. The congenial surroundings, the pleasant comrades, and the stimulating topics combine to make membership in Delta Phi Alpha a pleasure as well as an honor.

Second Row: Leonard, H. Cary, Morse, Wright, Lowther, Zeigler
First Row: Stanley, Jobrack, MacNish, Roth, R. Brown, Martone, Irish

La Petite Academie

Third Row: Lord, Giles, Buker, Field, Curry, Bertocci, Ryder
Second Row: G. Hawkins, Culbert, Hunt, Booth, Morse, Vaughan, Goss, Stead
First Row: Kimball, A. Bertocci, Lewis, Moore, Stevens, Mills, Hershon, Seward, Edwards

THE purposes of the La Petite Academie are to foster an interest in the life and literature of the French people, and strives to promote an interest in this field. The club attempts to familiarize the members with the spoken language by conducting all the monthly meetings as well as all lectures and discussions in French. With these aims in view, a variety of programs have been planned and presented throughout the year.

Members are chosen from among the undergraduates who profess a genuine interest in French. Many of the group at present are majoring in the language, and the set-up of the club makes it of special benefit to prospective French teachers.

The year's activities opened this fall with a cabin party at Thorncrag which has been made famous each year because of Prof. Angelo Bertocci's spaghetti supper. Some of the outstanding programs of the year have been the singing of Christmas songs under the direction of Prof. Seward; a lecture by Prof. Kimball concerning social life in France and a comparison with ours; entertaining movies of cycling through France which gave the students a chance to gain a different slant on French Life. On several occasions different members of the club have participated in the program by fostering discussions on timely topics. In one instance there were talks given on four outstanding French musicians, supplemented by recordings on the victrola. Also in connection with La Petite Academie weekly French sings are held in Libby Forum with a chance to sing French folk songs.

Through open meetings, the French Club extends to the whole campus an opportunity to become familiar with France and French customs. In addition it strives to keep pace with events and affairs surrounding the local French population, and to aid them whenever possible.

Phi Sigma Iota

Second Row: Seward, Gozonsky, Kimball, Lord, A. Bertocci
First Row: Dodge, Stevens, Edwards, G. Hawkins, Culbert

THE Phi Sigma Iota Honor Society has for its purposes the recognition of outstanding ability and attainment in the Romance languages and literatures, the stimulation of advanced work and individual research in the field, and the promotion of a sentiment of amity between our own nation and the nations using these languages.

Possibly a second Raison d'etre for this select group would be to afford public recognition to a small few and the purpose of combining these few individuals into a congenial whole, united by a common feeling of satisfaction at having accomplished something worthwhile.

This society was founded at Allegheny College in 1926 by Doctor Henry W. Church, members of the Romance language department, and advanced students. These people united for linguistic and literary discussions and realized the cultural and scholastic advantages of such an organization. In 1927, Phi Sigma Iota became a national society, and since then it has expanded rapidly and steadily, yet to a certain degree conservatively. The Kappa chapter at Bates is one of the twenty chapters in the East.

The programs in the past have consisted of oral reports given by the members on the themes in French life and literature. Therefore the tendency has been recently to extend the scope and realm of action to include all the basic and important Romance languages—that is, Italian and Spanish, in addition to French, heretofore mentioned. Realizing that the best and most efficient manner of discovering and enjoying the true character and ideas of these vital nations is through literature, such men as Dante, Petrarch, Boccaccio, Tasso, Ariosto, Cervantes, Moliere, Racine, Rousseau, ainsi de suite. Here is one extra-curricular interest and activity that cannot be charged as being of no value, for there is a direct tie-up between this and scholastic activity.

Phil-Hellenic Club

THE Phil-Hellenic Club was founded twenty-three years ago by the late Professor George M. Chase, and is one of the oldest organizations on campus. The members are selected from those among the undergraduates who have shown prominent interest and ability in the study of Greek language, civilization, and literature. Its interest lies in the maintenance of appreciation for the Greek poeple, their history and literature, both ancient and modern. To help this, friendly relationships have been fostered and kept with the local Greek community.

The club has always tried to combine the serious with the recreational. The annual fall cabin party, which includes a ritual service and a candle-light initiation ceremony, is followed by the year's program which takes up literary or historical topics in review, debate, or discussion. The Spring brings the Symposium, the most impressive event of the year. At this ceremony as much of the old ritual of the Greek is followed as is practical. This is the ceremonial induction of the officers for the following year. Many guests are invited and a banquet is held in the Fiske dining hall.

The social and cultural values of the Phil-Hellenic club cannot be overlooked. Greek ideals, Greek excellence in drama and art, and Greek philosophy are kept alive in an interesting and enthusiastic manner at a time when there seems to be a lessening of interest in the original Greek language and civilization. So it is that the interest in what is Greek is added to a recreational gathering of the students—a splendid opportunity for the creating of social understanding.

The Phil-Hellenic Club deeply mourns the passing of Professor George M. Chase, founder and patron for twenty three-years. To his successor, Mr. Joseph Conant, the club extends a cordial welcome.

Fifth Row: Halliwell, Norton, Sullivan, Nancy Field, Bailey, Woodward, J. Wells, McAlister, M. Sprague
Second Row: Sundlie, Gray, Tsouprakakis, Lindell, L. Clough, Kinney, Spencer, Curry
First Row: Priestley, Roth, Kelley, Dixon, Jones, Rizoulis, Aloupis, Dingley, Mills

Spofford Club

THE purpose of the Spofford Club is to develop and promote the interest of students in literature and creative writing. Its members are admitted on the basis of ability in composition. A prospective candidate submits a sample of his literary work to a committee, which brings its decisions to the Club as a whole for a vote. The group, therefore, consists of a necessarily limited number.

The monthly meetings have programs of sufficient variation for participation and planning by all members. Representative programs are talks by students, professors, and outside speakers on art; English and Negro literature; poetry; musical programs which consist of description of music such as that of Gilbert and Sullivan or representative operas, accompanied by playing of illustrative records; and the reading of student drama, followed by student-led discussion. A cabin party held yearly in the spring at Thornerag initiates the new members.

Occasionally, the meetings are held at the Women's Union, or at the home of the faculty advisor, Dr. Wright, in order that the informality and congeniality which makes this club especially delightful may be fostered.

A new plan has been tried this year. To take the place of the two former monthly meetings, the Club holds only one separately, while the other is held in conjunction with the Contributor's Group. Two other amendments to the constitution made by this year's club are the automatic appointment of the vice-president to the program chairmanship; and the abolishing of the system by which a member is dropped from the Club after three unexcused cuts. It was felt that the group would profit by having its members attend because of interest rather than compulsion.

The officers include: President, Hoosag Kajperooni '39; Vice-president, Donald Maggs '40; and Secretary-Treasurer, Ruth Robbins '39.

Second Row: Farnum, Blakely, Chase, Nahikian
First Row: Priestley, Pulsifer, Kadjperooni, Robbins, Maggs

Lawrance Chemical Society

Third Row: Sawyer, Parker, Pellicani, E. Scolnik, Braddicks, Allman
Second Row: Libby, Wilder, Riley, Erwin, R. Scolnik
First Row: Thomas, Mabee, Stewart, Mynahan, Snowe, Lawrance, Lord

THE Lawrance Chemical Society has this year, as in the past, devoted its activities to the promotion of interest among the students in the services and progress of chemistry in the modern industrial and educational world. The membership of this organization is composed entirely of students majoring in the Chemistry department, and working together as they do in such a group, they are able to reach a more complete understanding of the important phases of the field of chemistry.

At the bi-monthly meetings, students read papers on topics that deal with certain lines of research and investigation which could not possibly be discussed in the time taken for classroom lectures. A general period of discussion and questioning usually follows the reading of such a prepared paper, and in this way the members become familiar with branches of their particular field that would be impossible for them to reach in ordinary curricular activity.

This year such topics as "Patents", "The Manufacturing of Soap", and "Recent Achievements in Micro-Analysis" have been given by students. In addition a general round-table discussion on "Theory and Problems of Colloids" has proved to be very interesting and educational to all the members of the society.

During the course of the year the Lawrance Chemical Society invites professors from other departments to speak at their meetings. This year Dr. Woodcock of the Physics Department gave a very interesting talk on the science of glass blowing, while Dr. Bertocci of the Psychology Department was another guest speaker.

The Biennial Science Exhibition has been the focus of attention for the activities of chemistry majors this year. Each member of the organization has a particular project to demonstrate and explain to the general public during the exhibition. While the society is essentially a scientific organization, it is nevertheless run on a rather informal basis, and is the essence of sociability and good-fellowship.

Ramsdell Scientific Society

Third Row: Leonard, Dick, Cleveland, Sweeney, Krugelis, Marks
Second Row: Reed, F. LeClair, Clay, Larrabee, Fessenden
First Row: Hilliard, Weeks, MacNish, Perry, Martikainen, Watkins

THE Ramsdell Scientific Society aims at stimulating a greater interest in the advancement of the several sciences and the practical applications of the recent trends of science. It is composed of Junior and Senior Women who have had at least two and a half years of science and show a genuine interest in it. The club is limited in membership to twenty-five with a chance for new members in the fall and spring by initiation.

The meetings are held every two weeks, at which time reports are given by students in connection with recent scientific developments. Each year speakers are obtained from among the college professors or well known local people as well as students. The program this year included talks by Dr. Lawrance and Dr. Luci O'Connell Desaulniers. Dr. Woodcock also took the group to view the Chapel Organ and at the same time explained to them the mechanics involved and the general set-up of the organ. Trips were planned to many local points of interest such as the Central Maine General Hospital.

As a special feature of their program the members also cooperated with Lawrance Chemical and Jordan Scientific in making the Biennial Science Exhibition a success.

One of the outstanding events of the year is the banquet held in honor of Professor Ramsdell. The banquet is followed by a regular meeting at which time Professor Ramsdell speaks to the club. A tea is also held for the science professors and their wives in the Women's Union. The Union is also the scene of the initiations, which provide great amusement for the members as well as the whole student body.

Jordan Scientific Society

THE Jordan Scientific Society is an organization designed to bring the majors in the fields of mathematics, physics, biology, and geology into a congenial and educational group. Due to a marked increase in the number of students that have become interested in these various science courses, it was necessary to change the constitution of the club to provide for a total of thirty members this year.

The club functions socially with an annual initiation banquet held each spring, and in addition to this, usually enjoys a supper party at Thornerag after its final meeting. The informal but orderly manner in which the organization holds its meetings speaks in itself of goodfellowship.

The meetings during the past year have consisted of talks given by guest, faculty, and student speakers. Illustrated lectures, question and answer periods, and general discussions on scientific subjects have proved to be of utmost interest to the club members. In so far as the organization brings the majors of four scientific fields into contact, it tends, on the whole, not only to greatly broaden the outlook and scope of understanding of the individual members, but to co-relate and better co-ordinate the four scientific fields as a whole. Herein lies the chief asset of such a type of campus organization.

The Jordan Scientific Society also played a prominent part in making the Biennial Science Exhibition such a success this past winter.

Fourth Row: Bragdon, Dorman, Martin, Woodward, Quinn, Saunders, Bridges
Third Row: Oliver, Andrews, Dunlap, Kenney, Russell, Burston, Archambault, Wood
Second Row: R. Scolnik, Jewett, Johnson, Gove, Hulsizer, Purinton, Stratton, Hayden, Barney
First Row: Moser, Elliott, Malone, Lythcott, Goodell, Akers, Woodbury, MacBride, J. Fisher

The Camera Club

THE membership of the Bates Camera Club includes those undergraduates and faculty members of the college who are actively interested in photography. This year the club instituted a new feature for students interested, but entirely inexperienced in photography, particularly in dark room technique. At the beginning of each semester the club's officers conducted courses of instruction for such beginners, and as a result a basic knowledge of photography is one of the chief qualifications for membership.

At the meetings, held bi-monthly, varied programs were presented including talks and demonstrations by professors and student club members. In addition to these, talks and exhibits by local professional photographers proved to be of utmost interest. These programs were arranged by a committee headed by Trenor Goodell, Jr., '39.

Outstanding features of this year's club activities were a visit to the Tash studios, an original "Photo-Seavenger Hunt," and participation in national, state, and local photographic exhibitions. The college literary magazine this year sent out a call for photographs of artistic merit, which provided both an opportunity and stimulus for club members to do their best work. This movement led indirectly to the organization of a photo service group which supplies any desired type of photographic material to the various student publications and to the study body in general.

The most significant achievement of the Camera Club this past year was the building and equiping, by club members with the splendid co-operation of the administration, of a darkroom in East Parker Hall for the exclusive use of club members. On the whole, the activity of the Bates Camera Club this year is a favorable reflection on the growing interest and participation of the student body in the field of photography.

Third Row: Carter, Blanchard, Dunham, Wise, Moses, Parker, Cleveland
Second Row: Chaletzky, Fuller, Pratt, S. Williams, Bailey, Morse, Hubbard, Stead, Barney
First Row: Snow, Wellman, J. Davis, Purinton, Mills, Goodell, Stevens, Van Sands, Lovelace

Art Club

Second Row: J. Davis, Stifler, Fuller, E. Copeland, Adams
First Row: Winne, Howe, H. Cary, Saunders, Bliss

ALTHOUGH the Art Club is one of Bates' youngest organizations, now entering its third year, sustained interest in effort is already one of its chief points of emphasis. Each member presents monthly at least one creative project purely as a means of self-expression. These are criticized and form a group from which the most suitable are selected for public exhibition. The program of recent meetings has also followed the theme of creation for personal enjoyment; on these occasions sketching in chalk and charcoal has been in order.

Another ideal of the club is to stand as a helpful resource to the college. In this capacity members have completely re-designed the W. A. A. seal, contributed illustrations to the Garnet and Mirror, and served as advisors for the artistic merit of departmental displays in the Liberal Arts Exhibition. The club also offers a clearing house for poster work on campus. For the various types of work followed, supplies and facilities are made available through the workshops. The new men's shop recently opened in Carnegie Science Building and that for women in Hacker House.

The club endeavors to keep the enjoyment of art before the campus through subscribing to the Magazine of Art in the library. In the early spring a series of open lectures on furnishing a house in good taste was presented by Mr. J. Arthur Savage, Boston decorator who directed the re-habilitation of the Women's Union and Fiske Dining Hall.

In summary, the program of the Art Club indicates the two-fold emphasis of its ideals: to encourage creative expression and also the appreciation of art in the college.

Politics Club

Third Row: Coffin, Lowther, Nahikian, Dingley, Maggs, Farnum, Smart, O. Wheeler
Second Row: Scranton, Shepherd, Downing, Howland, Hoag, Rollins, Friedman, Gray
First Row: Pierce, Hershon, Mills, Stoehr, Curtis, Feineman, Moore, Pulsifer, Wallace

MEMBERSHIP in the Politics Club is open to high-ranking students majoring Economics, Government, History, or Sociology. It is the function of the Club to bring students of these diverse interests into stimulating contact with each other's ideas on the most natural common ground of all—current events and problems. In this sense the heart of the Club's work is "politics", though recently its programs have spread both wider and deeper than that term might suggest.

Discussion of foreign affairs has always been important; this year delegates attended both the New England Conference of International Relations Clubs at the University of New Hampshire and the Parley on American Foreign Policy at Wesleyan.

With the valuable assistance of Dr Myhrman, this year's Program Committee has sought to do three things: to get away from the classroom atmosphere and meet in the homes of professors and local students, to eliminate the "adjourn and run" psychology by having fewer but longer meetings—plus refreshments, and to replace lecturing and listening with discussion.

Students and professors have introduced for consideration such topics as "A New Constitution for the United States", "The History of History-writing", and "The Big Navy." The membership policy was revised with the goal of sorting out both the memorizers and the "joiners" and seeking out instead those with a positive interest in the work of the Club.

Dance Club

THE Dance Club is one of the newest organizations on campus and has developed rapidly since its founding three years ago. It gives an opportunity for individual grace in the art of modern dancing and serves also as a stimulation for the student body in this type of activity. The membership is limited to twenty-five, and tryouts are held each spring and fall. Because of its new affiliation with the W. A.A., the club is also sponsoring a beginner's group.

Regular meetings are held each week, at which time dance techniques are studied, with a chance also for individual interpretation under the direction of Miss Fahrenholz. Techniques include the basic principles of movement, studies of rhythm, and the exercise needed for foundational work. Upon this basis there are abstract studies of such phases of the dance as rhythm, patterns, direction and dynamics of movement, pre-classical dance forms such as the waltz, sarabande, folk dances, and Negro spirituals. All of these dances originate from ideas within the group.

The club has contributed to many of the campus programs by giving demonstrations in connection with the annual Mothers' Week-end and Physical Education Exhibitions. This year they have also performed before the Federated Women's Club of Maine in May, and will give two dances for the pageant in celebration of the 75th anniversary of the college.

The modern dance is a distinct help in developing poise and grace by learning body control and coordination. It makes a person more physically fit, as well as developing his personality, imagination, and appreciation of music.

Third Row: Barry, Veazie, Pampel, Feineman, Puranen, Hayden, McCray
Second Row: M. Brown, Reed, H. Turner, Dick, MacGregor, Kendall, Adler, Gould, Schmoyer
First Row: B. Wilson, Fish, Greenlaw

Outing Club

THE Outing Club is an undergraduate body whose purpose it is to promote informal outdoor activities and, in some cases, to provide equipment for such activities. Its membership is made up of all the students in the college and it is governed by a group of senior directors plus a larger junior body. The Club maintains cabins at Thornerag and Sabattus, sponsors mountain climbs in the fall and spring and canoe trips in the latter season. It also maintains a rink for campus skaters in the winter and provides skiis, snowshoes, and toboggans for students who need them.

This fall trips were made to Sugar Loaf, Bald Pate, and Black Mountain on successive weekends. There was an open house at Thornerag for the Freshmen in October and another for participants in the Winter Carnival on Lincoln's Birthday. Two others were held at Sabattus in the fall and on Washington's Birthday. Ample snow for the first time in several years assured the success of the 19th consecutive carnival program, February 9, 10, 11, 12, under the co-chairmanship of Roberta Smith '39 and Robert Morris '39, president of the body.

For the spring season, plans are being made for additional mountain climbs, canoe trips, and an all-college cruise on Casco Bay, an annual Memorial Day event.

Third Row: Goodspeed, J. Wells, Ireland, Andrews, Beattie, J. Morris, Crooker, Curry, Norton
Second Row: Pomeroy, Pampel, Snow, Gould, Hulsizer, H. Turner, Haskell, MacGregor, Gove
First Row: Dorman, Martikainen, Parker, Smart, R. Morris, Smith, Martin, Stockwell, J. White

Lambda Alpha

Fourth Row: C. Greenleaf, Butler, B. McGee, Andrews, Foster, Seavey, L. McGee, Ryder
Third Row: Kingston, Goss, O. Smart, Roy, Libby, Good, Hahnel, H. Greenleaf, Bertocci
Second Row: Pearson, Kuslansky, G. Hawkins, R. Hawkins, Poshkus, Greaton, Clapp, F. LeClair, Walins, Barry, Field
First Row: Stevens, Larrabee, Hershon, Rowe, Stoehr, Allen, Lewis, Clark, Edwards, Wagg

THE organization known as Lambda Alpha is made up of Bates women who live off-campus and are therefore to a certain extent cut off from the more informal contacts of college life. Its purpose is the establishment of a point of contact between off-campus women and the college as a whole, the promotion of a feeling of unity among its members and the development of common interests among the town women and those who live in the dormitories.

Lambda Alpha has its meetings on the first Friday of every month in the Town Room, a room in Hathorn Hall decorated and furnished for the convenience of the town women through the club treasury and through funds generously donated by the Alumnae Club. The organization of the club consists of a president, vice-president, and secretary, and a council composed of the three officers, one representative from the three upperclasses, and two representatives from the Freshman class. The president of the organization represents the town women on the Student Government Board.

There are many social events planned by the society throughout the year: a Freshman party at Thorncrag, a Christmas party, a coeducational treasure hunt and cabin party, a farewell party for the seniors, and most important and popular, the Lambda Alpha Christmas Tea Dance. This Tea Dance, which is held at Chase Hall, is one of the most pleasant events on the college calendar. The committee in charge of the affair this year included Patience Hershon '39, chairman, Ruth Allen '39, Annette Barry '40, Jean Ryder '41, and Jane Seavey '42. All Lambda Alpha affairs are under the guidance of Miss Mabel Eaton, and through the efforts of the Lambda Alpha council and its advisor the off-campus women enjoy a program of varied activity of interest and value to themselves and the college.

Winter Carnival

THE nineteenth annual Winter Carnival of the Bates Outing Club was one of the most successful in recent years. Under the co-direction of Roberta Smith, '39 and Bob Morris, '39, it offered many attractions for exam-riddled Betty and Benny Bates.

Because of the abundance of snow, the inter-dorm sculptoring competition reached a new high with East Parker's Dinosaur winning the top prize and Hacker House's fine version of the Gloucester Fisherman coming in second. Others that attracted particular attention were Rand Hall's Pirate and Milliken House's Ferdinand the Bull, complete with sweet-smelling flowers.

Mid-Carnival saw the various games and contests run off according to schedule. The all-college skate under colored lights to the accompaniment of recorded music climaxed an enjoyable evening that was begun with a basketball victory over Bowdoin's Independents. The Off-campus teams, both ed and co-ed, walked off with the main honors in the inter-dorm competition. The slopes of Mt. David proved bigger obstacles than the barrels and hurdles on Rand Field as racers vied for the giant lollypop awaiting the winners on the summit.

The final day saw the conclusion of the ski meet with Maine and the annual Carnival Hop, fast developing into one of the most popular dances of the year. The dancers were ruled by Queen Barbara Kendall, '39 while the Bobcats swung out a de luxe version of their Saturday night rhythms.

Springtime

"IN THE spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to what the girls have been thinking about all winter—and incidentally, that isn't Chemistry." —William Benjamin Thomas, Ph. D.

Professor, that's no lie. Just as soon as those co-eds get rid of that "code id da head" they declare an open season on men and even a hole in a stone-wall is no safe hiding place. (Photographic evidence, lower right)

But seriously, if you can survive the co-eds, head colds, and slush, you'll enjoy Springtime at Bates. Even the most unpoetic among us cannot fail to apreciate the beauties of the surrounding country, especially from certain vantage points on Mount David and the riverbank. And then there are cabin parties and field trips whereon one can learn the gentle art of eating clams (Lower left).

In mid-May comes the mayoralty campaign, won last year by the Man Mountain from Massachusetts, Joe Simonetti, after he had completed a thrilling rescue from blazing Parker Hall. If you are still bored, we leave you the tennis courts, some golf, track, baseball, and softball (even the faculty has a team), and just plain walking. An all-college cruise on Casco Bay polishes off the year on Memorial Day (lower center).

Of course you can study too.

Science Exhibit

THE 14th Science Exhibition of Bates College was held on February 23 and 24 at the Carnegie Science Building and the Hedge Laboratory. This exposition was under the supervision of the Jordan Scientific Society, the Lawrance Chemical Society, and the Ramsdell Scientific Society. These three scientific groups wish to express their appreciation for the cooperation and interest shown by the following faculty members in making the exhibit possible: Dr. Lloyd W. Fisher, Dr. Walter A. Lawrance, Dr. Fred C. Mabee, Dr. Fred E. Pomeroy, Prof. George E. Ramsdell, Dr. William H. Sawyer Jr., Dr. William B. Thomas, Dr. William R. Whitehorne, Professor Percy D. Wilkins, and Dr. Karl S. Woodcock.

Outstanding individual exhibits which were received with great approval by many of the spectators were the Embryology exhibit of the Biology Department under the supervision of George I. Lythcott '39 and Robert G. Maebride '39, the Historical and Physical Geology exhibit as prepared by Robert Elliot '39 and George Russell '40, the Electrical Discharge in Vacuum Exhibit on Research Chemistry organized by Bradley T. Lord '39 and Lucy P. Perry '39.

Each of the five science departments had the following men as chairmen of their respective departments: Chairman of the Department of Biology Exhibit—Robert F. Malone '39, Co-Chairmen of the Department of Geology—Donald R. Purinton '39 and Joseph O. Fisher '39, Chairman of the Department of Mathematics—Gilman McDonald '39 and Chairman of the Department of Chemistry—Bradley T. Lord '39.

Liberal Arts Exhibit

ON THURSDAY evening, March twenty-third of this year, the first Bates Liberal Arts Exhibition was officially inaugurated by the liberal arts students of the College.

During that evening, a large number of students, prospective students, high-school students, and a large number of other guests were able to see in reality the successful fulfillment of the purpose of the Exhibit: namely, to present in graphic form and to acquaint students and others with the aims of and progress made by the Bates students in the eighteen liberal arts departments and extra-curricular activities which participated. There were shown in addition to many of the regular activities included in the College program, a wealth of special projects, assigned and carried out for the specific purpose of exhibition, thereby giving students the opportunity to investigate many phases of some subject which especially interests them.

Included among the highlights of the evening's program were continuous educational motion pictures, programs of fine music by the various music clubs, a fast-moving one-act play by the Dramatic group, progressive steps in the production of campus publications by the Student and the Buffoon, novel reaction-testing apparatus by the Experimental Psychology division, graphic illustrations of price-fixing by the Economics department, and exhibitions and active demonstrations of varied forms of art by the Fine Arts section.

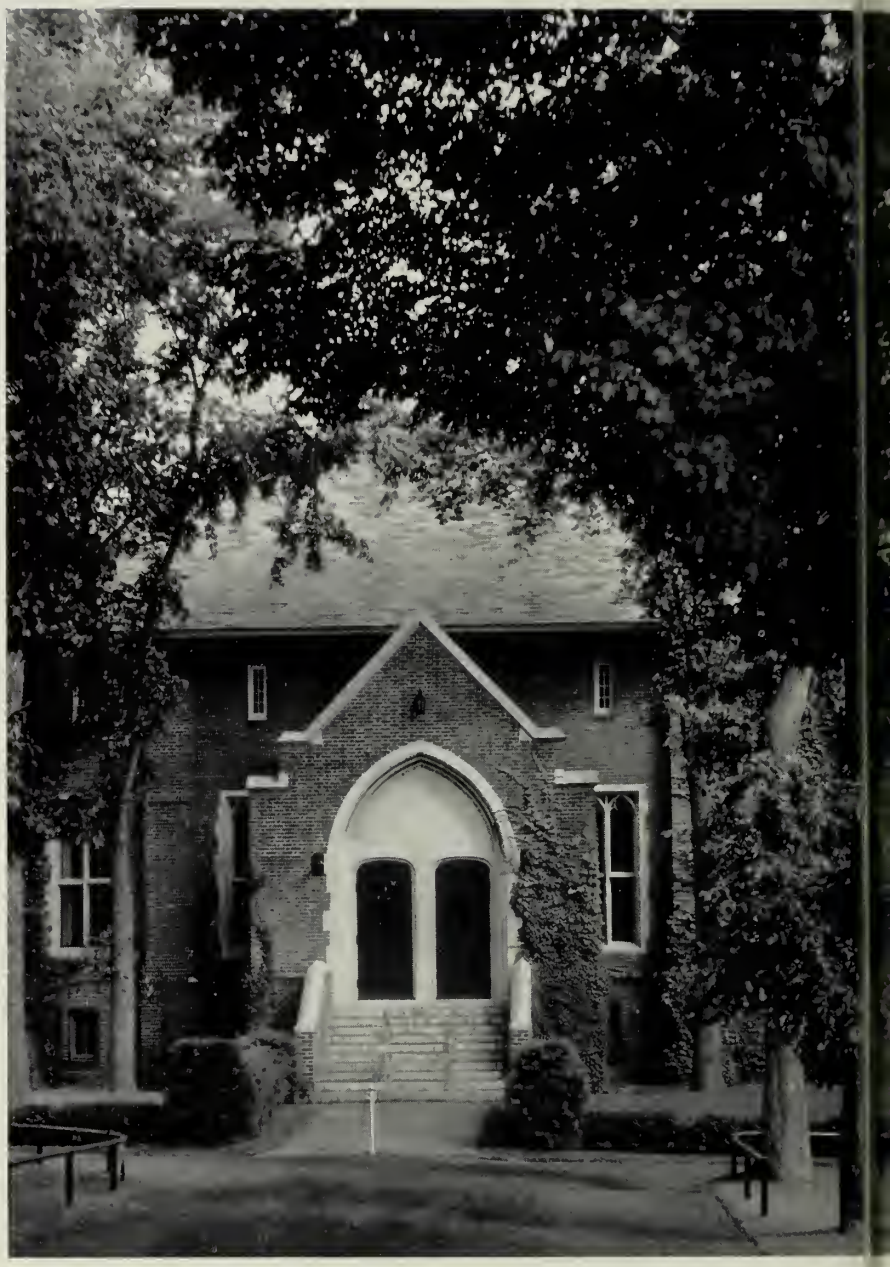
The regular departments which participated in the Exhibition are: Economics, English, Fine Arts, French, Human Geography, German, Government, Greek, History, Psychology, Religion, Sociology. The extra-curricular groups, publications, and clubs who took part are: The Bates Buffoon, the Bates Mirror, Dramatics, the Bates Student, the Art Club, and the various music clubs.



ATHLETICS

Varsity Football

FROM a statistical viewpoint, the football squad this past year was scarcely a success. As a matter of fact, the record book shows that Bates could annex only two victories in a schedule of seven games. But the book does not tell of an inexperienced group of men who improved rapidly under the tutelage of Coach Dave Morey to pull one of the biggest upsets of local football history. This game was the feature of the whole season, even dwarfing by comparison the fact that the Garnet narrowly missed nailing a tie for the state championship, which has not come to the Bobcat's lair for nine years.

The game took place on Garcelon Field on Back-to-Bates weekend, October 29th, when the Bowdoin Polar Bear, seeking its fourth straight state title and still undefeated, was repulsed by the convincing margin of 21–0. It was the first time an Adam Walsh-coached team was beaten in four years of state series play.

The Bobcat completed a scoring drive immediately after the opening kick-off. The famous "Nightmare special," which saw tackle Roy Briggs passing to Austin Briggs after some fine ball-handling in the backfield, put the Garnet in a position to score. After a few running plays, Jim O'Sullivan snagged a twelve yard pass from Art Belliveau in the end zone for the first touchdown. Mike Buccigross drop-kicked the extra point. Bowdoin's only real bid for a score came when Boyd Legate's sixty yard return of a punt for a score was nullified by a holding penalty.

Third Row: W. Briggs, O'Sullivan, Pomeroy, Cooper, Topham, Witty, Connon, Tilton, Kilgore, Edminster, Andrews, Bogdanowicz
Second Row: R. Briggs, Haberland, Canavan, Reid, Clough, Goodell, A. Briggs, Wilder, Nichols, Moser, Crooker
First Row: Plaisted, Beattie, Peck, Simonetti, Tardiff, Gorman, Belliveau, Buccigross, Glover

In the second half, the Garnet completely dominated the play. Austin Briggs scored over his own left tackle in the third period after a long drive up the field and O'Sullivan again caught a pass for the conversion. The entire Bates line played without substitution until after the last touchdown, just minutes before the final gun. This score came on a pass from Austin Briggs to Art Belliveau. Norm Tardiff converted from placement.

A victory over Colby on Armstice Day would have meant at least a tie for the state title, and for a while, it seemed as though the rooting of the Garnet stands would be justified. The Bobcat led by two touchdowns at the intermission, thanks to some fine running by Art Belliveau and Austin Briggs, and a great pass catch by Roger Nichols. The first two did the scoring and Buccigross converted the seventh point. After this, the Colby aerial attack began to click, and this, added to fact that the Bates attack was handicapped by injuries to Belliveau and Gorman, enabled the Blue to triumph, 21–13.

Before the college year opened, a green, graduation-riddled Bobcat came out of his training Camp Wonalancet, in N. H., to take a 46–0 whipping from a Dartmouth squad that was one of the best in the East. Distinct improvement was shown in the first home game, which was lost to New Hampshire, 22–6. The line first showed promise in the Northeastern game a week later when the Huskies were able to eke out only a 6–0 victory on a disputed touchdown. Little Arnold provided the fodder for the first win of the year just before the state series. The score was 26–2.

Almost the entire college traveled by special train to Orono to see the Bobcats balked by the Black Bear from the state university, 23–6. Then came the Bowdoin and Colby games.

Bates men named to various all-state elevens were co-captains Gus Clough and Austin Briggs, Captain-elect Charlie Crooker, Sam Glover, Mike Buccigross, and Art Belliveau. Other seniors who made their letters were Oran Moser, Joe Canavan, Jim Reid, Roger Nichols, Art Wilder, and Roy Haberland.

SUMMARY:

Date				Opponents
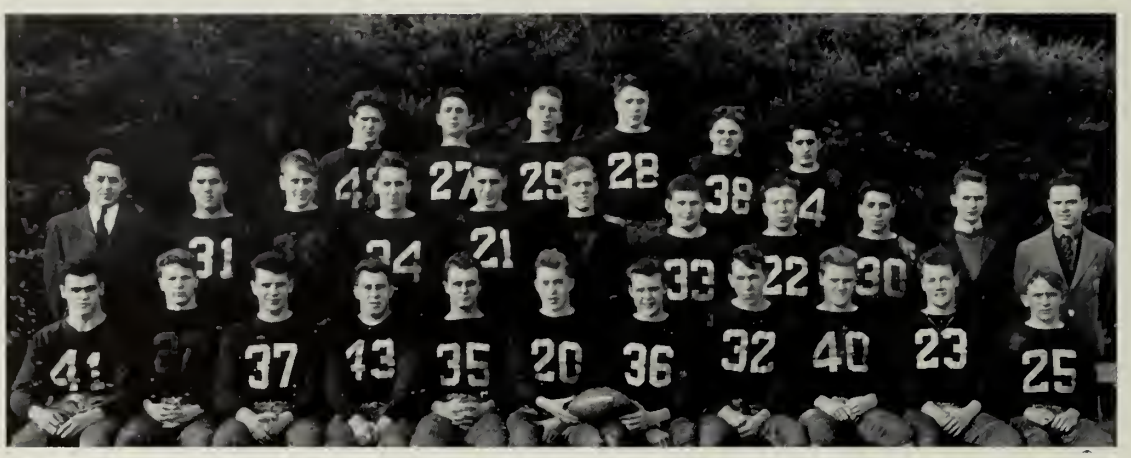
Sept.	24	Bates	0	Dartmouth	46
Oct.	1	Bates	6	New Hampshire	22
Oct.	8	Bates	0	Northeastern	6
Oct.	15	Bates	26	Arnold	2
Oct.	22	Bates	6	Maine	23
Oct.	29	Bates	21	Bowdoin	0
Nov.	11	Bates	13	Colby	21

Freshman Football



Third Row: Flanagan, McSherry, Sandblom, White, Hervey, Fortini
Second Row: Spinks, Matragrano, Tierney, Ayers, MacIntosh, Jewell, Levin, Goldenberg, Gianquinto, Avery, Snow
First Row: Parmenter, Wentzell, Sigsbee, Lerette, Malone, James, Nickerson, Johnson, Francis, J. Scott, Connor

DISPLAYING plenty of line power and several fast hard-running baeks, the elass of 1942's gridiron representatives managed to romp to two high-seoring wins while dropping only one close decision during the 1938 season. The competition presented to the Bobkittens was not too strong in some respects and, as a result, Coaeh Spinks was able to use every man on the squad and 26 Frosh were able to earn their numerals.

In the opening game against Kents Hill, the yearlings showed plenty of power and dominated the play from the opening kickoff until late in the last period, when the prep sehool team rallied to sneak in the victory, 13-6. There were no weak moments in the seeond game, however, and the Frosh easily overpowered Cushing Aeademy, 18-6, after Bud Malone had tallied on the fifth play of the game.

The entire Garnet squad saw serviee in the final contest, which was a erushing vietory over New Hampton Academy, 36–6. Only in the elosing minutes under the eover of darkness were the prepsters able to score.

The list of numeral winners follows: Ayers, Connor, Flanagan, Fortini, Franeis, Gianquinto, Goldenberg, Hervey, James, Jewel, Johnson, Lerette, Levin, MacIntosh, MeSherry, Malone, Matragrano, Nickerson, Parmenter, Sandblom, Seott, Sigsbee, Tierney, Wentzell, White.

SUMMARY

Freshmen	6	Kents Hill	13
Freshmen	18	Cushing	6
Freshmen	36	New Hampton	6

Varsity Cross Country

Third Row: Dingley, Mabee, Sigsbee, Paine, Nickerson, Thompson
Second Row: Hoag, Foster, Quigley, Graichen, O'Shaughnessy, J. Howarth
First Row: Rollins, Shepherd, Bridges, Wallace, Coffin, Downing

THE varsity harriers were unfortunate in having a very fine team at the same time that the University of Maine had a slightly superior squad. The squad was composed of a group of veterans with the addition of two pleasant surprises—the return of Fred Downing to school and the consistent running of newcomer Frank Coffin.

The hill and dalers swept through their dual meets with Colby, Bowdoin, and Northeastern with Don Bridges showing the way. Bridges broke the Bates course record when the team defeated Bowdoin by a perfect score. The University of Maine downed Bates in the State Meet, but Bates came back strong to be barely edged out by Maine in the New England Cross Country championship.

Don Bridges came through with a splendid performance in climaxing his career as a harrier for the Garnet in the New England meet. Bridges placed third behind Smith of Maine and Atkinson of Tufts in a field of over a hundred. The splendid condition that the Garnet cross country men finished in was remarked upon by rival coaches. In spite of the hot weather not a Bates man finished in bad shape after the grueling run, while other runners were collapsing all around the finish. Dana Wallace was the second Bates runner to finish, and he crossed the line in twelfth position.

SUMMARY

Oct.	7	Bates	18	At Colby	41
Oct.	15	At Bates	22	Northeastern	36
Oct.	21	At Bates	15	Bowdoin	46
		State Meet at Bates
Oct.	28	Maine	24	Bates	35
		Colby 76
		New Englands at Boston
Nov.	7	Maine	90	Bates	96

Freshman Cross Country

Third Row: Fisher, Turadien, MacKenzie, R. Thompson
Second Row: Child, Dietz, R. Baldwin, Damon, Chaisson, Driscoll
First Row: Lloyd, Gulbrandsen, J. Thompson, Tuller, Boone

THE freshman cross country team of the class of 1942 was a precedent shattering aggregation. While the freshman cross country teams of the past three years had been undefeated, this year's squad did not emerge victoriously from any meet.

The reason for the disastrous season was that none of the freshman harrier candidates were experienced, while in the past several of the members of each year's team had been experienced runners who had competed on high school and prep school teams.

While there were no stars, a number of the hill and dalers gave a good account of themselves and seemed to improve with each successive meet. It does not seem as if any of these runners are headed for varsity positions next year, but some may surprise as they gain needed experience, and with a year more of distance work behind them, several are sure to develop into valuable assets to the varsity squad.

SUMMARY

Oct. 14	Freshmen	42	Lisbon High School	17
Oct. 21	Freshmen	46	Deering High School	15
Oct. 25	Freshmen	64	Scarboro	55
			Wilton	18
Oct. 27	Freshmen	48	Lisbon Falls	15
Nov. 1	Freshmen	74	Monmouth	38
			Portland High School	18

Varsity Basketball

THE SECOND YEAR of varsity intercollegiate basketball after its resumption was not as successful in the view of games won and lost as was last year's team. However, the squad seemed to be dogged by hard luck all season. Three games were lost by the scanty margin of one point, and two games were decided by three point margins with the Garnet ending up on the wrong side of the ledger in every case. The members of the team were very short in nearly every case compared to the average height of the college players that they encountered. Yet speed, aggressiveness, and good shooting enabled them to be a threat in nearly every game.

The team was led by high scorer Johnny Woodbury who was co-captain along with Bill Crosby. Woodbury was one of the leading scorers of the state although he was handicapped by an injured ankle and was kept out of several games by a broken hand. Crosby was converted from a guard to bolster the forward positions and displayed his versatility as he fitted into his new position capably. Other seniors on the varsity squad were Audie Briggs and Art Wilder. The team was composed of veterans from last year's squad, other members being Brud Witty, who was a stonewall on defenee, and Howie Kenney who teamed up with Witty to form a classy guard duo. Woodbury, Vie Stover, and Ray Cool alternated at center, while Art Belliveau, Harry Gorman, and Crosby held down the forward positions. Wilder, Briggs, and Pete Haskell assisted Kenney and Witty in the backeourt. After mid-years Hugh McLaughlin and Dean Lambert were promoted to the varsity from the Freshman team. Although the loss of the four seniors will be severely felt, promising freshmen and junior varsity material augurs well for a successful season next year.

On the first trip away the team was first defeated by a tall aggregation at Tufts College by a seore of 54 to 32. Then on successive nights the Garnet were downed by Worcester Polytech 51 to 39; Williams College 43 to 31; and Assumption College by a score of 32 to 27. The team seemed to improve with eaeh suecessive start and Johnny Woodbury furnished the scoring punch.

Third Row: Raftery, Jobrack, Jennings, Braddocks, McCue, Jameson, Tapper, Millerick
Second Row: Gorman, W. Davis, W. Briggs, E. Witty, H. Boothby, Haskell, Tilton, Whitten
First Row: Tardiff, Cool, Kenney, Woodbury, Crosby, Wilder, Stover, Belliveau

The first home game on January fourth against M. I. T. was a thriller all of the way. M. I. T.'s classy passing attack sent them out into the lead at the start, but the fight and speed of the Garnet enabled them to pull up on even terms, only to lose by the margin of a foul shot with the final score standing at 39 to 38. On a visit to the University of New Hampshire superior height again told the story as the Bates court men bowed 58 to 42. Again at Amherst the "Lord Jeffs" outshot the Garnet and won by a score of 52 to 30.

When the state series started Bates luck was again a negative quantity as the Garnet not only lost the first game by one point, 31 to 30, but also lost the services of co-captain Johnny Woodbury because of a broken hand. Another close game ended up the wrong way for Bates when Northeastern took a decision by a score of 59 to 56. Harry Gorman blossomed forth in his form of last year when he put the basket through the hoop for twenty five points. Bates lost another thriller to Maine by a score of 41 to 40, but came back to annex a victory at the expense of the Bowdoin Independents by the overwhelming score of 51 to 25. The University of Maine downed Bates in the first decisive state series game of the season by a score of 50 to 31. Colby put Bates in the cellar of the state series by defeating the Garnet 46 to 43, but placed second to Maine in the final tabulation. In the Colby game Brud Witty, who had been a strong bulwark in taking the ball off the backboard and on defence all season, showed a good eye for the basket in scoring ten points. In the final game of the season the Garnet hoopsters claimed their second victory after downing the Bowdoin Indies by a score of 56–46.

THE VARSITY RECORD

Date		Opponents
Dec. 16	Bates 32	Tufts	54
Dec. 17	Bates 39	Worcester Polytech	51
Dec. 19	Bates 31	Williams	43
Dec. 20	Bates 27	Assumption College	32
Jan. 4	Bates 38	M. I. T.	39
Jan. 10	Bates 42	N. H. U.	58
Jan. 11	Bates 30	Amherst	52
Jan. 14	Bates 30	Colby	31
Jan. 19	Bates 56	Northeastern U.	59
Jan. 21	Bates 40	Maine	41
Feb. 10	Bates 51	Bowdoin	25
Feb. 15	Bates 31	Maine	50
Feb. 22	Bates 43	Colby	46
Feb. 25	Bates 56	Bowdoin	46

THE JAYVEE RECORD

Dec. 15	Bates 22	Farmington State Teachers	29
Jan. 11	Bates 32	Hebron	62
Jan. 18	Bates 31	Kents Hill	52
Jan. 21	Bates 20	Portland Junior College	43
Jan. 27	Bates 21	Coburn Classical	60
Feb. 15	Bates 37	Bridgton Academy	53
Feb. 18	Bates 48	Portland Junior College	53
Feb. 22	Bates 28	Freshmen	37

Freshman Basketball

Third Row: Hervey, S. Williams, McCormack, Baker, Fortini
Second Row: Knight, Francis, N. Johnson, Hill, Boulter, James
First Row: Driscoll, Flanagan, McLaughlin, Wentzell, Gianquinto, Sandblom, Aucoin

THE freshman basketball team started slowly but showed steady improvement as the season was highlighted by vietories over Deering and South Portland, two strong high school teams. MacLaughlin and Dean Lambert were promoted to the varsity squad after mid-years, and several other men should prove to be valuable varsity material in future years.

There was a great deal of shifting before a winning combination was found. Forwards who saw serviee were MeSherry, Driscoll, Hervey, Aueoin, and Wentzell. Centers were Lambert, Johnson and James. The guard positions were held down by MaeLaughlin, Flanagan, Sandblom, and Gianquinto. The members of the team gained keen satisfaetion in downing the junior varsity by a seore of 37 to 28, in the season's finale, sinee there had been considerable rivalry between the two squads all season.

THE SEASON'S RECORD

Date			Opponents
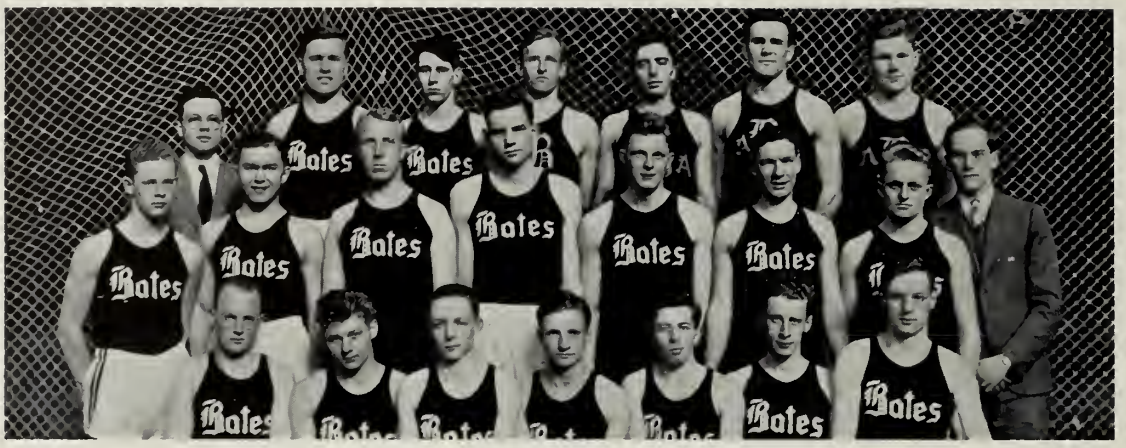
Dec. 15	Freshmen	23	Lewiston High	39
Jan. 7	Freshmen	20	Lewiston High	30
Jan. 11	Freshmen	15	Bridgton Academy	37
Jan. 19	Freshmen	42	South Portland	35
Jan. 21	Freshmen	29	Kents Hill	41
Jan. 27	Freshmen	34	Deering High	26
Feb. 18	Freshmen	37	Hebron Academy	54
Feb. 22	Freshmen	37	Junior Varsity	28

Varsity Track



Third Row: Child, Bogdanowicz, O'Shaughnessy, Graichen, J. Howarth, Crooker, Andrews
Second Row: Drury, S. Morris, Hibbard, Coorssen, Maggs, Shannon, Holmes, Dingley
First Row: Foster, Rollins, Shepherd, Pierce, Wallace, Bridges, Downing

THE high point of the Varsity Indoor Track season was an overwhelming victory over Colby's track forces early in the year. The season opened with a dual meet against Northeastern, after the Junior Class had walked away with the honors in the Christmas relays and the Interclass Meet. Northeastern won this meet held on January 21 by a score of $37\frac{1}{2}$ to $61\frac{2}{3}$. One of the features of the day was the high jumping of Miles of Northeastern who leaped six feet and five inches to a new Maine record. The outstanding performances from the Bates point of view were Bridges' victory in the two mile run, Holmes' first place in the pole vault, Russell's winning shot put, and a Garnet sweep of the thirty-five pound weight by Connon, Andrews, and Bogdanowicz respectively.

On January twenty-eighth a Bates two-mile relay team competed in the K. of C Games at Boston. The team composed of Don Bridges, Al Rollins, Dana Wallace, and Harry Shepherd placed third in a field that included Northeastern University, Boston College, Holy Cross, and New Hampshire University. The relayers again trekked to Boston for the B. A. A. Relays and the Varsity one mile team of Tom O'Shaughnessy, Schwerdt Morris, Dwight Quigley, and Harry Shepherd turned in a winning performance by defeating Mass. State and Colby College in the time of 3:36.5.

Colby came to Bates on February 18, and were turned away with an $86\frac{5}{6}$ to $30\frac{1}{6}$ defeat. One of the most thrilling events of this meet was the tie in the 600-yard run between Al Rollins and Harry Shepherd. Mal Holmes upset Johnny Daggett in the pole vault, and George Coorssen came through with a first in the hurdles and seconds in the high jump and broad jump. Don Webster, who had just returned to school, placed first in the high jump.

In their next meet the Garnet track men were defeated at Bowdoin $79\frac{1}{2}$ to $37\frac{1}{2}$. Bates highlights in this meet were Frank Coffin's winning the two mile run, Dana Wallace turning in a 4:35 mile to cop that event, and Don Webster's six foot jump in the high jump. The weight events were run off in the afternoon and the jumping and running events were held in the evening for this meet.

The last intercollegiate meet of the indoor season was held on March fourth when the Garnet track team met the University of Maine at Orono. Maine won this meet by the score of 74 to 43. Bates won only two first places, one when Schwerdt Morris pulled a surprise by coming through in the 300-yard dash, and the other was Don Webster's six foot performance in the high jump to down McCarthy of Maine. Although Bates only garnered two firsts in this meet they took many seconds and thirds, and one reason that Dana Wallace did not take a first in the mile run was Don Smith's outstanding time of $4:19\frac{2}{5}$ in that event.

The indoor season closed with the Freshmen downing the Sophomores in a close battle that saw Coorssen of the Sophomores take first in the hurdles, high jump, and broad jump, while Sigsbee of the Freshmen scored twenty-three points in winning places in the shot, discus, pole vault, 40-yard dash, and the broad jump.

SUMMARY

Date
Jan. 7	Interclass Meet—Juniors 68, Sophomores 36, Freshmen 33, Seniors 16
Jan. 21	Bates	$37\frac{1}{3}$	Northeastern	$61\frac{2}{3}$
Jan. 28	K. of C. Games at Boston
Feb. 11	B. A. A. Relays (Mile Team First, Two Mile Team Third)
Feb. 18	Bates	$86\frac{5}{6}$	Colby	$30\frac{1}{6}$
Feb. 24	Bates	$37\frac{1}{2}$	Bowdoin	$79\frac{1}{2}$
Mar. 4	Bates	43	U. of Maine	74
Mar. 11	Freshmen	$58\frac{1}{2}$	Sophomores	$49\frac{1}{2}$

Second Row: Dingley, O'Saughnessy, Bridges, Pierce, Thompson
First Row: Rollins, Shepherd, Wallace, S. Morris

Freshman Track

THIS YEAR'S Freshman track team brought forth several stars that should be of material aid to the varsity squad next year. The team lost only one meet this year, besides the interclass meet, and that to a powerful Bowdoin Freshman squad by a score of 61 to 47. John Sigsbee was one of the outstanding men on the team and he usually emerged as the high scorer of each meet. Sigsbee frequently threw the discus farther than varsity distances, and also was a consistent winner in the shot put. There was keen rivalry between Sigsbee and Paine in the 40-yard dash, with the two men usually alternating as winners, and Sigsbee was the only pole vaulter for the Freshmen.

Bob Paine shone in the sprints and turned in particularly fine time in the 300-yard dash. His time in this event was 33 seconds flat against Bowdoin Frosh. Irving Mabee pushed Paine in the 300-yard sprint and turned in excellent times in the 600-yard run. Dave Nickerson starred in the 1000 and 600 yard runs, while Parmenter, a good weight man, turned in courageous performances in the mile, turning in a 4:49$\frac{1}{5}$ mile against Maine yearlings. There are several other good men who aided in making the track team for the class of 1942 enjoy a highly successful season.

SUMMARY

Date		Opponents
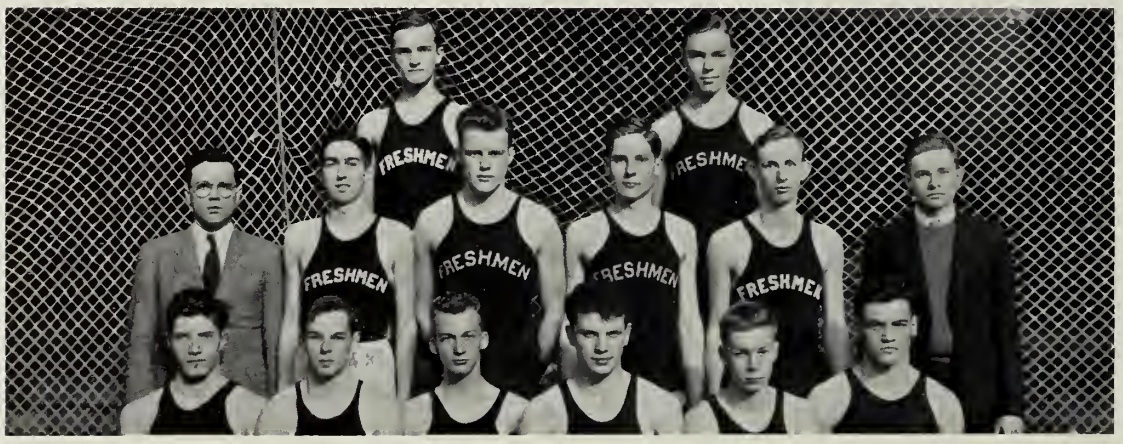
Jan. 7	Interclass Meet	(Freshmen Third)
Jan. 14	Freshmen 58	Thornton Academy	50
Jan. 19	Freshmen 58	South Portland	50
Jan. 27	Freshmen 64	Deering	31
Feb. 11	B. A. A. Relays	(Freshmen defeated B. U. and Northeastern in Mile Relay)
Feb. 18	Freshmen 67$\frac{2}{3}$	Colby Freshmen	39$\frac{1}{3}$
Feb. 24	Freshmen 47	Bowdoin Freshmen	61
Mar. 4	Freshmen 62	U. of Me. Freshmen	46
Mar. 11	Freshmen 58$\frac{1}{2}$	Sophomores	49$\frac{1}{2}$



Third Row: Lloyd, Tuller
Second Row: Child, Harvey, Nickerson, Fisher, Dietz, Bragdon
First Row: E. Boothby, Paine, Mabee, Sigsbee, Damon, Parmenter

Swimming

Second Row: Ayres, Daikus, O'Sullivan, Roscoe, Harrington, Bracken, R. Curtis, W. White, Levin
First Row: D. Williams, Anderson, Hulsizer, Zeigler, J. White, Dorman, Goodspeed, H. White

THE swimming team, with the second varsity team in the history of the college and the first team to be entered in the New England association, ended up the season with the creditable record of five victories and four defeats. This schedule included three intercollegiate meets.

The first meet was with Hebron Academy, January 21st, at the Auburn "Y", which the Bates team used throughout the season as their home pool, and was won by the collegians, 39 to 27. The team then journeyed to the Portland Boys' Club where they won, 40 to 26. A meet with the Portland "Y" in Auburn followed and Bates won, 41 to 25. At the Hebron pool, the scene of the next meet, the Garnet mermen won their fourth straight, 36 to 30.

In the first meet with intercollegiate events, the Portland Boys' Club team upset the college natators in the Auburn pool, 38 to 37, in a close meet throughout. Bowdoin at Brunswick was the next opposition and the Polar Bears lived up to their environment to drown the Bates team, 56 to 19.

For the first time in two years of meets, the team traveled out of state to Boston where they met M. I. T. in the University Club pool February 25th. Though the Garnet team led up to the final event, the Engineers won the free style relay to finish ahead, 39 to 36.

The second of the two Bowdoin meets was held March 1st, in the Auburn pool and this was not the runaway that the first was. Coach White's men came much closer in this one but lost, 43 to 32. Finally, the team traveled to the Portland "Y" to win, 38 to 28, and close the dual-meet season.

Outstanding men under Coach Harold S. White's tutelage this past season included his son, Captain John White, the only senior on the team, in the back stroke; John Anderson '41 in the breast stroke, Earle Zeigler '40 and Hamilton Dorman '40 in the free style sprints, and Harold Goodspeed '40 and Warner Bracken '41 in the longer swims. John Daikus '41 and Robert Hulsizer '40 swam in a variety of events while James O'Sullivan '41 was the leading diver. With so many underclassmen on the team, prospects look very good for next year.

Ski Team

Third Row: Beattie, Millerick, R. Thompson, Quimby, Oberst, J. Davis
Second Row: Snow, H. Robinson, Tierney, Fisher, Durgin
First Row: Sibley, Snowe, Ireland, Lever, J. Thompson

FOR the first time since the revival of the sport on an inter-collegiate basis, the Garnet Ski Team had sufficient snow for carrying on several meets. In all three competitions in which the Garnet skiiers were entered they were outscored by competitors from the University of Maine. The first encounter was a dual meet on Mount David, February 11th, and was one of the highlights of the Winter Carnival. Bates' only first place in the contest was in the downhill run by Bob Ireland '40.

A squad of eight men, Bill Lever '41, Paul Quimby '42, Bob Ireland '40, Ken Snowe '39, Lewis Keene '42, John Sibley '41, Julian Thompson '42, and Dick Thompson '41, went to the state meet at Orono, February 22nd, and placed second to the State University while Bowdoin and Colby were almost shut out.

Coach Durgin took the two Thompsons, Quimby, Ireland, and Lever to Norwich University for the Intercollegiate Ski Union Meet just two days later. The Garnet squad, paced by an Ireland victory in the slalom, placed fourth in the Class B division, which again was won by the University of Maine.

The team was handicapped by injuries to Tom Reiner '39, and Dick Thompson '41, which forced the former out of competition altogether. Next year's prospects are brighter than ever since only Reiner and Snowe will be lost to the squad.

Golf Team

AS a new intercollegiate sport this year, the college will have a golf team this spring for the first time in its history. While this will not be an official sport, it will be informally sponsored by the college and will compete in turn with the other three colleges in the state and then in a state tourney at Augusta to close the season.

Members of the team will have available for practice the Riverdale Country Club and for a change in courses previous to matches, Manager Gus Clough, leading proponent of the team, has obtained permission for the team to practice at the Martindale Country Club in Auburn.

If the sport becomes a success this season, it is entirely probable that the college will next year have an official team with a complete schedule with outside colleges as well as those in the state. Because of the newness of the sport, all matches are to be played away from home.

Coach Buck Spinks will act as faculty advisor and coach for the team. Men who are expected to be among the leading candidates for his team include seniors Gus Clough, captain and manager, Arthur Ordway, Ken Milligan; juniors, Ray Cool, Del Witty, John McCue, Harold Goodspeed, Jim Pellicani; sophomores, Bill Lever, Joe Shannon, George Coorssen; freshmen, Bill Gross and George Cramm.

According to present ratings and knowledge Bowdoin and Maine are expected to be the two strongest teams in the state with Colby and Bates in about the same class. Judging from their past records, Bill Lever, who plays regularly in the summer for Riverdale, Gus Clough, who has competed at Martindale, together with Ray Cool should provide the backbone of the club. The complete schedule follows:

May 9	Bowdoin at Brunswick
May 12	Maine at Orono
May 20	Colby at Waterville
May 26-7	State Tournament at Augusta

Second Row: Langerman, Pellicani, Ordway, Cool, Coorssen
First Row: Goodspeed, Shannon, Clough, McCue, Cram

Baseball

WITH a gap in only one position due to graduation, Coach Morey has an all-veteran baseball club which may come through to snatch the State Series title. The 1938 ball club lost the pennant by only a half a game, and the entire club is back except for the catcher.

This year's club may come through where last year's failed for several reasons. First, for the first time in three years, Coach Morey has a really large, potentially capable mound staff to choose from. With eleven pitchers and eleven catchers working out in the cage, and with quite a few strong possibilities in that group, the Garnet pastimers might have the strongest batteries in this year's Series.

Another possible reason for a successful season lies in the strong Freshmen candidates pressing last year's incumbents for starting honors.

The slight changes in schedule will also help the Bobcats in that there is ample space provided to play off postponed games. The last two diamond clubs to represent Bates have been hurt by cancelled games.

With so many pitchers and catchers, two strong infields, and good outfield reserves, Bates will be able to put a strong Junior Varsity group on the field this year, and it will play against several prep schools in the neighborhood.

Third Row: Goldenberg, McLoughlin, Matragrano
Second Row: Morey, A. Briggs, N. Johnson, J. Thompson, Webster, E. Witty, R. Thompson, Mills
First Row: Buccigross, Hervey, Jameson, H. Thompson, Bergeron, Malone, W. Johnson, O'Sullivan, Bellivean

The Team:

Pitchers: A. Briggs '39; R. Malone '39; E. Witty '41; W. Lord '40; Whitten '41; Webster '41; H. Boothby '41; Wark '40; Matragrano '42; McLaughlin '42; J. Thompson '42.

Catchers: O'Sullivan '41; Jameson '41; Topham '41; Francis '42; Goldenberg '42; W. Briggs '40; Stiles '42; R. Baldwin '42; McCormack '42; Neice '41.

First Base: Bergeron '39; Lever '41; Haskell '41.

Second Base: Tardiff '40; Hervey '42; Flanagan '42.

Short Stop: Belliveau '41; Jennings '41.

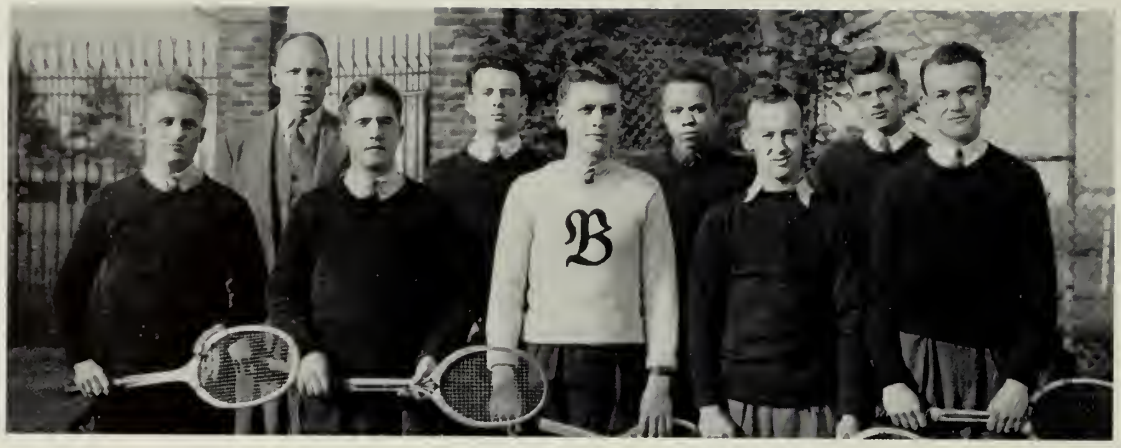
Third Base: H. Thompson '40; Fortini '42.

Outfield: W. Johnson '39; R. Thompson '41; Buccigross '41; Simonetti '40; Lerette '42.

THE SCHEDULE

April 19	Bowdoin at Brunswick
27	New Hampshire at Durham
28	Providence at Providence
29	Lowell Tech. at Lowell
May 2	Maine at Lewiston
4	Colby at Lewiston
6	Bowdoin at Brunswick
9	Bowdoin at Brunswick
12	Maine at Orono
15	Bowdoin at Lewiston
19	Maine at Orono
20	Colby at Waterville
23	Colby at Lewiston

Tennis



Second Row: Buschmann, Walsh, Kenney, R. Morris
First Row: Holmes, Canavan, Brown, Millerick, Howland

THE 1938 Varsity tennis team retained its State Championship rating, although they were defeated by Bowdoin in dual competition. The "big four" of the Garnet team was composed of Co-captains Burt Reed '38 and Don Casterline '38, Milt Nixon '39, and Howie Kenney '40. These men were seconded by Joe Canavan '39, Mal Holmes '40, Bill Sutherland '40, and Bill Howland '40.

Promising varsity material was uncovered through the agency of a Junior Varsity team that had engagements with Hebron and Bridgton Academies. Junior Varsity players were Roger Bisbee '41, Joe Millerick '41, Royce Tabor '40, and David Saunders '39. These men in addition to Wes Swanson '42, and Paul Quimby '42 are making a strong bid to gain a position on the team.

The tennis schedule for this year is particularly ambitious as twelve meets are scheduled, while eleven were scheduled for last year. The team starts off with a trip into Massachusetts and Rhode Island in making their season's debut on outside courts. A newcomer to the Bates schedule is the University of New Hampshire that is entering upon its second year of intercollegiate tennis.

The Schedule:

April	22	Tufts at Medford
April	24	M. I. T. at Boston
April	25	R. I. State at Kingston
April	26	Brown at Providence
May	2	Maine at Orono
May	6	Bowdoin at Brunswick
May	9	Bowdoin at Lewiston
May	11	Colby at Lewiston
May	12	Tufts at Lewiston
May	18	University of N. H. at Lewiston
May	20	Colby at Waterville
May	25–6	State Tournament at Orono

State Tennis Champions, 1938

THE tennis men in 1938 presented Coach Buschmann and Bates College with the eighteenth state championship in tennis that has been won by Garnet net men since the inauguration of tennis as an intercollegiate sport in 1891. Particular enthusiasm was shown in this state tournament since it was held on Bates courts and ideal weather conditions attracted large crowds of spectators.

Don Casterline '38 climaxed four years of tennis competition by coming through with the state singles crown for the second year in a row as he defeated his fellow team mate and co-captain Burt Reed in the finals of the tourney. Milt Nixon ousted the sole Bowdoin survivor in the singles, Purington, and was himself downed by Reed. The Garnet teams of Kenney and Casterline and Reed and Nixon advanced no farther than the semi-finals in doubles as Salter and Shattuck defeated Purington and Hyde, all of Bowdoin, to dethrone Nixon and Reed from the doubles title that they had held. Thus, although Bowdoin teams were in the finals of doubles, the championship was won by the Garnet on a basis of points.

Although Casterline and Reed have left, this year's team is built around Nixon and Kenney as a nucleus, and should prove themselves to again be victorious in intrastate competition.

Second Row: Canavan, Holmes, Howland, Walsh, Morris, Sutherland, Buschmann
First Row: J. Leard, Nixon, Reed, Casterline, Kenney

Women's Athletics

W. A. A. BOARD

THE Board of the Women's Athletic Association is a representative executive body, the members of which are elected from the four classes. The purpose of the Association, as a whole, is to promote permanent interest and sportsmanlike participation in athletics, and to cooperate with the Women's Physical Education Department in developing in every girl physical and mental efficiency to the utmost of her ability. A widely diversified program of activity is presented in order that each girl may find the sport in which her interest may be fostered. The qualification of special proficiency is a secondary consideration to that of enjoyment and cooperation.

Because the Association does not offer intercollegiate sports for girls and wishes to discourage detrimental class feeling, a system of Garnet and Black teams has been devised. Contests in all the sports take place throughout the year between the two teams which are composed of all the girls in college. Participation is voluntary, and enthusiasm is encouraged.

The modern ideal of physical recreation for every girl calls for a widely inclusive schedule of sports. Among the newer developments of the year is included the formation of a Ski Club to foster the interest and ability of the proficient winter sports enthusiasts, and a swimming group which is given excellent coaching in the aquatic sport.

The Board plans extensive activities outside the field of sports. A consideration of these would include the Hare and Hound Chase, the W. A. A. Banquet, Health Week, a football tea and High School Playday. The purpose of such a schedule is to lend diversion as well as physical value to every girl.

As every organization in college has as its underlying purpose the stimulation and development of a certain phase of the community campus life, so the aim of the Athletic Association is to make available the recreational opportunities. Invaluable aid is lent by the ever-present cooperation and advice of the Women's Physical Education Department.

Second Row: MacGregor, Stoehr, Wallace, McNally
First Row: L. Wells, J. Wells, Smart, Norton, Leonard

Coaches

Second Row: Leonard, Norton, E. Smart, Baker, Morang, L. Wells
First Row: Robbins, Martikainen, E. Copeland, McNally

ALL ACTIVITIES offered by the Women's Athletic Association are under the supervision of student coaches chosen by the Board. These coaches take the same responsibility for A. A. activities that faculty members take for Physical Education activities. They teach, referee, supervise safety and cooperate with the managers who are members of the Board to insure enjoyment for those taking part in the A. A. program.

The girls are chosen on the basis of experience in their particular sport field and those elected are considered capable and reliable leaders as well as proficient athletes. Their coaching is usually preceded by a course in the teaching of athletics which is offered by the Physical Education Department.

They lead the instruction of girls who participate in particular sports in addition to the required gym courses. The seasonal system is used in the application of the Garnet and Black system, and tournament are held at the end of each season to deter mine the winning team. The Garnet and Black banner for the year is awarded to that team which has succeeded in winning the largest number of individual tournaments throughout the year.

Some sports are presented according to the season, while others such as Golf and Swimming, are available throughout the year. In the fall season, coaches are in charge of Hockey, Tennis, Archery and Horseback Riding; in the winter season, Basketball, Volleyball and Winter Sports; in the early spring, Hiking and Games; and in the regular spring season Tennis, Archery, Bicycling, Camp Craft and Baseball.

To be chosen a coach is not only an honor, but an opportunty to obtain some valuable experience for future use. The Association is much indebted to those girls who assist in so great a measure by their coaching.

Letter Women

Second Row: Leonard, Martikainen, E. Copeland, L. Wells
First Row: Stoehr, E. Smart, Baker, Weeks

THE LETTER WOMEN are girls who have obtained one of the highest awards given by the Women's Athletic Association for efficiency in sports. The first qualification for such an award is the possession of class numerals. Sweaters are second only to the silver loving cup which is available the senior year.

Numerals, the first award, are given on a basis of interest, sportsmanship, and one year of training. They are awarded to the three outstanding Freshmen attaining these qualifications, and to as many upperclassmen as are deserving. Sweaters are awarded in the junior and senior years. At the Physical Education Demonstration they are given to three juniors outstanding in ability and sportsmanship who have attained a general average of seventy-five or its equivalent, and B posture. Six additional sweaters may be given to juniors at the Spring Playday. After this, the number of winners of the white sweater with the garnet B is left to the discretion of the Award Committee, which is composed of members both on and off the Executive Board.

The highest award is the silver loving cup given to not more than three seniors. This is available to the outstanding sportswomen in the senior class, and is awarded on a basis of athletic ability, sportsmanship, general average of eighty or its equivalent, B posture, and leadership in campus activities in general. This award is widely coveted, and deservedly so, for its winners are leaders in the best sense of the term.

Awards are given not to stimulate competition, but to foster interest and the spirit of cooperation. To attain this ideal, the qualification of athletic ability in the consideration of candidates for athletic honors is secondary at all times to that of enthusiasm and sportsmanship.

Field Hockey

Second Row: J. Wells, McNally, Evans Yeomans, A. Turner, L. Leonard, Hillard

First Row: Finney, Lowther, C. Handy, Dole, Winne

BLACK

OF ALL the fall sports, hockey attracts the most interest on the part of both the players and the spectators. Endurance, keen competition, plus cooperation in team play is the formula followed instead of individual achievement. With the exception of one game, the Blacks showed their superiority in playing ability by winning the tournament to the tune of two out of three games. The scores for the games were 2–1, 2–1, and 0–3.

GARNET

THE TURN-OUT this year in hockey produced two teams surprisingly evenly matched, both of which displayed excellent coordination and gave both players and audience interesting moments throughout by providing closely-fought, stirring games. Seemingly lacking that extra little quality that would put them in the winning place during the first two games, the Garnets came through in fine form to win the game played before the guests on Mother's Weekend.

Second Row: Ulrich, Martikainen, Clay, Ober, Humphrey, Norton

First Row: Stockwell, Mattack, V. Copeland, B. Leonard, Simpson, Swicker, Coney

Basketball

Morang, Fuller, Longfellow, Smart, Stevens, J. Wells, C. Handy, Comins, Winslow

GARNET

OVER 60 girls reported for basketball, which offered practices on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday with one hour of instruction on Thursday. Practices were held after Christmas until the second week in March, when the Garnet and Black tournament began. This year the games were less close than they have been for several years, the preponderance of good material being on the Garnet side. The results of the three games played were very pro-Garnet, the scores being 32–18, 29–16, and 27–18.

BLACK

THE Black team this year, composed of able guards but a slightly inferior forward line-up, looked very good at times but could not keep up the pace set by the Garnets. The Garnets excelled in passing technique and their shooting ability resulted in their running up high scores which the Blacks could not approximate. The games this year were marked by unusual interest and good sportsmanship and promise an even better schedule of games for the coming year.

Rice, M. Brown, Swicker, Martikainen Matlack, Clay, Stoehr, Williamson, Swann

Archery — Tennis

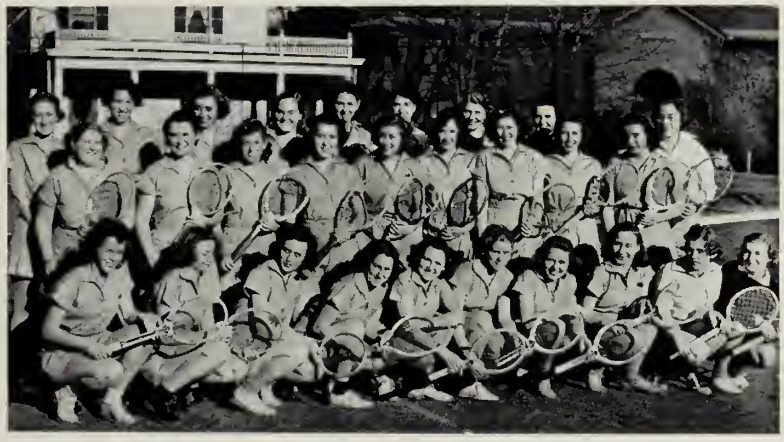
Everett, Putney, R. Handy, Pratt, Tuttle, Hardie, Davis, Bailey

ARCHERY

ALTHOUGH only eight girls received credit for archery in the fall, it was felt that the season was unusually successful. As interest in the sport resulted in a marked advance in the ability of the archers, a ladder tournament was planned for the late winter season. A contestant challenges the one above her and advances a step if successful in winning her match. After the indoor matches have completed the tournament, ten girls are chosen to send their scores to the nation-wide Telegraphic Meet in the spring.

TENNIS

TENNIS was carried on informally as usual—with the four required practice hours left to the convenience of the player and instruction provided for those who wished to take advantage of it. Its popularity was shown by the fact that over forty received credit for it. An innovation was inaugurated this year—a series of nine matches was played between Garnet and Black opponents, the last three offering entertainment on Mother's Weekend. The score of 6–2, with one tie match, was the decisive result, giving the Blacks one point in the year-long Garnet and Black contest.



Third Row: Vivian, Clay, Curry, Day, Moulton, French, Robbins, Carter, Buker

Second Row: Giles, Thompson, Stead, Mathews, Keneston, Blaisdell, Hunt, Moore, Roberts

First Row: Chick, R. White, Wallace, Webber, Swann, Winne, Rice, Comins, Longfellow, Fuller

Volley Ball

Rice, Giles, Brown, Humphrey, Adams, Clay, Stoehr, Swann

BLACK

THE most popular sport of the early winter season, volleyball offers great opportunity for fine teamwork and excellent individual playing as well. This year the tournament resulted in a Black victory as the Black offensive piled up winning scores in the first and last games, losing one game as the Garnet underdog marshalled his forces and came through to win. The first game was won by the Blacks, 43–19, the second by the Garnets, 52–25, and the last by the Blacks 43–30.

GARNET

THE Garnet team was provided with good material but lacked the coordination necessary for victory, except in the second game, when the Blacks were somewhat overwhelmed by their brilliant attack. Having indicated their possibilities, the Garnets thus prepared the spectators for an exciting third game, which, contrary to expectations, was one-sided and clinched the tournament for the Blacks. About thirty-three girls attended sufficient practices to receive credit in this sport.

Hardie, Longfellow, Fuller, J. Wells Stevens, Comins, C. Handy

Winter Sports — Campcraft

Second Row: Day, Carter, Ulrich, Keneston, Swicker, Keene, Bushnell, Martin, Dole, Winne, C. Greenleaf
First Row: Webber, Smart, Blaisdell, Coney, Curry, Rice, Winslow, Giles

WINTER SPORTS

THIS SPORT is so popular that it has been offered in two seasons, in early and late winter. Before snow and ice make actual participation possible, a series of hikes are planned to keep the group's interest. After the coming of real winter weather, the skiiers and skaters participate at their convenience. The season is ended by a closely contested tournament between the Garnets and Blacks.

This year a ski club was organized which promises to become a very active organization.

CAMPCRAFT

CAMPCRAFT is a spring sport, giving practical training in the elements of camping technique. Last spring fifteen girls joined the group, to learn or brush-up on their knowledge of pitching tents, building fires, the various methods of campfire cooking, making blanket rolls, and other essentials. One overnight trip was made to Dr. Leonard's farm and other outings provided for actual practice in cooking or tent-pitching. Camping headquarters usually centered around the outdoor fireplace on Mt. David.

Second Row: E. Copeland, Swann, Carter, Puranen

First Row: P. Atwater, Mc Nally, B. Leonard

ADVERTISEMENTS

Peck's

OF LEWISTON

A metropolitan department store alert to the needs of Maine people TODAY --- building constantly for TOMORROW

The new while it is NEW!

"Use Peck's Shopper Service"

Berry Paper Company

YOUR STATIONER

School Supplies Kodaks

Dennison Goods

49 Lisbon Street Lewiston

ROSS'S ICE CREAM

"Where the College Congregates"

Luscious Fresh Fruit and Sea Food Our Specialty

Always Good

AUBURN LUNCH

60 COURT STREET AUBURN, ME.

Milliken Tomlinson Co.

WHOLESALE GROCERS

11–15 LINCOLN ST. LEWISTON

Individual Attention
TO STUDENTS' REQUIREMENTS

The Best In

Cleansing and Pressing

NEW COLD STORAGE VAULTS
FOR YOUR FURS

Call and Delivery

Tel. 3820

Watkins
CLEANSERS • DYERS • FURRIERS

ARTHUR S. CUMMINGS, '38
Assistant Manager

H. P. Hood & Sons, Inc.

DAIRY EXPERTS

ICE CREAM MILK AND CREAM

AUBURN MAINE

WALTON'S IDEAL
BREAD
Is Best Because Always Uniform, Fresh, and Dependable

Sold by All Independent Grocers

WALTON'S BAKERY
Auburn Maine

To the Class of 1939, congratulations and best wishes for success.
To the Classes of '40, '41, '42, may we express the hope that we will serve you in the future as we have served Bates students in the past?

ANN'S FLOWER SHOP

Distinctive corsages and flowers for all occasions

Tel. 827

40 Ash Street (Opp. Post Office)

Compliments of

The Bates College Store

Compliments of . .

JALBERT'S

NABORHOOD SHOP

Home Made Ice Cream

115 Pine Street Lewiston

Compliments of

The Class of 1939

Autographs

Exclusive

Invisible Marking

Phone 29-W

Judkins Laundry
Inc.

FRED H. TUFTS, President
G. ROYAL TUFTS, Vice President
GEO. W. TUFTS, Manager and Treasurer

Agent on Campus

Compliments of

Tufts Brothers

Fred H. Tufts G. Royal Tufts

Printing Specialists

Rubber Stamp Manufacturers

193 Middle Street Lewiston, Me.

"Hayes Eats in His Own Diner"

Compliments of

Hayes' Diner

101 Park Street Lewiston

Opposite Sun-Journal Building

Hotel Littleton

100 MAIN STREET

Rooms with Running Water—$1.50
Rooms with Private Bath—$2.00

C. W. HINDS, Manager

Tel. 3880

It's Smart
To Wear Real Flowers

Our Flowers Are Correctly Styled

Ernest Saunders

Greenhouses Store
578 Main Street 23 Lisbon Street

Compliments of

A Friend

Compliments of

The Class of 1940

Autographs

Compliments of

Auburn Motor Sales, Inc.

AUBURN, MAINE

U. S. TIRES HEATING OILS

Jimmy's Gas Stations Inc.

LEWISTON AND AUBURN

Tydol Gasoline

Veedol Motor Oil and Greases

Norris-Hayden Laundry

QUALITY WORK

Immediate Service

Auburn Mechanic's Row

We wish to thank the Class of 1938 for its generous patronage and wish its members true success in their chosen field.

Quality Shop

143 COLLEGE STREET

Window Shades Venetian Blinds

J. K. Campbell

Upholstering Draperies

Tel. 3172-W

37 Sabattus Street Lewiston, Me.

College Pharmacy

Where Bates Students Reign

Prescription Specialists

Luncheonette Sodas

College and Sabattus Sts.

Compliments of

The Class of 1941

Autographs

Compliments of

PURITY

SANDWICH SHOP

EXCELLENT FOOD

LEWISTON, MAINE

197 Main Street Lewiston, Me.

There Is Nothing Complicated About a Bank Account

Just come in as you would enter any other place of business.

WALK IN

Lewiston Trust Co.

Lewiston, Me.

Seniors . . .

Take away with you not only memories but a subscription to the "Student."

The best way to keep in touch with your old pals.

A small expense now that will pay you double next year in pure enjoyment.

Special Rates — One Dollar per Year

(in advance)

Editor . . . . . MARK LELYVELD

Bus. Mgr. . . . HARRY SHEPHERD

1939 Football Schedule

Sept.	30	American International at Lewiston
Oct.	7	Harvard at Cambridge
Oct.	14	Northeastern at Lewiston
Oct.	21	Arnold at Lewiston
Oct.	28	Maine at Lewiston (Back to Bates Game)
Nov.	4	Bowdoin at Brunswick
Nov.	11	Colby at Waterville

Compliments of

The Class of 1942

Autographs

Portrait and Group Work for this Annual done by _____

DORA CLARK TASH

Photograph Studio

_____ We have also served the MIRRORS of 1936, 1937 and 1938

Lillian H. Tash, Proprietor

Bates 1919

Smooth Sailing!
When your Yearbook Course
Is charted by
HOWARD-WESSON COMPANY
44 Portland Street, Worcester, Massachusetts
New England's Largest College Engravers

IMPRESSIONS

•

We all know what is said about the first impression.

•

College Yearbook Editors spend countless hours in preparation for it.

•

Entrusted with the responsibility of production, we have endeavored to fulfill our obligation by printing an issue which will convey, not alone a good first impression, but also a more lasting one.

WARREN PRESS

160 WARREN STREET

Incorporated 1860

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

Acknowledgements . . .

THE Board of the 1939 Mirror wishes to acknowledge the interest and helpful sacrifice of time of the following:

Mr. Paul K. Blanchard, of the Warren Press, whose cooperation and industry made possible the early production of this book.

Mr. Milton Fitch, of the Howard-Wesson Co., engravers for the book, who excellently interpreted the ideas of the editor so well and who gave such prompt service throughout the year.

Miss Lillian Tash, of the Dora Clark Tash Studio, who so patiently advised and aided the Board on technical matters relating to photography.

The staff of the Bates College Alumni office, who sacrificed so many hours to help compile the historical data for the opening section of the book.

"The Book of Useful Quotations," owned by Frank Coffin, '40, without which the senior and faculty sections of the book might still be incomplete.